U. S. PUTS EMBARGO ON EXPORTS

WAR COUNCIL CALLED; CRISIS IN REICHSTAG

Parties Realigned to Democratize Germany.

BERLIN, Saturday, July 7, via London, July 8.—Germany is on the eve of a momentous session of the reichstag.

Sweeping electoral and parliamentary reforms—the democratizing of the German government possibly—may come within the next few days, unless all indications fail.

These reforms will be the result of an upheaval in the reichstag—a general realignment of parties. New lines by parties and factions have been drawn during the last forty-eight hours in the secret sessions of the reichstag main committee, preparatory to the opening of the plenary session Monday.

WAR COUNCIL CALLED.

In the face of the impending crisis, official announcement was made that Field Marshal von Hindenburg and Gen. von Ludendorff had arrived here for a council of war with the kaiser. It was announced also that the emperor visited the imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, this evening and received his report.

Although the sessions of the main committee were secret, the newspapers here have been permitted to print enough of the proceedings to show that leaders of the various parties discussed the situation with the utmost candor.

Social Democrats declared affairs in Germany must be subjected forthwith to a thorough overhauling for the good of the German people and the German empire.

OPPOSE ANNEXATIONS.

They insisted also that the government must make a positive declaration that it is opposed to all policies of annexation either in the east or the west. The Social Democrat speakers based their statements upon impressions which they had gathered at the recent Stockholm conference and in neutral countries.

Mathias Erzberger, a leader of the clerical center, the party which has been among the strongest in support of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, was the man who tore the lid off, according to the Tageblatt. Herr Erzberger's speech is said to have been remarkable for its lucidity and candor in discussing the internal situation and admiralty affairs and in demanding electoral reforms. His speech, it is stated, resulted in a common meeting ground for all factions except the pan-Germans, whom he denounced as an obstacle to peace.

NEWSPAPERS PLAIN SPOKEN.

This was a day of "excursions and alarums" in Berlin. The newspapers were filled with a mass of plain spoken editorial comment based on the hair trigger tension in the relations between the reichstag and the government.

The Tageblatt observes "that the progress of developments is irresistible because right, reason and necessity demand these things, and 'the strong man' whom conservatives are calling for would have little luck himself and would bring less to the empire."

The Zeitung am Mittag says a deputation of six members from the Social Democratic party in the reichstag called on Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg late on Friday for the purpose of impressing the gravity of the situation on him. The delegates insisted that the chancellor make an unequivocal declaration that the government was prepared at any time to enter into peace negotiations on the basis of the status quo.

POSTS FOR COMMONERS.

The deputation also demanded immediate introduction of parliamentary and electoral reforms, urging the appointment of leading reichstag deputies to secretarial and ministerial posts.

Representatives of the Progressive People's party and of the National Liberals also were in conference with the chancellor.

There are rumors that Prof. Adolf von Harnack, one of the most intimate advisers of the emperor, is slated to succeed Herr von Trott zu Solz as Prussian minister of education. The present minister is said to be opposed to sweeping electoral reforms.

POSTPONE HOLLWEG SPEECH.

The grave import of the sessions of the main committee and of the realignment of the reichstag factions is indicated clearly by the sudden decision to postpone

CHAPIN & GORE TO QUIT; SEE END OF LIQUOR TRADE

C. H. Hermann, Head of Firm, Says Year Will End Supply.

Chapin & Gore, one of the largest makers of whisky in this country and for sixty years a business institution in Chicago, is going to quit business. The announcement, made last night by Charles H. Hermann, president of the firm and a directing head of the National Distillers and Wholesale Liquor Dealers' association, is the first direct result in Chicago of anti-whisky legislation.

Chapin & Gore have done an annual business in excess of $2,000,000. Less than six years ago they received an offer of $1,000,000 for the "name and good will."

2,000 Saloons May Close.

Mr. Hermann at his home, 305 Fullerton parkway, last night also declared that within the next sixty days 2,000 saloonkeepers in Chicago alone would be forced out of business. He added that a proportionate number throughout the country would likewise close their bars. Mr. Hermann declared "this is a most conservative estimate."

According to Mr. Hermann, the supply of whisky in existence today would not last over twelve months if used at a normal rate of consumption. He explained this estimate by announcing that the realization on the part of distillers that they were "sitting on a volcano" during the last few years caused them to reduce their output.

The United States senate's action to prohibit the use of foods for the manufacture and also ordering the seizure of all whisky in bond, Mr. Hermann believes will become a law within the next two weeks at the very latest.

Denies Speculative Interest.

He denies that the same law that permits the retention of whisky "not in bond" has caused a speculative interest among the trade.

"The supposition that this law has caused a speculative interest in whisky is impracticable to any appreciable extent," said Mr. Hermann.

"While many dealers will 'tax pay' whisky to the limit, yet such 'tax payments' will be extremely limited by the slow process due to the necessary formalities in making these payments. The government supply of 'gaugers' is limited. The internal revenue department, owing to the great amount of work that has been put upon it during the present war crisis, is already shorthanded. Consequently no great increase in the amount of whisky 'tax paid' could take place.

Sees Prohibitive Tax.

"Under the additional war taxes $2.20 per gallon, or approximately $90 per barrel, must be paid the government, in addition to which the distiller must pay the city, state, and county taxes upon withdrawal of the whisky from bond, which will make cash necessary per barrel in the way of taxes, etc., approximately $100 each. To show the size of such an investment, it would take $100,000 cash to merely 'tax pay' 1,000 barrels of whisky.

"By the time this new law becomes effective it is easily seen that speculation can only be carried on in a limited way.

"I know positively that there are today approximately only 200,000,000 gallons in the government warehouses. Last year there was 'tax paid' for consumption 160,000,000 gallons.

Normal Production.

"The normal production has been approximately 140,000,000 gallons a year. The normal consumption has been about 135,000,000 gallons per year. The large 'tax payment' last year was due to some extent to threatened 'bone dry' states laying in a supply.

"Figuring that the consumption for the next twelve months will be only the normal 135,000,000 gallons, and figuring the drinker who can afford it will stock his cellar for future purposes to an amount of only 65,000,000 gallons, there is not over twelve months' supply in existence today if all were to be used for consumption."

Woman Picket Sings a Good-By to Jail Fellows

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—Suffrage pickets convicted last Friday and sentenced to three days' imprisonment for obstructing traffic were released early today.

As they were leaving the jail the warden asked Miss Vida Milholland to sing for the men prisoners, who have been consumed with curiosity and interest regarding the strange new "criminals" in their midst.

Miss Milholland agreed, and, standing in the courtyard, while the men crowded to the windows of their cells, she sang for them a number of ballads, ending with "In Dublin's Fair City" and "Comin' Through the Rye."

A few hours later, at the welcome breakfast at Cameron house, Miss Milholland sang the same songs.

HENRY FIELD, GRANDSON OF MERCHANT, DIES

Heir to Vast Fortune Leaves Bride a Widow.

Henry Field, grandson of Marshall Field, died in the Presbyterian hospital in New York yesterday. He was 22 years old and he leaves a youthful widow, who had been a bride only since Feb. 7.

Death came to young Field following an operation for an abscess of the lung. Immediately following the operation there seemed a good chance of recovery, and reports as late as yesterday morning were hopeful for his recovery. Later in the day he seemed to grow weaker, and then most unexpectedly his death ensued. Mrs. Nancy Keene Perkins Field and Marshall Field III., his elder brother, and other relatives were with him at the end.

FAMILY SUMMONED.

His wife and her aunt, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, hurried to the hospital when notified by telephone that he had taken a sudden turn for the worse. They were joined by Marshall Field III.

Dr. Adrian Van S. Lambert of 165 East Seventy-first street, whose patient Mr. Field was, and who had performed the operation, was also summoned. Mr. Field died within half an hour after the members of the family had reached his bedside.

The operation was performed at the Presbyterian hospital by Dr. Lambert on Thursday and reports from the sickroom were hopeful. On Saturday it was reported that Mr. Field had passed the critical stage and would, in all probability, recover. The reverse was sudden and, according to hospital attendants, totally unexpected. It was even said that his brother had made preparations to return to Chicago and resume his military service.

MARRIAGE A SOCIAL EVENT.

Mr. Field had been in New York since his return from his honeymoon in the south. His marriage to Miss Perkins, a niece of the Langhorne sisters of Virginia, famed for their beauty, was an event in New York society, though the ceremony itself was quietly performed.

Mr. and Mrs. Field went south and remained several weeks, some of which time was spent at Mrs. Field's home in Greenwood, Albemarle county, Virginia. It is there the funeral will take place, the widow preferring to take home the body of her husband.

Soon after the return from the honeymoon Mr. Field developed an indisposition which proved puzzling to his physician, Dr. Adrian Van S. Lambert. It finally was decided to place the patient on the operating table. Previous to this step Marshall Field III., who, by the way, had gone into service in Chicago with the Second Illinois artillery, was notified, as were other relatives. Marshall Field III. left early in the week for New York.

RELATIVES HERE NOTIFIED.

Word was received in Chicago last night by Stanley Field, an uncle; James Simpson of Marshall Field & Co., Arthur B. Jones of Evanston, and Chauncey Keep, both trustees for the estates of Marshall Field III. and Henry Field, under the will of their grandfather; John G. Shedd, also of Marshall Field & Co., and other relatives. Messrs. Field, Simpson, Jones, and Keep left for New York, whence they will accompany the body to Greenwood, Va., for the burial, which, it was announced, would take place tomorrow.

Neither Mr. Simpson nor Mr. Stanley Field was able to make a statement concerning the death of Mr. Field beyond the mere fact that it was a complete surprise; that they had believed his recovery assured. They went east at 9 o'clock last night.

BORN IN ENGLAND.

Henry Field was born in England, July 18, 1895. He would have been 22 years old a week from Wednesday. He was the son of Marshall Field II., who died in 1905. His mother formerly was Miss Albertine Huck, and after the death of her husband she removed to England to educate her children, Marshall III., Henry, and Gwendolyn. The boys were sent to Eton. Mrs. Field later became the wife of Capt. Maldwin Drummond.

While Henry Field resided in London, after his school days, he became popular in the society of the capital, being a member of White's club and the St. James club. His hobbies were hunting and golf, tastes he was able to encourage in England and Scotland.

SCENT MURDER AS LAKE CASTS UP GIRL IN SILK GARB

Mystery Furnished by Body Found Off Glencoe.

Glencoe and Evanston authorities confronted a death puzzle yesterday when the body of a girl in a lavender coat was cast up by the lake. Chicago police have been asked to help and the North Shore police will ask an investigation of lake steamer records in the feeling that the "lavender girl" did not take her own life.

Examination of the body, found off the shore at Glencoe, indicated that the young woman was of good circumstances in life. Her clothing was good and her jewelry, though inexpensive, was of quality.

The discovery was made by a party aboard a motorboat passing Glencoe about a half mile from shore. Capt. Olaf Egeland, in command of the United States life saving station, went out and brought in the body.

An examination of the girl's clothing developed a possible clew to a slaying and a reason for prosecuting a search for a "man in the case."

Victim About 24 Years Old.

The body is that of a girl about 24 years old, about 5 feet 4 inches in height, and weighing 120 pounds. Her lavender coat was of fine texture and exquisitely tailored. It was fastened by a single remaining large button, which had been turned black by the water.

The shirtwaist was of silk, as also was the corset cover. The skirt was of a greenish shade and of silk. The stockings were of gray silk with a black stripe. Only one shoe remained, a neat fitting oxford.

Undertaker Schaeffer ventured the opinion that the body might be that of one of the victims of the steamer Christopher Columbus, whose upper decks were crushed in and several of whose passengers were killed by the fall of a water tank in Milwaukee a week ago.

Floated from Milwaukee?

He suggested the body might have drifted down, drawn by winds and the current in the direction of the drainage canal at Wilmette. This theory was scouted by Capt. Egelson, who said sufficient time had not elapsed to permit the body to drift such a distance.

Evanston police decline to take a direct stand, but are inclined to the belief that the girl lost her life overboard of a lake steamer, and are suspicious that a man had played a part in the girl's death. Steamer employés are to be questioned in the hope that trace may be had of inquiries made for a missing girl.

IF YOU MUST SPOON IN AUTO, HIRE A DRIVER!

Here's the way Sergt. Timothy Howard of the south park police figures it out, and who can say him nay?

God gave man two arms—said arms to be used for various purposes. When driving automobiles, however, there is but one use for both arms—to operate the car.

But, says the sergeant, a lot of the young men who operate automobiles in Washington park, particularly when the moon is full, use but one hand to drive the car. The other hand, the sergeant discreetly explains, is not used to drive the car.

How can a man, demands the sergeant, drive a car with one hand, gaze raptly into the eyes of the sweet young thing beside him, and with the other arm——. Anyway, says the sergeant, there are too many accidents. On Saturday night the moon was bright; the one armed drivers were numerous, and there were fourteen arrests. The motorcycle coppers in the park have been giving orders.

"Both hands on the steering wheel!"

"On the steering wheel, boys, get me! On the steering wheel!"

Confer Upon Methods to Meet Money Needs

PETROGRAD, July 8.—Cyrus McCormick of Chicago and Samuel R. Bertron of New York, members of the Root commission, held a conference yesterday with A. I. Shingaroff, Russian minister of finance, and representatives of the foreign ministry. The subjects discussed were Russia's needs in relation to American exchange and the future Russo-American financial policy.

HE HAS REJECTED 9,000 GIRLS, BUT AWAITS NO. 9,001

Son of Hetty Green Dodges Leading Question.

It looked like page 1 stuff!

"We have positive exclusive information that E. H. R. Green, son of Hetty Green, is to be married in Chicago on Tuesday. He's in Chicago now. Get bride's name."

This was the tip from an informant last night.

"Nonsense!" said Mr. Green, or words to that effect. He was found sitting beside his secretary, a man, at the Blackstone. He seemed pleased at the report. He spoke:

"I'm not going to get married in Chicago Tuesday and I'll not give the bride's name. But then, if I were, being a gentleman, [illegible] would still be the same. Watch the marriage license bureau. If there's any marrying there'll be something doing up there."

Enough Proposals.

"Maybe some other day than Tuesday," suggested the reporter.

"I'll not say I won't get married. I might tomorrow. One never can tell what a day will bring forth. Look at the Goulds!" he replied. "You newspaper men have been trying to marry me off for fifteen years. I've got more than 9,000 letters of proposal as a result."

"And say," here he grew confiding, "I think some folks have been kidding me. Sometimes a girl gives her name and sends an awfully pretty picture, and when you go to that town she doesn't live there—there's no such girl!"

"Uh-huh," said the reporter, deep voice, "so you've——"

Small Town Stuff.

"Say," he remarked, "a man's got to go to small towns where everybody knows everybody else—sometimes. One postmaster said to me, 'A letter came once to a girl with a name like that, but that ain't no such girl here, so she never got it.'"

"So you've——"

"Say, can't you leave a fellow alone?" said America's most proposed-to bachelor.

BEATEN, CHOKED, KICKED, ROBBED, BY TWO THUGS

Beaten, choked, and kicked by two men until his injuries may prove fatal, Isaac A. Eacutt, living in the Colonial hotel, 6325 Kenwood avenue, was dragged into an alley near by last night and robbed of a $1,000 diamond, a $50 watch, and $4.

After Eacutt had regained consciousness and reached his room he called a physician, who declared his wounds were dangerous. The physician said the victim had been kicked in the stomach and this may have caused internal injuries.

Mr. Eacutt is 56 years old. He was unable to give a description of the robbers.

THE WAR

ABROAD.

Paris reports repulse of German attack on the Chemin des Dames in four different sectors except at one point. Capture three strongly organised salients west of the Meuse. Berlin reports repulse of French west of Cerny.

Berlin reports artillery duels from coast to Lens and between the Somme and the Oise.

Petrograd reports repulse of vigorous German attempts to recapture ground lost during the recent Russian offensive. Dense masses of Germans hurled back. Berlin reports repulse of Russian efforts to push on.

AUSTRIAN FOOD RIOTERS KILLED BY SOLDIERS

COPENHAGEN, July 8.—Vienna dispatches say disorders on a large scale have broken out in the Moravian coal fields on account of food conditions. Troops summoned to suppress the outbreak were forced to fire, killing or wounding a number of the food rioters. A ministerial commission is proceeding to the seat of the disorders to study conditions and suggest remedial measures.

New Riots in Cologne.

THE HAGUE, July 8.—Cologne, one of the chief manufacturing cities of West Prussia, is under strict martial law because of fresh riots which occurred there yesterday, according to reports received here. The outbreak was due to the reduction in the number of meat cards issued. Police and soldiers charged the crowds and many persons were wounded.

Steal 18,000 Bread Cards.

LONDON, July 8.—After an interval of quiet, bread card thieves have resumed their work in Berlin. According to reports reaching London, 18,000 weekly bread cards were found in one raid. The significance of the thieves' operations from the standpoint of food regulation may be judged from the fact that these cards represent more than twenty tons of bread. The newspapers dismiss the incident with a paragraph.

SHOULDER STRAP ASPIRANT WEDS HIS FAIR CO-ED

War and love being allied in the matter of fairness, it was becoming that Melville W. Clark, an attorney of Ogle county, Ill., and a member of the reserve officers' training camp at Fort Sheridan, should mix his affections, and so, making use of his regular Saturday leave of absence, he hied himself to the Moraine hotel in Highland Park and became the husband of Miss Louise May Johnson of Fort Smith, Ark. Miss Johnson and Mr. Clark were students of the University of Michigan and their romance began there. After the ceremony, which was performed by Chaplain Gilkey, Mr. Clark had time to eat a wedding meal or two and hike back to camp in time for taps.

SAVE SUPPLIES AND STOP HELP FOR THE ENEMY

Cut Off Neutral Aid Which Was Given to Germany.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—President Wilson has proclaimed the first embargo of the war.

Public safety requiring that supplies shall be prevented from reaching the enemy, the president has decreed that many commodities, chiefly food, fuel, and steel, which are essential to America in the conflict, shall not be exported from these shores except by license to be controlled by the government.

The proclamation, issued today under authority granted by congress last June, applies the embargo to all nations, belligerent and neutral alike, but exports may be permitted from time to time under regulations and conditions which the president through the export council may prescribe.

COMMODITIES INVOLVED.

Beginning July 15, a week from tomorrow, the proclamation declares that America's storehouses shall be closed to the world until further notice on the following commodities:

Coal, coke, fuel oils, kerosene and gasoline, including bunkers.

Food grains, flour and meal, fodder and feeds, meat and fats, and fertilizers.

Pig iron, steel billets, ship plates and structural shapes, scrap iron, scrap metal, and ferro-manganese.

FORCED TO CURB NEUTRALS.

The president further assures neutral nations that this government does not wish to hamper them in meeting their necessities, but that it must assure itself that neutrals are not permitting American products to get to the enemy.

"In controlling by license the export of certain indispensable commodities from the United States," the president says, "the government has first in view the amelioration of the food conditions which have arisen or are likely to arise in our own country before new crops are harvested.

"Not only is the conservation of our prime food and fodder supplies a matter which vitally concerns our own people, but the retention of an adequate supply of raw materials is essential to our program of military and naval construction and the continuance of our necessary domestic activities. We shall, therefore, similarly safeguard all our fundamental supplies.

SHOWS NEED OF ACTION.

"It is obviously the duty of the United States in liberating any surplus products over and above our own domestic needs to consider first the necessities of all the nations engaged in war against the central empires.

"As to neutral nations, however, we also recognize our duty. The government does not wish to hamper them. On the contrary, it wishes and intends, by all fair and equitable means, to cooperate with them in their difficult task of adding from our available surpluses to their own domestic supply and of meeting their pressing necessities or deficits.

"In considering the deficits of food supplies the government means only to fulfill its obvious obligation to assure itself that neutrals are husbanding their own resources and that our supplies will not become available, either directly or indirectly, to feed the enemy."

WARNING TO EXPORTERS.

Following the issuance of the proclamation, Secretary of Commerce Redfield made public an announcement with reference to procedure to be followed by exporters in the United States in applying for export licenses.

He said it was the desire of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce to minimize the exporters' difficulties as much as possible, and that wherever possible district officers would be authorized to issue licenses.

"It is thought, however," the secretary said, "that many applications may have to be forwarded to Washington for decision."

How to Obtain License.

The regulations for license applications are given as follows:

First, applications for licenses may be made to the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, division of export licenses, 1435 K street, Washington, D. C., or to any of the branches of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce—New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, San Francisco, and Seattle.

Second, in applying for a license to export any of the commodities covered by the president's proclamation, applicants should give the following information in triplicate form:

[a] Quantity.
[b] Description of goods.
[c] Name and address of consignee.
[d] Name and address of consignor.

Third, the license will be good for only sixty days and at the expiration of that time must be renewed, and if not shipped within that time a new application must be made.

Provisions of Embargo.

The embargo provides in effect:

That, on and after July 15, the shipment of all great commodities from the United States shall be prohibited unless when released by license issued under the authority of the department of commerce.

That the United States will put an immediate end to the traffic of American products whereby the Scandinavian countries and Holland have assisted in supporting the German military machine and in feeding the German civilian population.

That the American food barons hereafter will not be given the excuse of boosting prices upon the plea that the demand of foreign countries caused by war conditions has caused an automatic jump in costs.

The proclamation of the embargo is considered a war measure second in importance only to the movement of American troops across the Atlantic. It means that the central powers will no longer be enabled to get food supplies of any sort whatever from the Scandinavian countries and Holland.

Action Urged by Hoover.

Since assuming charge of food administration in this country, Herbert C. Hoover has been insistent that the United States declare an embargo without delay. He has assured the president repeatedly that it would be useless to attempt to conserve America's products unless exportations of commodities of all sorts were regulated by the federal government.

He has insisted that it is useless to mince words with the Scandinavian countries on the food question, because, despite their promises to amend their ways, they have consistently supplied Germany with food since the war was started.

Mr. Hoover holds that the internal conditions of the Scandinavian countries and of Holland cannot be considered as a vital affair of the United States now that this country has entered the war. He believes that these countries must be put on a hard and fast ration basis, so that nothing received from the United States shall enter Germany.

Shows Prices of Wheat.

Coincident with the issuance of the embargo proclamation the food administration tonight made public a report by the allied wheat commission on the prices of wheat now ruling in various countries.

This report shows that the government price in Great Britain is $1.80 per bushel. The government price in Australia is $1.14 per bushel, and in India $1.25. The government price in France is $1.88 for home grown wheat, including various bounties. The government maximum in Italy has been fixed at $1.69 per bushel for soft wheat and $1.84 for hard wheat. The Belgian fixed price is to be $1.69 per bushel, and the German price about $1.30 per bushel.

Information furnished to the food administration also shows that the allies are requiring the mixture of 20 per cent corn, rye, or barley in the flour. It has proved impossible to introduce straight corn bread because of the lack of corn mills in Europe and the lack of durability in cornmeal does not permit its extensive shipment.

Use Public Bakeries.

Furthermore, households in England and France are not equipped to bake bread, all baking for decades having been done in public bakeries, and the baking and distribution of corn bread from bakeries, inasmuch as it must be served absolutely fresh, has proved difficult.

The mixed war bread in England and France is less palatable than either the straight corn or wheat bread in use in the United States, more especially as a considerable part of the bran is being retained in the wheat flour.

Also, in order to suppress the consumption of all sorts of fresh bread, rolls, etc., bakeries are required to hold their bakings for at least twelve hours before delivery, and therefore our allies are all living on what is regarded in America as stale bread. The consumption of flour in England and France is being reduced to between three and four pounds per person per week, or about three-fifths of the American consumption, despite the fact that Europeans ordinarily are larger bread eaters than Americans.

PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT PUTTING EMBARGO ON EXPORTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—(Special.)—The proclamation by President Wilson putting into effect an embargo on the export of foodstuffs, fuel, steel, and other necessities, and arms and munitions, and providing for license of such exports, follows:

Whereas, Congress has enacted, and the president has, on the 15th day of June, 1917, approved a law which contains the following provisions:

Whenever during the present war the president shall find that the public safety shall so require, and shall make proclamation thereof, it shall be unlawful to export from or ship from or take out of the United States to any country named in such proclamation any article or articles mentioned in such proclamation, except at such time or times, and under such regulations and orders, and subject to such limitations and exceptions as the president shall prescribe, until otherwise ordered by the president or by congress: Provided, however, that no preference shall be given to the ports of one state over those of another.

Any person who shall export, ship, or take out, or deliver or attempt to deliver for export, shipment, or taking out, any article in violation of this title, or of any regulation or order made hereunder, shall be fined not more than $10,000, or, if a naturalized person, imprisoned for not more than two years, or both; and any article so delivered or exported, shipped, or taken out, or so attempted to be delivered or exported, shipped or taken out, shall be seized and forfeited to the United States; and any officer, director, or agent of a corporation who participates in any such violation shall be liable to like fine or imprisonment, or both.

Whenever there is a reasonable cause to believe that any vessel, domestic or foreign, is about to carry out of the United States any article or articles in violation of the provisions of this title the collector of customs for the district in which such vessel is located is hereby authorized and empowered, subject to review by the secretary of commerce, to refuse clearance to any such vessel, domestic or foreign, for which clearance is required by law, and by formal notice served upon the owners, master, or person or persons in command or charge of any domestic vessel for which clearance is not required by law, to forbid the departure of such vessel from the port, and it shall thereupon be unlawful for such vessel to depart.

Whoever, in violation of any of the provisions of this section shall take, or attempt to take, or authorize the taking of any such vessel out of port or from the jurisdiction of the United States, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than two years, or both; and in addition, such vessel, her tackle, apparel, furniture, equipment, and her forbidden cargo shall be forfeited to the United States.

And, whereas, the public safety requires that succor shall be prevented from reaching the enemy:

Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim to all whom it may concern that, except at such time or times and under such regulations and orders and subject to such limitations and exceptions as the president shall prescribe, until otherwise ordered by the president or by congress, the following articles, namely: Coal, coke, fuel oils, kerosene and gasoline, including bunkers; food grains, flour and meal therefrom, fodder and feeds, meat and fats; pig iron, steel billets, ship plates and structural shapes, scrap iron and scrap steel; ferro-manganese, fertilizers, arms, ammunitions, and explosives, shall not, on and after the 15th day of July, 1917, be carried out of or exported from the United States or its territorial possessions, to Abyssinia, Afghanistan, Albania, Argentina, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, her colonies, possessions, or protectorates; Bolivia, Brazil, Bulgaria, China, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Denmark, her colonies, possessions, or protectorates; Dominican republic, Ecuador, Egypt, France, her colonies, possessions, or protectorates; Germany, her colonies, possessions or protectorates; Great Britain, her colonies, possessions or protectorates; Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Italy, her colonies, possessions or protectorates; Japan, Liberia, Liechtenstein, Luxemburg, Mexico, Monaco, Montenegro, Morocco, Nepal, Nicaragua, The Netherlands, her colonies, possessions, or protectorates; Norway, Oman, Panama, Paraguay, Persia, Peru, Portugal, her colonies, possessions, or protectorates; Roumania, Russia, Salvador, San Marino, Serbia, Siam, Spain, her colonies, possessions, or protectorates; Sweden, Switzerland, Uruguay, Venezuela, or Turkey.

The orders and regulations from time to time prescribed will be administered by and under the authority of the secretary of commerce, from whom licenses, in conformity with the said orders and regulations, will issue.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this ninth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-first. WOODROW WILSON.

By the president, Frank L. Polk, acting secretary of state.

REPORT SHOWS SWEDEN AS WAR ALLY OF KAISER

Buys of United States and Turns Products Over to Germany.

Washington, D. C., July 8.—An official report just made to the American government showing the extent to which Sweden is furnishing supplies to Germany reveals that the central powers are receiving enormous quantities of materials that go directly into the manufacture of munitions.

In exporting iron ore to Germany Sweden, it is shown, has supplanted shipments with imports from the United States.

What this government will do to end this trade through operation of the export control act has not been announced, but some of the allies, it is known, are urging the United States to license no food exports to Sweden until a definite understanding has been reached with the Swedish government concerning her exports to Germany.

Big Ore Import Increase.

Iron ore shipments from Sweden to Germany, the report made to this government declares, have reached a total of 9,000,000 tons in the last two years, all of it of the high grade required in production of fine steel. This, it is declared, represents an amount equal to Sweden's entire pre-war export.

In the first quarter of the present year, it is set forth, Sweden imported from the United States 16,000 tons of pig iron, while selling a great quantity of her own product to Germany.

Her pig iron sales to Germany in two years, it is declared, have amounted to 250,000 tons. In addition to this, it is asserted, she has shipped to Germany 15,000 tons of ferro-silicon and ferro-manganese for hardening shells, together with large quantities of copper, zinc, manganese, sulphur, and other ores.

Much Wood Pulp to Germany.

Germany, the report declares, has obtained from Sweden in two years fully 200,000 tons of wood pulp for use as a basis for cellulose, used instead of cotton for the manufacture of high explosives.

It is claimed Germany also has obtained from Sweden large quantities of ball bearings for use in the manufacture of war vehicles and submarines. The value of these shipments, the report declares, is at least $75,000,000.

Another charge against Sweden made in the report is that she has discriminated against the allies in the use of her railroads.

Overland trade through Sweden between Norway and Germany has been encouraged, it is declared, while the allies have been subjected to every inconvenience and have been charged exorbitant rail rates.

Agricultural machinery destined for Russia, the report declares, has been held up for months, Sweden exacting from Russia extraordinary bargains before delivery was permitted.

Many Ships Lie Idle.

Sweden's actions in holding within her ports a large amount of merchant tonnage is dealt with in the report, which declares 600,000 tons is lying idle. Sweden's total tonnage is about 1,000,000 tons dead weight, of which she requires about 400,000 tons for her own export and import trade.

The allies, unable to force Swedish tonnage in the world's trade routes, now look to the United States for help, and, it is said, believe her shipping will be put into service if the United States and Great Britain come to an arrangement as regards bunkering.

Coal, under this arrangement, would be refused to ships of any nation refusing to put ships into services the allies demanded should be kept open by neutral ships.

High Cost of Whisky's Funeral May Be Knell of Beer and Wine

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—The prohibition fight in connection with the food control bill is not over, according to evidences at the capitol today.

Members of the senate finance committee are particularly uneasy over the Smoot amendment which went into the whisky death sentence directing the president to take over all whisky in bond and to pay for it at cost of production plus 10 per cent.

It was this amendment which caused Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, to withdraw the revenue bill for revision, and administration leaders do not know exactly how to create substitute revenue for the whisky receipts should the Smoot amendment prevail in conference.

Will Offer Compromise.

Frankly, several administration senators said today they believed a general prohibition compromise would be worked out in the conference with the house in a way that will not make revision of the revenue bill necessary. Until the issue is settled the revenue bill is going to be held in the senate committee.

The following is the prohibition compromise to be proposed in the conference, according to members of both houses who discussed the issue informally today:

Prohibit the use of foodstuffs in the manufacture of distilled liquors.

Give the president authority to prohibit the use of foodstuffs in manufacture of beer and wine.

Eliminate the Smoot amendment.

See Load for Brewers.

That this compromise will be accepted by champions of the house bill, who want to wipe out beer and wine as well as whisky for the period of the war, is believed by senate leaders who are particularly interested in the revenue feature.

If, however, the Smoot amendment prevails, finance committee senators insisted today that beer and wine will have to pay heavily for the unrestrained privilege of existence. It is certain, they say, that much of the revenue load which whisky might otherwise contribute will be packed onto the backs of the brewers and wine producers.

"They will have the field to themselves in this country and must pay for it under the circumstances," said one senator today, after an informal conference with some of his colleagues regarding the revenue situation.

Predict $670,000,000 Loss.

Through the law as it stands financial experts calculate that the government will lose about $670,000,000 in revenue. Some senators, among them Penrose of Pennsylvania, insist that the loss will aggregate a billion dollars, while Senator Gore, an ardent prohibitionist, says it will be less than [illegible].

ANTI-DRINK VOTE TAKEN BY OLD TIME PRINTERS

Declaring that the efficiency of the fighting men of the United States depends upon the abolition of the liquor traffic, the Rev. Dr. Philip W. Yarrow, in behalf of the Dry Chicago federation, of which he is superintendent, appealed to members of the Old Time Printers' association at the weekly meeting of the association in the La Salle hotel to affiliate themselves with the Dry Chicago federation.

"If the Old Time Printers' association wishes to exert its influence in this world war, it must do its utmost to make the United States a saloonless nation," said Dr. Yarrow.

Acting on Dr. Yarrow's appeal, a resolution declaring that "efforts to perpetuate the saloon in the United States are part of insidious pro-German propaganda" was passed by the members of the association.

The resolution added an expression of opinion that a vast majority of crime and misery in this country is directly due to the liquor traffic and made a demand on congress for laws "which will at once and for all time remove the blighting curse of the liquor traffic, root and branch, from American life."

Ribot to Ask Wilson to Aid 'Society of Nations'

PARIS, July 8.—In a discussion in the chamber of deputies yesterday Pierre Renaudel, leader of the Socialists, demanded of Premier Ribot that he engage immediately in concerted action with President Wilson looking to the formation of a society of nations.

"I will consider it an honor," Premier Ribot replied, "to enter into conversation with President Wilson on that subject."

Whereupon Renaudel cried: "I hope those words will have the effect they merit."

POLES PARADE, RAISE BIG FLAG, CHEER WILSON

A parade of 4,000 men, women, and children preceded the raising of a large flag yesterday at St. Salomea's Polish Roman Catholic church, One Hundred and Eighteenth street and Indiana avenue. Father Francis Kalinski, assistant pastor, riding a horse, headed the procession. Capt. Rozewicz of the Seventh regiment was present in command of a company. Addresses were made by Harry Olson, chief justice of the Municipal court, in English, and by the Rev. W. Zapala, pastor of St. Stanislaus' church, in Polish.

"The Polish people have shown themselves more ready to volunteer in the present war than any other nationality," said Judge Olson. "Five thousand have volunteered in Chicago without waiting for the draft. The foreigners know how to appreciate the benefits of this country and no fear need be entertained about their loyalty. Just such demonstrations as this today are needed."

Father Zapala urged the young men to enlist and stand by the president. A collection for the Red Cross was taken and three cheers were given for President Wilson and three for the flag.

Starvation, Sickness, Deplete Turkish Army

SALONIKI, July 8.—According to reliable advices from Asia Minor, the Turkish army is in the most serious plight of any period of the war. This is due to the depletion of man power from the ravages of epidemics and from actual starvation as a result of the failure of the commissariat. All classes of the gendarmerie are being mobilized to fill the gaps. It is said the spread of mutinies among Arab and Kurd troops has become so alarming that Enver Pasha, the Turkish war minister, is rushing to Mesopotamia in an effort to cope with the situation.

BEER, SALOON, AND UNION MEN MAY ALLY FOR BATTLE

Unusual Plans Under Way to Defeat Dry Vote in Spring.

Heretofore it has been the brewers who have taken the brunt of the battle for a wet Illinois, as far as beer is concerned. Apparently the brewers want help. They are calling on the retail saloonkeepers to line up. A movement is on foot to organize them for the fight which may see a decision in the April elections next year.

The saloonkeepers have an organization known as the Cook County Liquor Dealers' association. There is also an Illinois Liquor Dealers' association. Also there is a Brewers' exchange. As far as Chicago is concerned, the first named is the most active. Its head is Fred Rohde.

United Societies Aid.

Working in general coöperation with the liquor dealers' associations is the United Societies for Local Self Government, of which Leopold Neumann is secretary and Anton J. Cermak president.

The latest move of the brewing interests to strengthen their battle lines is to form an alliance of liquor labor unions and the liquor associations. It is said by one of authority that every saloonkeeper in Chicago will be asked by the unions to join either the union or the association.

Liquor Men Deny.

Various officials of liquor organizations deny knowledge of this movement. The unions feel their interests are identical with those of their employers, and the feeling is that only the strongest sort of opposition can dissolve the phantom of prohibition.

Rev. G. F. Hall Exhorts Christians to Battle

"The Christian who runs or loses hope now that we are in the war is a coward and does not deserve to sit in when victory comes," said the Rev. George F. Hall in an address last evening at the Christian Church club, Terminal hall.

HALF A BILLION MORE FOR SHIPS; SOME OF STEEL

Congress to Be Asked for Further Aid to U. S. Marine.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—With Germany's submarines continuing their destruction of the world's tonnage and the entry of America into the war creating a demand for transports, the United States shipping board tonight determined to ask congress for another half billion dollars for construction of ships.

In a statement tonight William Denman, chairman of the board, said the proposal would be submitted to the president for approval at once and that Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo will be asked to suggest means to provide a place for this great expenditure in the plans for financing the war.

It is proposed to construct approximately 5,000,000 dead weight tons of ships.

The [illegible] originally appropriated by congress for the shipping board, Mr. Denman said, was practically exhausted either in contracts for ships already let or in others planned for and about to be closed. Most of this great fund has been used for steel ships and it is contemplated to build with the proposed appropriation both wooden and steel ships.

In his statement tonight leading up to the announcement of the board's purpose Chairman Denman cites some of the history of the board's work since its inception, passing over the differences which arose between himself and Maj. Gen. Goethals' management of the emergency fleet corporation in the controversy over wooden and steel ship construction.

LIVE STOCK MEN CHEERED UP BY HOOVER STAND

Better feeling prevails among men in the live stock industry, according to Everett C. Brown, president of the Chicago live stock exchange, who has made public a telegram from Herbert Hoover, food administrator, in which live stock dealers are assured there will be no action taken in any lines of commerce before those interested are called together and consulted.

"Mr. Hoover's dispatch plainly indicates," Mr. Brown said, "that he is not going to interfere with the live stock business in the greatest market centers of the United States. Live stock is the greatest single industry in the country, the total sales last year being in excess of $2,500,000,000.

"The fact that feeders have been afraid of price tampering, with the result that they have hesitated to feed expensive corn, has given rise to uneasiness, but this now is dispelled."

Business Men Urged to Adopt War Economies

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—Economy in business during the war in order to release men and materials is urged by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in a bulletin issued through the council of national defense. Men in every line of business are urged to consider what activities or services may be dispensed with during the war. The board solicits suggestions and recommends that associations of business men appoint committees immediately to act along lines suggested.

RUSSIA SENDS U. S. MESSAGE: 'ON TO VICTORY'

Lvoff Asserts Army Will Meet Duty to Entente.

PETROGRAD, July 7.—[Delayed.]—A staff correspondent of the Associated Press was received this morning by Prince Lvoff, premier and minister of the interior, who made a statement for the information of America on conditions at the Russian front; measures whereby America can assist in the struggle against German domination; internal and diplomatic problems and the influence of the revolution and the war on world problems.

Prince Lvoff began by declaring his unshaken optimism that, notwithstanding grave difficulties to be faced, Russia is marching toward reconstruction and stability and that the war is developing toward victory.

NEW HOPES FOR ARMY.

"Regarding the war," he continued, "I say that the latest action of our army inspires me with full hope. I am convinced that the new advance, even if temporarily stayed, is not finished, but is a prelude to much greater successes. The advance thoroughly confutes the pessimists, who unanimously predicted that an offensive by our supposedly disorganized troops was impossible. From actual intercourse with delegates from the army and with other observers on the spot, I know that the offensive spirit is spreading.

"This is no gradual reconstruction of the army, but the first stage of a complete process of re-creation, which is almost miraculous, proving, in my judgment, that the troops are infected with a genuine revolutionary and crusading spirit, and the consciousness of a mission to save Russia and influence world events in the direction desired by all progressive men.

"Naturally, I am aware that not everything can be done by enthusiasm. I give you frankly the good and the bad side.

MUNITION SUPPLY GOOD.

"The good side is the army's supply of munitions and other necessaries in which we are markedly better off than last year; in fact, guaranteed for the immediate future.

"The bad is the transport difficulties, which still are serious. These are an evil heritage from the old régime and naturally it is impossible to restore order in three months crowded with revolutionary activities. Even with stable political conditions, the creation of efficient transport is a problem of years. Our great hope of speedy improvement lies with the Stevens railroad commission [the American commission], from which we expect much."

RAILWAYS BIG PROBLEM.

Asked whether the United States could improve Russia's own manufacture of munitions by sending experts, Prince Lvoff expressed the opinion that it could not, declaring that the problem of the employment of American aid in Russian workshops was too complex, but adding that American munitions machinery was highly desirable.

"With regard to American help generally," the premier said, "I lay down no specific program. It will be simplest to say that all conceivable American aid is wanted in every domain. But the key to the solution of all our military and economic difficulties is transport amelioration, in which it is impossible to do too much.

"I hope also for further American financial support. I am unable to say what form this will take, presumably a loan, but on this subject our finance minister, M. Shingaroff, in his discussion with the financial members of the Root commission, will no doubt produce a practical program which America can help realize. America should note that we ourselves are ready to bear the heaviest monetary sacrifices and have already passed more drastic measures respecting taxation on property than any of the other belligerent powers and are ready to go much further.

"Among our other economic problems the most vital is food.

"For next year's crops arises the problem of an increase in the amount of agricultural machinery, and we should be grateful if America submits a plan to help in this matter on a comprehensive scale."

Internal Affairs Good.

Prince Lvoff proceeded to discuss the internal situation, declaring that this has had a marked influence on Russia's ability to carry on the fight in the war with vigor.

"I am glad," he said, "to see last week's marked signs of amelioration. Tell America that I have daily evidence of the rallying of all the national elements of the nation round the coalition cabinet. The irrational elements, such as the anarchists and Bolshiviki, are in such a minority that there is no reason to fear their getting the upper hand. Not only the bourgeoise, but an overwhelming majority of the workingmen are against them. Their present excesses are merely a last desperate reaction against their consciousness of this.

"Note that though every week there have been loudly advertised plans to overthrow the government by force, there has not been one attempt to execute the plans made. Furthermore, I may deny the rumors of reactionary and revolutionary agitation and threats of Jewish pogroms, of which there is no sign whatever.

What Russia Has Done.

"On the whole, the nation is satisfied with the provisional government, because the government, though hampered by grave military and diplomatic preoccupations, has carried through internal reforms which embody the traditional aspirations of Russia's progressives. Do you know that within a few weeks of the czarists' downfall the government realized a liberal five fold program, giving complete liberty of person, speech, press, meeting, and religion, and going therein further than most progressive democracies in Europe or America?

"I refer you, for instance, to the complete democratization of the country, local self-government in the towns throughout the country, with the universal and equal suffrage for both sexes, the establishment of a smaller unit of local government, in which is abolished the inequality between peasants and the other classes; the reform of the military courts and of local courts of justice, with the admission of women to the magistracy and legal profession; educational reform, including a new university in the city of Perm; secondary school reconstruction, the reform of the backward parish elementary schools; the democratic income property tax, with the proposal for the reform of succession taxation; the organization of peasant home work; the mobilization of the nation's technical knowledge for war purposes; many church reforms, among them the election of the highest prelates by popular vote, and preparations for an ecumenical church council, aiming at the abolition of state despotism in church affairs.

Advance of Hundred Years.

"Through these reforms Russia in a hundred days has advanced a hundred years."

With regard to recent disorders and separatist agitations the premier declared that local disorder was still sometimes serious, but that no single disorderly movement was sufficiently large to threaten the government's stability, and there were signs that the excesses of the factionists injured chiefly the factionists' cause.

"Naturally," he said, "the separatist movement in Finland and Ukraine causes anxiety. In this there are two contrary features; the first a rightful desire for increased self-government and legitimate historical and cultural aspirations, and, secondly, irresponsible separatism, which menaces Russia's essential unity.

"With regard to the first, the government stands for a policy of concessions, but until the constituent assembly definitely organizes the empire we have no right to give way on the second point."

Gives Thanks to Root.

Prince Lvoff went on to declare that diplomatic relations with the allies were much improved; that, notwithstanding three months of stagnation on the part of Russia's army and the critical attitude of her democracy to the allies, the program of mutual confidence was unshaken.

"That," explained the premier, "is the result of our new democracy, which is absolutely frank and truthful. I am convinced that it means a new era of international relations.

"Equally satisfactory are our relations with America. Let me here express to America our hearty satisfaction at the visit of the Root mission. I have had the strongest possible support from Mr. Root personally. I am amazed how, notwithstanding his newness to Russia and the limited opportunities to see our country, he immediately grasped the essential fact that our troubles were transitory and understood the broader and more essential problems which the Russians themselves have not yet all been able to understand."

Draws Near to American.

In conclusion Prince Lvoff discussed Russo-American and Russian world relations with great eloquence and fervor, declaring that the greatest hope lies in Russia's new approximation to America.

"For decades of darkness and oppression," he said, "America had been our ideal of freedom and intellectual and material development, rather not our ideal, for we had considered it unattainable, but a remote fairy tale of happiness. Now we have in one jump reached America's condition of freedom. There remains the slower, but not impossible, task to overtake her in education, material progress, culture, and respect for order.

"We are on the right track. The spirit of new Russia is closely akin to the immemorial spirit of free America, and where the spirit is work follows. That means Russia's salvation.

"But that is not all. I am convinced that our revolution is no mere domestic affair, but a stage in the new world movement toward liberty, equality, fraternity—perhaps the greatest stage in the world's history.

"Equally, I consider that the war, like, indeed, preceding wars, is a stage in world evolution. This war's mission is to spread throughout the world all that is vital and abiding in our revolution. That is why, as a citizen of the world, I desire victory.

"I regard the growing friendship between Russia and America as a providential instrument in this world process. Therefore, I consider that all the help, sympathy, and encouragement we get from your people constitute not merely a temporary benefit, but a permanent contribution toward the regeneration of the world."

THE BATTLE OF FOX RIVER VALLEY

Model trenches on the Col. Fabyan estate at Geneva, Ill., were the scene of a recruiting drive yesterday which netted a score of men and attracted hundreds to view the trenches at a fee of 25 cents each, which went to the Red Cross. A soldier is shown in the upper picture sighting a "periscope gun." Little Miss Sue Beckwith is shown below posing beside the stovepipe of a trench kitchen.

Army Conquers the Fox River Valley and Captures Recruits

Along came Capt. Kenney and conquered the Fox river valley.

It was at a giant recruiting rally at Riverside farm, Col. Fabyan's place at Geneva, Ill., yesterday. The captain and seventy of his men went to the farm, and, with the aid of model trenches, prominent speakers, the Grand Army of the Republic, and the Red Cross, induced inhabitants to join the army on the spot. The meeting was held at the natural amphitheater on the estate. About 5,000 people cheered the speakers. A score or more joined the colors and took the oath, while scores more pledged themselves to join.

There were speeches by Capt. Kenney, Private Allison, who only recently returned from the front in France; Mayor J. E. Harley of Aurora, and Col. L. B. Coupland of the G. A. R. Capt. Kenney's appeal to the men of the community brought the desired results.

Colors Don't Run.

"We have the colors that will never run," he said. "No regiment in the army has ever lost its colors, with the exception of Custer's men, and that was a massacre. The word 'surrender' is not in the American vocabulary.

"There is much talk about doing your bit. No such thing. It is not a matter of doing your bit; it is, do your damnedest! If you have given your money for Liberty bonds or to the Red Cross, you have given to a good cause, but you have not done your full duty. Your duty is to join the service and fight for your country. Fight, that its ideals may be upheld. Fight, that the work of all those who have worked and died before us will not be in vain.

"I was asked some time ago what had become of the gunning practice, and I said that we had given that up and were now teaching swimming, because the Rhine is mighty deep."

Private Stirs Audience.

Private Allison followed with an address that hit the heart of every man present.

"Can you men in civilian clothes look these G. A. R. men straight in the eye? They were in the fight fifty years ago, and they did their duty. Now it is up to you. Every man of you should get in at once. After the talk by Capt. Kenney there should be no hesitation. With such a man to lead you, you cannot go wrong. It is an honor to volunteer now."

Young Men Enlist.

Following these two addresses several of the younger men in the audience went to the enlistment tent and joined. Col. Coupland spoke next. He represented the army of the past.

"If the army of the civil war were here now in the trenches, and we had Sherman and his troop to drink up the Rhine, we would be eating German sandwiches and drinking German beer in Berlin in the next ten days."

The trenches were then shown to the audience. The admission to them is 25 cents, and it goes to the Red Cross. The model trenches, fully equipped, are explained by Capt. Bissett and Lieut. Kirkpatrick of the Canadian army.

TREASURE SHIP, SUNK 52 YEARS AGO, SALVAGED

Detroit, Mich., July 8.—[Special.]—After lying for more than half a century on the rocks that form the bottom of Lake Huron, off Thunder Bay island, the treasure stored in the hold of the steamer Pewaubic, sunk Aug. 9, 1865, is now being brought to the surface.

With the raising of a "clam" load of relics from the long sunken steamer came the breaking of a world's record in deep sea salvage, the fruition of the three years' efforts of a Detroit and Toledo party to prove deep sea salvage possible.

At the present price of copper, that metal alone will be worth $200,000, as there were nearly 300 tons. Despite its submersion under 180 feet of water for fifty-two years, a silk gown when dried apparently was almost as good as when new.

SHAM BATTLE TO GREET REILLY'S ARTILLERY TODAY

Many Cartridges and Dynamite in 'Trench War.'

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Fort Sheridan, Ill., July 8.—[Special.]—Illinois men in training for commissions in Fort Sheridan will "show off" tomorrow by way of reception to the men of the First artillery who will begin mobilizing tomorrow under Col. Henry J. Reilly. The R. O. T. C. men will engage in a taste of trench warfare in which dynamite and a considerable portion of 10,000 cartridges per company will be exploded.

Only Illinois men will engage in the shame battle. One company will attack from the woods south of the fort and endeavor to take the trenches held by the second company. The dynamite will be used in sapping operations.

Col. Reilly will be on the ground in the morning to watch the arrival of the first men of his command. The supply troop and Battery C will unload from the trains early. Batteries D and E, under command of Maj. Charles R. Vincent, are expected in the mobilization camp Tuesday at 8 o'clock.

At noon on Tuesday Battery A of Danville, in command of Capt. Redden, will arrive, as also will Battery F of Champaign, Capt. Benedict commanding. Battery B of Chicago, Capt. Course commanding, will arrive early on Tuesday. Officers and men appeared delighted with the prospect of action, and immediately plunged into hard work.

TURNS OVER COX THEATER STOCK

Cincinnati, O., July 8.—The widow of George B ["Boss"] Cox has transferred her holdings in theatrical property to the men who were his partners in that line of activities, the Shuberts and Joseph L. Rhinock.

Cox and Rhinock, who is a Cincinnatian, became interested in the Shuberts' ventures early in their fight with the Klaw & Erlanger combination, about 1905, and from then on until the politician's death took a part in most of the deals made by the Shuberts in building, buying, or leasing theaters throughout the United States.

Cox was interested in some moving picture concerns, too, and his rights therein are part of the holdings turned over by the widow.

BE GENTLEMEN FOR SAKE OF U. S., PERSHING ASKS

Issues Order to Army in France, Telling Men to Be Courteous.

PARIS, July 8.—Maj. Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of the American forces in France, spent today conferring with his staff concerning plans for the permanent training camp in France and American participation at the fighting front. The permanent camp already has been established and one battalion is undergoing intensive training there. It is expected that the remainder of the first expeditionary force will be in camp behind the fighting line within a week.

Gen. Pershing has issued the following general order to his troops:

"For the first time in history an American army finds itself in European territory. The good name of the United States of America and the maintenance of cordial relations require the perfect deportment of each member of this command.

Be Courteous to Women.

"It is of the gravest importance that the soldiers of the American army shall at all times treat the French people, and especially the women, with the greatest courtesy and consideration.

"The valiant deeds of the French armies and the allies, by which they together have successfully maintained the common cause for three years, and the sacrifices of the civil population of France in support of their armies, command our profound respect. This can best be expressed on the part of our forces by uniform courtesies to all the French people and by the faithful observance of their laws and customs.

Damage No Property.

"The intensive cultivation of the soil in France under conditions caused by the war makes it necessary that extreme care be taken to do no damage to private property. The entire French manhood capable of bearing arms is in the field fighting the enemy, and it should, therefore, be a point of honor to each member of the American army to avoid doing the least damage to any property in France. Such conduct is much more reprehensible here. Honor them as those of our own country."

SUPERHEROISM OF CANADIANS MARVEL OF WAR

Valor at the Somme Fades Before Bravery at Messines.

Ottawa, Ont., July 8.—Stories of the super-heroism of New Zealanders at the battle of Messines, as related by Malcolm Ross, special correspondent with the New Zealand forces, are recounted in a dispatch from London received at the agency here of Reuters, limited.

Ross tells how wounded officers and men fought on until forcibly sent back; how a private, single handed, charged through the British barrage to silence a strong enemy machine gun emplacement, actually accomplishing this remarkable feat; how a chaplain, under the heaviest fire, continuously attended wounded men from early morning until late at night, and how, after a company's officers had fallen one by one, the noncommissioned officers and masterful privates continued to carry on with initiative and gallantry.

It was thought, the dispatch says, that the high water mark of gallantry for this division was reached on the Somme, but Messines exceeded all previous standards.

FRENCH STOP GERMANS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

North of the Aisne the French again have checked the German crown prince in an effort to regain the line of the Chemin des Dames.

Attacking on four sectors along a front of seven and a half miles from north of the Laffaux mill to the Froidmont farm, the Germans were met by determined resistance on the part of the French, and, sustaining heavy losses, were repulsed completely, except on the eastern end of the line, between Bovettes and Froidmont farm.

Here, on a front of nearly two miles, the fighting was desperate, and the French after several hours were able to regain some lost elements.

Later in the day, in local engagements, the French recaptured more of the lost trenches.

French Gain Ground.

East of Cerny, on the eastern end of the Aisne front, Gen. Petain's men in attack were able to enlarge the ground captured on July 1 near Ailles.

On the left bank of the Meuse, northeast of Verdun, the French took the offensive and carried three strong salients. One was west of Le Mort Homme and the other two southwest of Hill 304, the dominating height west of the Meuse and against which the German crown prince threw ineffectual attacks during the last week.

PERIL KEY TO LEMBERG.

PETROGRAD, July 8.—According to semi-official reports, the Russian offensive is spreading to the north and south of Halicz, in Eastern Galicia, which was virtually under the guns of Gen. Brussiloff when the advance of a year ago came to a standstill. Halicz is important as the key to Lemberg, the capital of Galicia, and is about sixty miles southeast of that city.

Three armies now are engaged on a front of more that thirty miles along the Narayuvka river. The enthusiasm among the troops is increasing.

A train carrying 800 sailors from Reval who organized the "storming battalion" and wear shoulder ribbons inscribed "to the trenches," passed through Petrograd today.

The government has ordered the release of Polish prisoners of war captured from the German ranks.

Greeks Pledge Fight on Germany.

New York, July 8.—A pledge to "fight against the common enemy of the world—Germany" was taken by more than 1,000 Greeks who attended a massmeeting here today. They were members of the League of Greek Liberals of New York.

OFFICIAL WAR REPORTS ON ALL BATTLE FRONTS

FRENCH FRONT

FRENCH.

PARIS, July 8.—In the region of Pantheon and Froidmont farm the artillery action was very spirited today. Lively local engagements enabled us to reoccupy some trench elements. There were artillery actions at various points along the front, particularly near Hurtebise and in the sector of Mont Haut.

DAY STATEMENT.

On the Aisne front the night was marked by an intense bombardment directed at our positions from the north of Laffaux mill as far as Froidmont farm. At dawn the Germans delivered violent attacks with strong contingents in four different sectors of this front. Our troops offered determined resistance to the masses of enemy forces, which suffered heavy losses.

North and east of Laffaux mill, near Mennejean farm and west of Pantheon, we repulsed all enemy attacks and maintained our positions completely. Between Bovettes and Froidmont farm the attack of the enemy developed on a front of three kilometers (nearly two miles). After a struggle of several hours we succeeded in ejecting the enemy from part of the elements of our first line which he was able to penetrate at the first shock.

East of Cerny late yesterday we carried out a succesful operation, which enabled us to enlarge appreciably the position near Ailles, which we recaptured on July 1. We took prisoners. The artillery fighting was heavy all night.

In the region of Sapigneul we dispersed enemy reconnoitering parties which attempted to approach our lines.

On the left bank of the Meuse, after brief artillery preparation, our troops brilliantly captured three strongly organized salients, one west of Dead Man hill and the other two southwest of Hill 304. German counter attacks against the conquered positions were repulsed.

Several surprise attacks on our advanced posts on the heights of Meuse and in Upper Alsace were repulsed by our fire.

BRITISH.

LONDON, July 8.—Except for artillery activity on both sides at several points along the front, there is nothing further to report.

DAY STATEMENT.

We carried out successful raids last night southeast of Hargicourt and to the north of Ypres, taking some prisoners.

AVIATION.

Yesterday the enemy again displayed the greatest activity in air fighting, which continued throughout the day. Hostile aircraft worked in large formations, which were frequently broken up by our pilots.

Our airmen carried out a number of successful raids, in the course of which the enemy's airdromes, depots, and troops were attacked with bombs and machine gun fire, and considerable damage caused.

Six enemy machines were brought down in combats and ten more were driven out of control. Eight of our machines are missing.

BELGIAN.

PARIS, July 8.—The artillery was active along the whole front today, especially in the neighborhood of Ramscapelle and the Ferryman's house.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, July 8.—Army group of Prince Rupprecht—On the coast, in the Ypres and Wytschaete sectors, near Lens and between the Somme and the Oise there were artillery duels of varying intensity. A British reconnoitering advance east of Ypres broke down. Our reconnoitering detachments took prisoners northwest and west of St. Quentin.

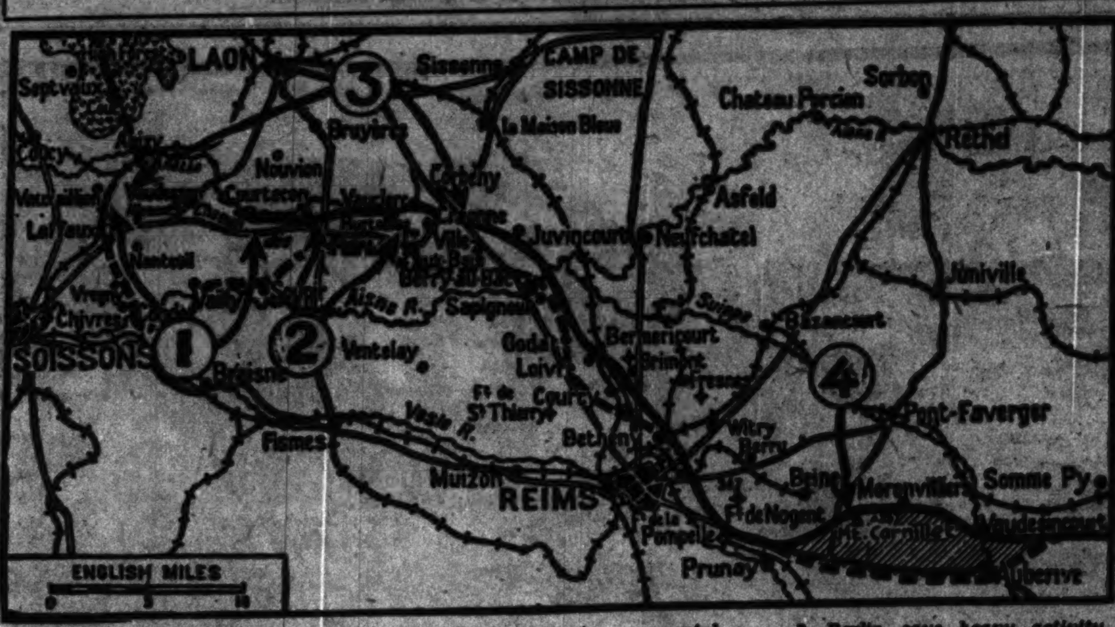
Army group of the German crown prince—After strong artillery fire which lasted all day, the French advanced in considerable force in the evening for an attack west of Cerny. The attack broke down with heavy losses under our fire and in hand grenade encounters. During the night several attacks on our trench south of La Bovelle farm and southwest of Ailles failed. Our shock troops made a successful surprise attack against an enemy field post at Mennejean farm, south of the Laon-Soissons road.

In the western Champagne yesterday morning a further attack by the French at Mont Carnillet was repulsed.

On the left bank of the Meuse [Verdun front], the artillery fire increased in the evening to great intensity. In the night the French made strong attacks on Hill 304 and the western slope of Dead Man hill. They were repulsed. Fighting is proceeding in some trench sections.

Army group of Duke Albrecht—Aside from an occasional revival of artillery fire on the Lorraine plain and a successful forefield encounter on the Rhone canal there were no events of importance.

THE FIGHTING ON THE AISNE FRONT



1—On the Aisne front from north of Laffaux as far as Froidmont farm the Germans kept up an intense artillery bombardment. This was followed by attacks north and east of Laffaux, near Mennejean farm and west of Pantheon.

2—Paris reports successful operation east of Cerny, in which prisoners were taken and French positions near Ailles were enlarged. Berlin reports repulse of this attack. Heavy bombardments were reported near Hurtebise.

3—Berlin says heavy activity was marked along the Aisne front, in which French attacks were repulsed. French attacks west of Cerny were repulsed.

4—Berlin says French attack on Mont Carnillet was repulsed.

RUSSIAN FRONT

RUSSIAN.

PETROGRAD, July 8.—In the direction of Kovel, near Volaporska, the enemy released gas clouds which dispersed before reaching our trenches.

In the direction of Ziochoff, on Friday night, the enemy launched energetic counter attacks on the front at Godov and the wood west of Koniuchy in an attempt to dislodge our troops from the positions captured in the battle of Friday. All these attacks were repulsed. Attacks west of Bychka by troops in dense columns, supported by armored motor cars, were repulsed.

In the battles of June 28 in the region of Koniuchy an active part was taken by Belgian armored motor cars, which went as far as the enemy's wire entanglements. The driver of one of these cars and two soldiers were killed.

East and southeast of Brzezany the enemy carried out an intense artillery fire. Attempts by large enemy reconnoitering parties to attack our advanced posts southwest of the village of Chibalin were repelled.

AVIATION.

In the region of Presovce a German airplane was brought down.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, July 8.—Between the Stripa and the Zlota Lipa the Russians were unable to renew their attacks after their vain sacrifices of the previous days.

Near Zboroff this morning an enemy attack without artillery preparation broke down with heavy losses.

There was fighting near Stanislau yesterday and this morning. Austro-Hungarian regiments in hand-to-hand encounters repulsed several Russian divisions whose storming waves, broken by our destructive fire, had pushed forward as far as our position.

Near Huta, in the upper valley of the Bystritza Solotvina, a Russian attack was repulsed.

MACEDONIAN FRONT

FRENCH.

PARIS, July 8.—The British successfully bombarded the stations at Porna and Angista, twenty kilometers east of Seres. At the Cerna bend the enemy attempted a surprise attack but was repulsed. There were quite lively artillery actions in the region of Huma and Monastir.

GERMAN.

BERLIN, July 8.—The situation is unchanged.

ROUMANIAN FRONT

RUSSIAN.

PETROGRAD, July 8.—The situation is unchanged.

TURKISH FRONT

RUSSIAN.

PETROGRAD, July 8.—The situation is unchanged.

ITALIAN FRONT

ITALIAN.

ROME, July 8.—In the Upper Val Tellina on Saturday night the enemy attempted to capture one of our advanced posts. He was driven off by artillery fire and a prompt counter attack.

On the remainder of the front the artillery was more active, especially in the Vodice, where the enemy suddenly concentrated his fire, to which we replied violently and effectively.

AVIATION.

Yesterday afternoon a large Italian raiding squadron, accompanied by pursuit planes, flew to Idria. Notwithstanding the heavy anti-aircraft fire of the enemy, our aviators dropped two and one-half tons of explosives on the military mercury extracting works, causing fire and other damage. Having carried out this difficult enterprise successfully the airplanes returned safely.

In the course of aerial fighting on the Carso two enemy machines were brought down in our lines. A third fell within the enemy lines.

SUPPLEMENTARY

GERMAN.

BERLIN, July 8.—Western theater—Along the Chemin des Dames, southeast of Pargny-Filain, an attack brought us considerable gain of territory and more than 700 prisoners.

Eastern theater—The Russians again attacked at Stanislau and gained ground.

Less Singing, More Action, Army Message to Church

Less singing of "Onward, Christian Soldiers," and more enlistments and conservation of food was urged as the need of the hour by Maj. P. J. H. Farrell, medical corps, United States army, in a patriotic service last evening in the Jackson Boulevard Christian church.

Maj. Farrell told the women to eat corn bread and save at least a slice of white bread a day and thus save in the entire country 2,000,000 loaves of bread daily.

The church auditorium was decorated with the national colors and at a signal a balloonlike device dropped a thousand tiny American flags on the audience.

Villa Bobs Up Again.

Presidio, Tex., July 8.—Francisco Villa, with several hundred men, was reported fifty miles south of Ojinaga, opposite this place. Merchants in Ojinaga today transferred their stocks across the Rio Grande in anticipation of an attack on the town.

COSTA RICAN ENVOY GRIEVES AT REJECTION

Washington, D. C., July 8.—R. Fernandes Guardia, the withdrawn minister here of the Tinoco government of Costa Rica, made public tonight the note he presented to Secretary Lansing announcing his withdrawal and protesting against the failure of the United States to recognize Gen. Tinoco's revolutionary régime.

The note, delivered on July 4, declares the ascendancy of the Tinoco forces, although at first attained by revolution, has been fortified by the verdict of a popular election. It then adds that "it is in truth most disheartening at the very moment in which the republic founded by George Washington is hastening to sacrifice the lives of thousands of its citizens to maintain the right of certain small nations of Europe to control their own fate, that same right is denied to one of the American republics which has abundantly proven that it also merits the privilege of enjoying it."

Holland Urged to Use Arms to Protect Ships

AMSTERDAM, July 8.—The Handelsblad says the situation of Dutch shipping now is the most critical of any period of the war, owing to the fact that all of Holland's outlets now fall within the danger zones of one or the other of the belligerents. It urges the Dutch government to map out a channel of its own.

FRENCH SOLONS ROW OVER WAR AND U. S. MISSION

April 16 Offensive Called a Failure; Slur at Viviani's Trip.

PARIS, July 8.—Noisy scenes attended the public sitting of the chamber of deputies which followed a week of secret sessions at which were discussed events in connection with the offensive of April 16.

Until an early hour this morning the chamber, which began the public sitting yesterday, continued the discussion of the resolutions proposed as a result of the secret sessions, although there were frequent demands for an adjournment.

Premier Ribot closed the debate for the government, declaring that the April offensive was costly, but that, instead of being a check, as asserted by some, it was a real success. Mistakes undoubtedly had been made, the premier said, "but we cannot rob our generals of the audacity that gives victory."

The first test vote, taken in regard to granting priority to a resolution accepted by the government, was favorable to the government. The vote was [illegible] to 167.

The first disturbance came when President Deschanel declined to read a resolution proposed by Deputies Brison, Blanc, and Braffin-Dugens. M. Deschanel said the resolution was unconstitutional and an insult to the government.

"Used U. S. as Springboard."

M. Accambray caused another disturbance by reproaching the government for sending to the United States men whom parliament had removed from their posts and permitting these men to "use the United States as a springboard." The house hooted the speaker.

M. Viviani, minister of justice and former premier, who was a member of the mission to the United States, indignantly denied the accusation. He said he had refused to speak to the chamber in regard to the American mission until he had been asked to do so by the chiefs of the government for the sake of "the illustrious representatives of the United States as well as France."

"I attempted to give expression to the infinite gratitude of France for the United States," he said, adding that he felt it his duty to say to France, which had bled for three years, "that the United States loves her with the purest love."

Admitted Faults in Campaign.

Paul Painleve, minister of war, dwelt upon the successes obtained in the April offensive, but did not deny that serious faults were committed. He said the responsible chiefs, among them the commander in chief (Gen. Nivelle) had been relieved of command. Investigations will be begun in a few days, he said, to fix responsibility and permit the government to take necessary steps.

M. Painleve was applauded by the whole house when he quoted President Wilson's words to the effect that there was no alternative other than to conquer or submit, adding, "The peace which lies behind the smiles of Scheidemann (the German Socialist leader) and the Pan-German means that tomorrow Germany's intact fleet will dominate the seas, German industry will dominate the markets, and German gold will dominate our devastated regions."

He also gave warning against the danger of weakening morale.

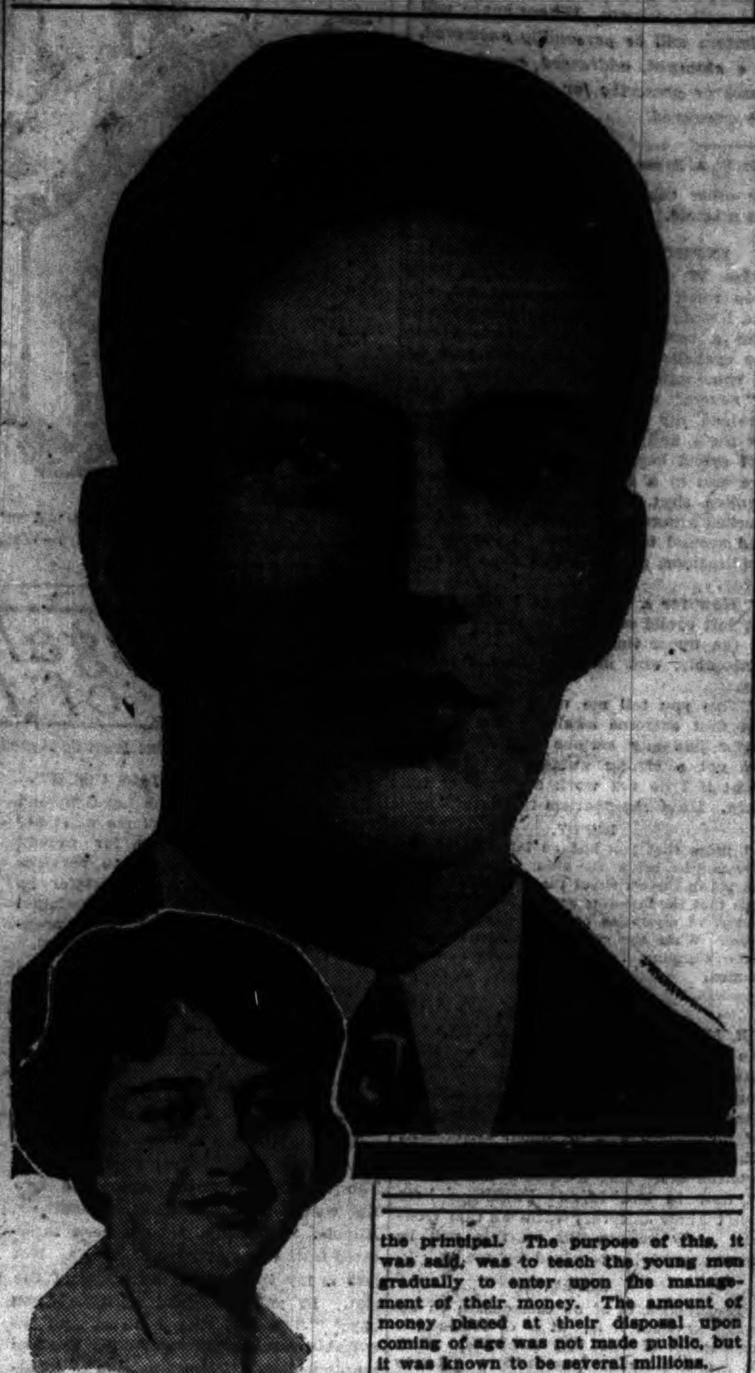
Jealous of Morale.

Louis Malvy, minister of the interior, explained the measures taken against persons spreading anonymous peace talk and pessimistic reports. He declared the government had observed every precaution to guard against demoralizing influences.

In the course of his speech Premier Ribot said that under no conditions would the government allow the morale of the country to be weakened by a campaign to lead the nation towards a peace dictated by Germany, which would be a dishonor to France.

DEATH ENDS HONEYMOON

Sudden Collapse of Grandson of Marshall Field After Operation Leaves Youthful Bride a Widow.



Henry Field
Mrs. Henry Field

war Mr. Field entered the ambulance service in France and served with creditable mention. After several months' service he returned to the United States.

Under the will of Marshall Field, founder of the mechandising firm that bears his name, Henry and Marshall Field III. shared the estate. Marshall was to receive three-fifths and Henry two-fifths, but the will was made in such a manner as to obviate any probable misfortunes in the management of the vast enterprises so devised.

Estate in Trust.

After the payment of the dozens of incidental bequests the remainder of the estate, valued variously from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000, was placed in a trust fund to be supervised by a board of trustees and the Merchants Loan and Trust company.

Under the terms of the will, which embraced some 25,000 words and was highly and legally technical, the management of the fortune was thoroughly set down. At the age of 21 the grandsons and Miss Gwendolyn Field, their sister, came into a certain portion of the principal. The purpose of this, it was said, was to teach the young men gradually to enter upon the management of their money. The amount of money placed at their disposal upon coming of age was not made public, but it was known to be several millions.

When the young men attained the age of 35 years they were to receive another portion of the estate. The entire burden of the estate and the dissolution of the will were to come when the grandsons reached the age of 50 years.

Codicil to Will.

In a codicil to the original will Mr. Field, the late merchant, arranged that in the contingency of the death of one or either of the grandsons or of their children, should they have any, that portion of the estate given to the one dying should revert to the estate, and thus Marshall Field III. becomes one of the richest young men in the world. There was also a provision in this codicil by which the estate would revert to other relatives in case of the death of both grandsons.

In view of the fact that both young men were concerned with the management of the estate and that no public mention was ever made of the amounts paid to the accounts of the young men there is no speculation as to the value of their individual estates and therefore of the estate of Henry Field. His interest of two-fifths in the trust fund of his grandfather's will, it is declared under the will, reverts to the estate, but with the exception that the widow will come in for her dower right of one-third.

Widow Is of Noted Family.

Mrs. Field, who until Feb. 7 last was the beautiful Miss Nancy Keene Perkins of Virginia, is an orphan. Her mother was Mrs. T. Moncure Perkins, in girlhood Miss Ivy Langhorne, second of the beautiful Langhorne sisters, who became noted as models for the "Gibson girls" painted by Charles Dana Gibson, an uncle of Mrs. Field.

Mrs. Field also is a niece of Mrs. Waldorf Astor of England, and by the marriage of Henry Field and the beautiful Miss Perkins society found an indirect alliance between two wealthy families of the east and west.

CHINA REPUBLIC RE-ESTABLISHED U. S. ENVOY SAYS

Defeat of Army Forced Abdication of Young Emperor.

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Official dispatches to the Chinese legation here tonight said the republic had been firmly reëstablished at Nanking with Feng Kuo-Chang, the former vice president, as president of the new provisional government. Republican troops were reported converging toward Peking to drive out the Manchu forces remaining in possession there in the name of the Imperialists.

Tuan Chi Jui, whose appointment as premier was one of the last official acts of President Li Yuan Hung before his retirement in favor of the vice president, has been confirmed by Feng Kuo Chang, with instructions to form a new republican cabinet, according to the dispatches. Premier Tuan assumed office July 5, and is now at temporary headquarters at Tien Tsin, but expects to be able to move to Peking in a short time.

Governors Aided Republic.

Governors of all the military provinces, the dispatches said, not only refused to join Gen. Chang Hsun in his efforts to reëstablish the monarchy, but requested Premier Tuan to take supreme command of the punitive expedition against the monarchist forces. Tuan mobilized the republican troops and two armies have been dispatched against Chang Hsun under command of Gen. Tuan Chi Kwei and Gen. Tsao Kuen, military governor of Chi -li.

Gen. Tuan Chi Kewi, in command of the eastern expedition, after routing the monarchical forces under Chang Hsun at Lang Fang is reported advancing victoriously toward the capital. Gen. Tsao Kuen, commanding the western expedition, is said to have occupied San Kuo Then and Luo Kui Chiao in his advance on Peking.

DEFEAT BRINGS ABDICATION.

LONDON, July 8.—The abdication of Hsuan Tung, the youthful emperor, who was placed on the throne of China only a week ago by Gen. Chang Hsun, followed upon the defeat of the imperialistic forces by republican troops at Lang Fang, south of Peking, and the desertion of many of Chang Hsun's soldiers, press dispatches from Peking indicate today.

The Forbidden City virtually is hemmed in on all sides and the Peking Kalgan railway, Chang Hsun's only means of escape northward, is in the hands of the republicans, who are holding Nankow pass.

Reuter's Peking correspondent reports that the palace there was bombarded by an airplane yesterday. The machine dropped three bombs from a great height into the Forbidden City. One man was killed and buildings near the headquarters of Gen. Chang Hsun, which probably was the objective, were damaged.

Admit Failure of Coup.

TIEN TSIN, July 7.—[Delayed.]—According to reports received by Chinese here, Liang Tun-Yen, minister of foreign affairs in the new imperial cabinet, and other imperialists have sent a telegram to Hsu Shih-Chang confessing that the coup to replace the emperor on the throne was premature and asking him to mediate. Tuan Chi-Jui, leader of the republican forces, now occupies the viceregal yamen here.

Enlisted Men, Be Ready for Examination; Official Order

Washington, D. C., July 8.—Another step in building up the selective conscription army was taken today with the distribution of a circular by Provost Marshal General Crowder notifying the registered men to hold themselves in readiness for appearance before the boards which will conduct examinations and consider exemptions.

How or when the government will select the men to be examined is not detailed in the circular, but it is revealed that registration cards in each county or city jurisdiction are to be numbered with red ink and that "as soon as the drawing is complete lists showing the order in which these red ink numbers are drawn will be published in the press and will be posted at the office of each local board." It already has been announced that the selection will take place in Washington, and the general presumption has been that some device similar to a jury wheel will be employed.

Local Boards' Power Limited.

Exemptions are to be determined by the locals boards, the circular shows, only for the previously announced specified causes, such as responsibility for the support of relatives, and not for agricultural or industrial reasons. Seven days after designations are posted will be allowed for filing claims. Then there will be an additional allowance of ten days for filing proofs, and the board must decide within three days after the proof is filed.

When the case of any registrant has been disposed of so far as the local board is concerned, the names of those not exempted or discharged will be posted. Claims for exemption for agricultural or industrial work must be made within five days after such posting and must go direct to the higher board sitting for the judicial district. Appeals from the rulings of local boards must be made to the higher board within ten days.

Not Immediate Summons.

The circular does not cover the summoning of the men for actual service, pointing out that selection and acceptance does not mean an immediate summons. Even the time of the drawing is not specified, but issuance of the circular is taken to mean that the work of selection may be in progress within a few days. Sept. 1 has been tentatively considered as the date for assembling the first half million men in cantonments for training.

The steps a registered person should take are set forth in great detail in the circular. First of all, the registrant is advised to find out the location of the office of his county or city local board and then ascertain, if he intends to claim exemption for agricultural or industrial reasons, to what district board he must apply.

Inspect the Lists.

"Every board has numbered the cards in its jurisdiction with red ink in a series running from one to the number representing the total number of cards in its jurisdiction," continues the circular. "Lists showing the names of persons in the jurisdiction of each board and the red ink number of each card are open to inspection at the office of each board. Inspect the list and inform yourself of your red ink serial number.

"These red ink numbers are to be drawn by lot to determine the order in which registered persons are to be called by the various local boards. As soon as the drawing is complete lists showing the order in which these red ink numbers are drawn will be published in the press and will be posted at the office of each local board. Go to your local board and find out the order in which you stand for call.

Posting Sufficient Notice.

"As soon as quotas are assigned to each state and each board, each board will call upon persons whose cards are in its jurisdiction, instructing them to present themselves for examination. This call will be posted at the local board and the papers will be requested to print it. A notice will also be mailed you, but the posting of the list at the office of the board will be deemed sufficient notice to charge you with the duty of presenting yourself. . . Watch the lists at the office of your board and see when you are called for examination.

"You must report for physical examination on the day named in your call.

"If you are found physically disqualified the board will give you a certificate which will explain to you what your further duties are.

Filing of Exemption Claims.

"If you are found physically qualified and file a claim for exemption within seven days after your call you will be given ten days after filing your claim of exemption to file proof in support of your claim of exemption.

"If you are found physically qualified and file no claim for exemption, or if you do not appear for physical examination, your name will be posted to the district board as one who was called for military service and was not exempted or discharged. One the eighth day after the call, or within two days thereafter, copies of the list of persons so posted to the district boards will be given to the press with a request for publication, will be posted in a place at the office of the local board accessible to the public view, and notice will be mailed to you at the address on your registration card.

"Therefore watch the notices posted in the office of the board about ten days after the day you were called and make arrangements for the prompt receipt of mail."

Method of Appeal Made Plain.

The grounds for exemption are set forth in the same language as in the preliminary regulations issued a week ago. The circular says the methods of proving exemptions will be detailed to the registrant and blanks furnished on application to the local board. The method of appeal also will be made plain, and it is set forth that appeals must be made within ten days after the local board has refused exemption, that the proof must be filed within another five days, and that a decision must be made five days thereafter.

"Only the district board," concludes the circular, "can receive claims for discharge on the ground that you are engaged in industry, including agriculture.

Final Notice by Mail.

"Only decisions of district boards on industrial claims for discharge can be appealed. If you desire to appeal the decision of the district board to the president, you may do so within seven days of the date of mailing to you of the decision of the district board. . . As soon as your case is finally disposed of, the adjutant general of your state will notify you by mail that you have been selected for military service.

"Notice that you have been selected for military service will not necessarily order you into service. Notice to report for military service will ocme when the government is ready to receive you."

ELLER WANTS TO BE LEGISLATOR, INSIDER SAYS

So His Rival, Smejkal, Got Him on Exemption Board.

A bit of political maneuvering, according to the "grapevine" crowd in the Seventeenth legislative district, was partly responsible for the refusal of Morris Eller, Mayor Thompson's city sealer, to serve on the exemption board in the Forty-fourth draft district.

Eller, according to political gossip that was heard east of the south branch of the river yesterday, has his eye on the legislature. It is commonly reported that he intends to make the race next year in opposition to Edward J. Smejkal, the veteran member of the lower house from this district.

Bipartisan Deal.

This district—the Seventeenth—has had a bipartisan deal on for many years. It is heavily Democratic. But by manipulating the minority representation scheme the one Republican elected in this district has had an easy time of it.

Usually the two organizations—Republican and Democratic—get together here and nominate only three candidates—two Democratic and one Republican. It is not a propitious spot for the independent aspirants, and as three members must be elected from this district the elections practically are determined at the primary.

The Democratic senatorial committee, by declaring for only two nominations, and the Republican committee, by declaring for only one, cinch the election when the primary votes are counted.

Plot by Smejkal?

Smejkal has been the Republican member from this district for a great many years, owing to the entente cordiale that exists between the two organizations, and is accounted one of the more influential members of the house.

Eller now is said to have designs on Smejkal's seat, and sees a good opportunity to win the nomination on the anti-war issue. According to city hall philosophy, this district will respond quickly to the anti-war stuff, particularly since there are a lot of pacifists, Socialists, and out-and-out Germans in this neck of the woods.

One report is that Smejkal recommended Eller to Gov. Lowden with the idea that it would put Eller out of business as a legislative candidate if he served on the board.

Eller was too foxy, one of his acquaintances told THE TRIBUNE last night, and sidestepped this "political deadfall."

Mr. Smejkal could not be reached last night, and what may have been his object in recommending Eller could not be ascertained.

Two More Districts In.

Two more districts reported the completion of the preliminary work yesterday, bringing the total up to eleven out of eighty-six. It is expected that today most of the boards will have finished the preparation of the lists. An effort will be made to have all the lists in shape for forwarding to Washington by the middle of the week. The corporation counsel's office will remain open until midnight for the receipt of the lists.

Hassel's Twice-a-Year sale of fine shoes begins today

THERE are so many men who know from past experience what the announcement of Hassel's Twice-a-Year Sale means, we're inclined to think that many will consider this one of the important pieces of news in today's paper.

Here are more than 50,000 pairs of shoes to be sold; the prices have been $5, $6, $7, $8, $9, $10, $12; and as shoe-prices and shoe-costs stand today these prices were fair to our customers.

We are marking down all the prices on these shoes. You may take them now at $3.85, $4.85, $5.85, $7.85, $9.85

There's no man in Chicago, whatever his taste in style, leather, shape; whatever his size, who cannot find the shoe he wants among these.

Walk over this way and take a look at our windows; see the variety and the quality.

The price of leather has gone up and up rapidly, until shoe prices were forced up to unheard of prices; but the shoes we are offering you now were contracted for by us before the big rise in leather prices began, and we are going to give you the double advantage in this sale—the usual advantage of regular reductions which have made HASSEL shoe sales famous and the advantage that we secured by making these early contracts. Our advice is "Buy HASSEL shoes now for present needs and for the future!"

WAR GOVERNMENT.

The announcement that Secretary Redfield is to be the head of the export council does not encourage the hope that Mr. Wilson has gained any clearer sense of the weakness of his official family or has any intention of strengthening it. Secretary Redfield, as Chicago had occasion to feel acutely at the time of the Eastland disaster, is not the sort of man to be entrusted with a service in which tact and sound judgment are requisite. The export council, which will have to pass upon the claims of neutrals for the supply of necessaries, has one of the most difficult and delicate tasks arising out of our present relations and responsibilities. Serious injury will be done to our cause and to our commercial future by blundering. Secretary Redfield has shown himself to be of small caliber, yet opinionated and lacking in sense of proportion. His attitude toward the Eastland tragedy was that of a stubborn bureaucrat, and it was aggravated by an offensive and unfeeling levity.

The department of commerce announces through the official bulletin that "in due time an advisory board will be named of high class men of recognized ability." This statement provides about all the comfort to be derived from the situation, and we hope the "due time" will be brief and the personnel of the board of the quality promised. But even though this be the case, the desirability of a general overhauling of the cabinet remains.

The creation of advisory boards to assist the political executives is indeed a necessity of our situation. The nation has never before undertaken responsibilities so enormous as it now bears. The normal machinery of administration is wholly inadequate to solve war problems. Its personnel is mediocre, and must be while political considerations control public appointments. This war demands the very best brains of the nation, and the very best brains of the nation are not often found in politics or in public service dominated by politics. Our tasks of supply are so difficult, furthermore, that industrial and commercial captains alone can solve them. Hence the adoption of the advisory board idea.

This idea, however, has not been put into full operation. The advisory board of the council of national defense is in danger of political interference not only from jealous congressmen, who are afraid of losing political perquisites, but also from political executives bent upon gaining political influence. Both dangers would be greatly diminished if the president would weed out the men in executive office who have not won intelligent public confidence.

We believe, nevertheless, that the situation at Washington gives cause for optimism. If politics, officialism, and personal pull still play too great a part, there at least has been a good beginning upon a better system for public expenditure and the mobilization and control of the national resources. There is bound to be great confusion and delay and many mistakes wasteful in time and money. But that has always been the case in our wars because of our refusal to prepare in time of peace. This time we are beginning to work on right lines. The adoption of conscription at the beginning of the war is a long step towards efficiency and justice. The advisory board of the council of national defense is nothing less than a life saver. Without it millions would have been thrown away which now will be saved, and, what is even more important, months of precious time will be saved. The public should understand this and give its vigorous support to these essential advances in our policy and organization.

The great danger lies, as always, in official jealousy and politics. These are working to defeat the new system. It is up to the people to repudiate attacks upon this system, and it is up to the president to fortify public confidence by the appointment of the highest grade men to sit at his council table.

SPYING ON SPIES.

Conan Doyle could hardly have turned out a better series of detective stories than those in Lord Northcliffe's recent discourse on spy-hunting. Along with other revelations, they portray what might be termed the super-detective, who camps on the trail not of mere criminals but of highly skilled sleuths. Just now he is watching the cables.

For, with passenger service and mail service interrupted, German spies cannot go to Germany carrying dispatches written in invisible ink on the soles of their feet or with plans of fortifications ingeniously disguised in sketch books. The super-detective can no longer swoop down on a suspicious looking artist, grab his drawings, and find a fortress cleverly diagrammed in the veining of a butterfly's wing or in the design of a stained glass window. He can no longer intercept such sketches in letters. But there remains the cable, and he devotes his attention chiefly to that.

He notes, for example, that "darling mother," who was "desperately ill" in Wednesday's dispatch is "off golfing" on Thursday. A visit to the sender and the capture of his code proclaim "darling mother" a U-boat. Or, again, "father" catches cold, develops grippe, grows worse, and dies. As the dispatches proceed from a suspicious source, the super-detective has the operator make the last one "father deceased" instead of "father dead," and immediately comes a query from across the Atlantic, "Is father deceased or dead?"

Obviously, a code. But, once you know that much, you have your hands full decoding the dispatch. A single key will not serve. You must have seven, one for each day in the week. This applies especially to numbers. If a cable says, "Uncle Fritz expected on the 18th," 18 is itself a cipher. To read it, you may have to add 3 on Sunday, divide by 9 on Monday, or multiply by 4 on Tuesday.

Happily our super-detectives are not learning their trade from the bottom up, as the English did. In a phrase dear to marines, they have "come in by the cabin windows." All the experience accumulated by secret service men in the allied countries is at their disposal. They should be first rate professionals by this time. As a matter of fact, they are.

BOOZE REFORM.

The senate proposal to prohibit whisky and other distilled spirits is a move in the right direction. We do not believe beer and light wines should be prohibited, at least for the present. But we think it would be unfortunate to allow the manufacturers to raise the alcoholic content of these drinks by the addition of distilled spirits. The chief value of the proposed legislation is the opportunity to bring about booze reform, but the reform won't amount to much if wine containing 20, 30, or 40 per cent alcohol can be made and sold.

The solution of the liquor problem may lie in prohibiting all ardent drinks and permitting only the sale of beverages of slight alcoholic content. The United States now has the chance to make the experiment. But in making the experiment congress should take precautions not to leave any loopholes for Demon Rum and his allies to crawl through.

The question of the disposition of distilled spirits already manufactured is a difficult one to decide. The liquor traffic, of course, does not deserve any tender consideration, but as a matter of justice and expediency, it would probably be unwise to confiscate the millions of gallons of liquor in storage without some compensation.

The claim is made that many banks have advanced loans on distilled spirits in bond. If no compensation is paid to enable the distillers to meet these loans, it is obvious the country might suffer to some extent from the financial shock. Moreover, the United States has hitherto recognized the liquor traffic as a legal business, and we have collected millions of dollars of taxes from it. The plea that it is only fair to meet part of the cost entailed by the destruction of the industry is logical.

Our principal concern, however, is to get rid of booze and get rid of it for good.

FEUDALISM IN ENGLAND AND GERMANY.

Elsewhere on this page we print a letter in which Mr. J. M. Armstrong describes English feudalism as worse than German feudalism and accuses us of "stultifying ourselves by following the British system of falsehood" in a recent editorial.

Much that Mr. Armstrong writes about England is true. We admit it; nor do we adore English feudalism. The system of landholding in England is abhorrent to Americans. The hereditary house of lords is abhorrent. But it has been stripped of autocratic power, whereas the German senate has not. Moreover, the British cabinet resigns the instant it finds itself without a majority in parliament. Germany has no cabinet. It has only a chancellor, and the chancellor is responsible to the emperor alone. In a word, the British parliament rules the British empire through the cabinet, the king being a mere relic. The kaiser rules the German empire through highly trained officials whom he appoints and who are not controlled by the German parliament. The British government is a disguised republic, the German government a disguised autocracy, and but thinly disguised at that. Theodor Wolff, editor of the Berlin Tageblatt and a conservative, calls the German government "a conservative bureaucratic régime, where parliament may only talk but has no voice in affairs, and where decisions of war and peace are taken in secret and without any coöperative representatives of the people. The franchise may be the most liberal in the world but is deprived of value by a cunning division of electoral districts."

A further point: we are not at war with Great Britain. There is no risk of our being incorporated into a world-wide British empire. There is serious risk of our being incorporated into a world-wide German empire. So it strikes us that, instead of comparing the German system with the British system, it is more profitable to compare it with the American system. Here is the issue: If victorious in this war, German autocracy will supplant American democracy. That, in our judgment and Mr. Armstrong's verbiage, would be "hell's abomination." To prevent that abomination we have entered the war and purpose to stay in it until "the world is made safe for democracy."

REGULAR OFFICERS FOR THE GUARD.

The report that the Third Illinois artillery, N. G., must find its officers within the guard is not encouraging. The great shortage of regular officers is one of the deplorable facts of our unpreparedness which we must recognize. But, without unjust disparagement of the civilian soldier, we cannot help urging upon the war department that regulars be distributed among the guard and national army. There are far from enough to go around, but, if possible, there should be a regular officer in every regiment. This will produce a higher standard of efficiency and esprit, if only by rivalry. There should be enough captains to make colonels, and so on.

We have no desire to be suspicious or captious, but there have already appeared signs that considerations other than those of maximum efficiency are preventing the assignment of regular officers to higher rank in national guard organizations. We hope they will disappear. The general staff is on trial and the whole regular establishment. They have no more tried friend than THE TRIBUNE and it is with good will we express the hope that the official jealousies and susceptibilities which are unfortunate even in peace time are inexcusable now. The rules of seniority are not sacred. The welfare of the army and the cause of the nation alone are sacred.

The national guard will be the first to take its place by the side of the regular army in the firing line. It should be as well officered as circumstances will permit.

RHAPSODY BY MARSE HENRY.

[From the Louisville Courier-Journal.]

America will come to the rescue. The single solvent nation, enriched beyond the dreams of avarice—Democracy secure—we shall at once set ourselves to works of reconstruction in each and every stricken land. Flanders shall bloom again. The waste places in the Balkans shall be filled. France, with redoubled might of soul, shall feel her heart swell as she beholds the seed sown by Lafayette and Rochambeau, long buried, spring like magic into a recreating harvest. From Dunkirk to Marseilles, from Brittany to Savoie, there shall be once more the old rejoicing of "song and dance and sunburnt mirth"; the Champs Elysees restored; the lights of the Boulevards blazing anew from the Place de la Concorde to the Column in the Place de la Bastille, the Fourth of July and the Fourteenth of July blended into a common national holiday.

Within his greenwood keep.

I feel the hour's a casket
Wherein its jewels rare
Are mine, if I but ask it,
And show for them I care.
As June doth put a blossom
Into her shining hair,
I take them to my bosom
And happily I wear.
I hang them round my sorrows
Like carcanets of light;
I keep them for those morrows
Whose feet are shod with night;
And in their glories blended,
By spirits kind attended,
I climb the pathway splendid,
And hope to gain the height.

THE TRAIL OF A COLD.

A CHILD 6 years of age has an afternoon temperature reaching as high as 102. The temperature goes down at night, remains off until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and then starts another cycle. When the temperature rises she complains of earache. The mother has heard that laudanum on cotton is good for earache and she tries it with success. She becomes suspicious of malaria because of the daily rise of temperature at 2 o'clock.

The mother takes the child to a physician on account of the earache. He examines the right ear, finds it red and bulging, and punctures it to allow the pus to escape. From that time on pus pours from the right ear. But the afternoon temperature continues. As before the puncturing, the mornings are comfortable and fever free. Pressure on the bald knob back of the right ear reveals tenderness. It is decided that the infection has spread to the mastoid. An operation is done draining pus that is found in the mastoid.

For a day the fever does not rise. Then again at 2 in the afternoon the temperature comes up. Pain in the left ear is complained of. Examination of this ear shows a very red ear drum. This drum is punctured. The ear discharges freely. A day of comfort comes. Then the afternoon rise of temperature is resumed. Tenderness of the left mastoid is found. Four days after the first operation on a mastoid the other mastoid is opened up and drained. As soon as the shock of that operation is over the child commences to improve.

And now to go back. The child is of a family that is prone to ear troubles and deafness coming on in middle life. It has had several colds during the winter. Adenoids began to enlarge. The spring is a late one. The family live in a rented apartment. The lease calls for heat until the first day of May. After the 1st of May there is no heat. It is a cold spring. There are many frosts in May and early June. About the middle of May there is a light snow. The apartment cannot be heated except by steam. The gas is kept going in the kitchen stove, but that is not sufficient. During the day the child is bundled up and kept out of doors, but the early morning and late afternoon hours must be spent indoors. The child contracts a bad cold. The nose continues to run. There is sore throat. Examination of the throat shows enlarged nostrils and adenoids.

The sequence is as follows: The unheated apartment was responsible for the cold. The infection called a cold caused enlargement of the adenoids and tonsils. The infection traveled up the eustachian tube from the throat to the middle ear. It then traveled from the middle ear to the mastoid cells. About the time of the operation on the right ear it started on a second journey up the other tube into the other ear and the mastoid.

INFECTION BELOW SKIN.

Mrs. W. T. writes: "My eyes have been weak for many years (I am 42), and I wear glasses, but can only use my eyes a certain amount. When I roll the eyeballs around I notice a pain as of rheumatism, slight, but there.

"Several weeks ago, after I had strained my eyes by considerable use, for them, and had also taken a cold, my left eyelid began to puff out above the eye and in a few hours that eye was swollen shut. Next day the puffiness worked around to the bridge of my nose and around to my cheek. I put on hot applications, and in a few days it went away.

"Now for a week or so I notice that my left eyelid seems to be puffed a little in the upper inner corner. It is quite noticeable, and more so in the morning.

"Can you tell me what would cause the first extreme swelling, and if this latter has any serious significance. I am not a strong woman, but feel all right if I do not work too long or too hard. Have rheumatism in winter."

REPLY.

I judge that you had an infection of the tissues just below the skin. The infection started in the corner of the eye. It is probable that the infecting germ was the streptococcus of erysipelas or some closely related germ. While the present condition is in no sense alarming, I think your eyes need attention.

LEUKOPLAKIA.

B. M. D. writes: "Will you kindly tell me if leukoplakia is curable, or what one may expect from this trouble? Is it rare? Am a woman of 51 years, always been frail. Seven months ago had all of my teeth extracted under anesthetic. The gums healing all right about three months after this trouble appeared. It is now in bad form. Physician here don't know but very little of this trouble. Any information on this will be very thankfully received by me."

REPLY.

Leukoplakia is of no consequence on account of what it is. It is of consequence on account of what may develop out of it. It generally results from smoking. It may result from jagged teeth. Any irritating teeth should be drawn. Anders recommends touching the patch with tincture of iodine two or three times a week. If the patch becomes sore it should be cut out.

PHYSICIAN REQUIRED.

E. writes: "If a person has a stricture of the uretha, is there any way to get rid of it without having the doctor use the sounds, as I imagine this is quite a painful operation?"

REPLY.

There is nothing to do except to have your physician care for you.

LADY WENTWORTH'S death at White Heather, her picturesque place near Ascot, cuts off another link with the poet, Lord Byron.

She was his great-granddaughter, being descended from the marriage of his only daughter, Ada, to William Noel, first Earl of Lovelace. Ada, who had inherited her mother's ancient barony of Wentworth, had three children by her marriage to Lord Lovelace, namely, Byron Noel, who succeeded his grandmother, the wife of the poet, as twelfth Lord Wentworth, and who died unmarried; Ralph, who followed his brother as thirteenth Baron Wentworth, and his father as second Earl of Lovelace, and Lady Anne Noel, the wife of Wilfred Blunt. Ralph, thirteenth Baron Wentworth, and second Earl of Lovelace, had an only child, Ada, who succeeded to her father's barony of Wentworth, as a peeress in her own right, the earldom of Lovelace going to his half brother.

This Ada Lady Wentworth never married, and is now succeeded in the barony of Wentworth by her aunt, Lady Anne Blunt, a granddaughter of the poet.

Lady Anne has now, therefore, become a peeress in her own right, and having no son by her marriage to Wilfred Blunt, formerly of the British diplomatic service, will be succeeded in her peerage as its sixteenth holder by her daughter, Judith, wife of the Hon. Neville Lytton, younger brother of the Earl of Lytton and a lieutenant colonel of the Sussex regiment, with which he has been serving since the beginning of the war, having only lately recovered from a very severe wound received at the front in France.

Next to Mrs. Neville Lytton in the line of succession to the barony of Wentworth, which dates from 1529, is her eldest little boy, Noel Lytton, who, if he lives, may expect to become seventeenth Lord Wentworth.

The Neville Lyttons, who paid a prolonged visit to America four years ago, were neither of them 20 years of age at the time of their marriage in Egypt and spent their honeymoon in the most romantic fashion at Matarieh, a village some distance from Cairo, where Mrs. Lytton's parents, Wilfred Blunt and Lady Anne, now Baroness Wentworth, own an entirely oriental home, in which they reside half the year, wholly as Arabs, restricting their associations as far as possible to the natives.

Transatlantic tourists in Egypt will remember Matarieh in connection with the sacred tree there, which is under the care of the Lazarist Fathers, and in the hollow of which, according to pious tradition, the founder of Christianity and his mother concealed themselves when pursued by the soldiers of King Herod after the massacre of the innocents.

The story goes that spiders quickly spun their webs across the opening of the tree in such a fashion as to convince the pursuers of the infant savior that nobody could be concealed inside.

Much of Mrs. Lytton's childhood and girlhood were spent at Matarieh and also in the desert of Arabia, where her parents were for the last forty years, at any rate until the beginning of the present war, welcome and honored guests amongst the most fanatic of Arab tribes. She talks Arabic and also Turkish, like a native; is an adept in Arab lore and customs, and wears the native dress as if to the manner born.

Both Mrs. Lytton and her husband excel in the game of racquets. She was the woman racquet champion in Great Britain and he the amateur champion of England, in addition to which he is a clever painter, an adept player on the flute, a perfect dancer, and a charming poet, having inherited his gift of poetry from his father, the late Earl Lytton, who died as ambassador in Paris after being Viceroy of India, and who is perhaps best known on this side of the Atlantic under the pen name of "Owen Meredith."

The first Lord Lytton, that is to say, Neville Lytton's grandfather, was the one time celebrated novelist who wrote "The Last of the Barons," "The Last Days of Pompeii," "Ernest Maltravers," etc.

Neville Lytton and his wife make their home at Crabbet Park, a grand old place in Sussex, which Blunt made over some time ago to his only daughter and to her husband. The house is full of relics of the poet Byron, is rambling and picturesque, betraying the architecture of many different periods, owing to the additions which it has received from time to time. The grounds and woods are beautiful and include a large lake, where numerous water fowl find a sanctuary, while the terraces and lawns command the finest views in the south of England.

Crabbet Park's principal title to fame, however, is its stud of Arabian horses of the purest breed, owing to which it has enjoyed an altogether international celebrity and the sales of Arab stock which used to take place there every three or four years prior to the present war were invariably attended by horse lovers from all parts of Europe.

Long regarded throughout Arabia as the most powerful and devoted friend and champion of the Arab and Egyptian races, Wilfred Blunt was able to obtain from the various chiefs and emirs stallions and, above all, mares of the most famous and purest breed; horses with pedigrees as highly prized as those of the descendants of the prophet's family, and which not even the sultans of Turkey or of Egypt could buy.

Moreover, Blunt managed to secure the entire stud of Arab horses belonging to Ali Shereef, pasha of Cairo, whose stock was descended from the famous mares which Abbas I. of Egypt obtained from Arabia more than four score years ago at the then phenomenal cost of $600,000.

This will show that the Blunts are entitled to speak with authority on the subject of Arab horses, and in the controversy in which the American cartoonist and importer of Arab horses, Homer Davenport, was imprudent enough to embark with Lady Anne, Baroness Wentworth, some ten years ago, he got distinctly the worst of it.

Wilfred Blunt and Lady Wentworth now divide their time between their other country seat in Sussex, a wonderful old manor house near Horsham, bearing the curiously inappropriate name of New Buildings place, and Matarieh, their Egyptian home near Cairo.

Blunt is one of the most picturesque characters in English life. He is scion of an old Catholic family which takes high place among the untitled aristocracy of Great Britain, and has been established in Sussex for hundreds of years.

He is most gifted, most wrongheaded, and always the champion of causes that appeal to sympathy. Needless to add that the wrongs of Ireland have appealed to him, and he was the first man to be arrested in Ireland under the terms of the coercion act.

SUE IN SMALL CLAIMS COURT.

Chicago, July 6.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Please tell me what action is necessary to sue for unpaid rental. Must one secure the services of an attorney or can the matter be taken up direct with the Municipal court? If the latter, which is the proper official to consult?

You might sue in the small claims division of the Municipal court. See the clerk of that court, eighth floor, city hall. Most written leases provide for a confession of judgment against a tenant with attorney fees.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

ELECTION LAWS TO BLAME.

South Bend, Ind., July 6.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Until two months ago the writer was a resident of southern Illinois. Naturally, I have been interested in the riot at East St. Louis. Not less is my interest in the cause of the riot. In your editorial of today you say: "The riot was a direct and inevitable result of unscrupulous political manipulation." Then you seek to localize the responsibility at East St. Louis. Mr. Hyde also only partly touches upon the cause when he speaks of thousands of dollars being spent at the elections. He and you are radically wrong in localizing the responsibility where you have. The blame reaches clear up to Chicago and other places in the state where no protests have been made against conditions that have made such "political manipulation" possible. Nor is THE TRIBUNE blameless. Where have you ever protested against the election laws of Illinois? Where is there another state disgraced by such enactments?

The statutes of Illinois make the vote seller amenable, but they also make the vote buyer immune. To stop a hundred illegal votes it should be only necessary to prosecute the buyer, but under the Illinois laws it is necessary to prosecute the hundred sellers, while the buyer cannot be touched. A prosecutor of southern Illinois told me that he could not get a jury "to convict a poor Nigger who has sold his vote while the buyer would be immune, and besides I would resign before I would prosecute such a case." From the viewpoint of fair play, no one can blame him. On the other hand, in all probability the prosecutor and the trial judge may have bought the seller's vote.

Now, what are the facts in regard to "political manipulation" of the Negro? East St. Louis is typical. Candidates have preyed upon his weakness. The law encourages the strong to tempt the weak and the politician to corrupt the "low down Nigger." In no other state does this occur, and therefore the Negro goes to Illinois. There they are used and bought wholesale. Then, when the inevitable eruption takes place, there is a half hearted "investigation" by officials, some of whom are believed to have bought the votes of "the Nigger." Nor is the blame for vote buying confined to the politicians of St. Clair county, but people wonder how much money was sent by state candidates down there for that purpose. Also people wonder how many of the state officials who are now "probing" the affair are beneficiaries of the votes so bought.

The general public has very little faith in such investigations under such circumstances. A letter from a prominent politician of southern Illinois is just at hand, in which he says: "I can predict the result of the probe before it is begun." Of course, some one will be made the goat. But what about the legislature that permits such laws to be unrepealed? What about the governor and attorney general who never recommend a change of such laws? And what about a newspaper like the W. G. N. that never raises its voice in protest against a law that authorizes "unscrupulous political manipulation"?

Politicians of Illinois are crying out against the primary law as too expensive. Why is it so expensive to candidates? Because they have to buy votes twice to be elected. Just as long as the fundamentals of government, the election laws, are unjust, just that long will there be a maladministration of government.

HURTING PRO-GERMAN FEELINGS.

Chicago, July 6.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I saw "The Little American" at one of the Evanston theaters. It is a wonderful production and a play that every one should see, Germans included.

If Maj. Funkhouser regarded this play in the true American spirit he would feel it his duty to exhibit it.

It might hurt the feelings of pro-Germans of Editor Brand's type, but to the Germans who are loyal to the land of their adoption it would only inspire to do all in their power to help our country and allies win this war.

DAUGHTER OF '17.

TIME, INDEED.

Chicago, July 6.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—How much longer are the red blooded Americans going to stand for this dirty treatment of pro-Germanism by a lot of boot licking pro-kaiserites? Are we to be made subservient to everything pro-German? It will soon be a case of lese majesty to display the American flag in Chicago if loyal Americans don't take a hand and slam these anti-Americans where they belong.

We have had pro-German meetings galore; let us have a pro-[illegible] meeting now and tell a few of these Funkhousers, Bittelbergs, Bohms, and Rohms where to get off. Forsooth we must not invite our allies' [illegible] here because this is the sixth largest German city in the world. Our mayor vilifies our president and his dirty sheet attacks everything American weekly.

Now this patriot-German-censor says we can't see a popular film because it is anti-German. I ask again how long are we going to stand for this kind of bunk. Reverse conditions and how long would such people as the Funkhousers be at large in Germany? What we need is a loyalty league to take charge of affairs of this kind. Is Chicago a dependency of Germany or is it a red blooded American city? It is about time we settled this question.

T. B. [illegible]

HE WANTS THE TRUTH.

Chicago, July 4.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—You stultify yourself by following the British system of falsehood which is demoralizing the world. Your Sunday editorial on "German Feudalism" is an instance.

Part of what you say is true as to Germany, but it falls far short of the truth if applied to England. The Russian peasant has been oppressed by the feudal lord, but the English masses have been cursed by a feudal aristocracy and an industrial plutocracy incomparably the worst in the world.

Travel about the country of Kent, the richest in England, and you scarcely see man, woman, or child in the fields. Consult the Statesman's Year Book, a British publication, and it will tell you that in 1907 nearly [illegible] were employed in the lands of Germany, while little more than [illegible] were employed in the lands of England.

About one-third of the adult male population of England are denied the franchise, while in Germany there is universal manhood suffrage.

England, the empire, all the seas and nearly all the world are governed by the British ruling class through the upper house of parliament—the lords—some 580 of them. They are not elected nor appointed; they are hereditary. The most despicable specimen of man in America might have been a member of the house of lords had he been born in England. They have the veto power over the house of commons, a mere talking body.

They own the land, the wealth, and the extraordinary power of caste in England. They have shorn of his power the king, who is the figurehead not of democracy but of the aristocracy. Each one of them is a kaiser in himself.

In Germany there are twenty owners of land to one in England. The upper house there, the bundesrath, is composed of representatives annually appointed. Not ideal, but vastly better than in England. They pride themselves in their work, while in England the mark of distinction is idleness.

Into Germany there has been immigration of 500,000 annually, while out of England there has been emigration of half that number.

Let's have the truth. The American people like it. They are surfeited with British falsehood. It is hell's abomination.

J. M. ARMSTRONG.

INCOMPETENCE OF GUARDS.

Chicago, July 5.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The East St. Louis affair has clearly demonstrated that our [illegible] is, in the main, wholly incompetent even as a preventive of disorder, [illegible] that those officers who have not seen service under the direction and authority of commanders in the service of the regular army of this government (the United States army) are not to be trusted with the lives of any men who, unfortunately, may have to serve under them on the battlefields of France.

It is a proven fact that [illegible] months' course in a training camp is infinitely of greater advantage and value than several years' service in the national guard.

H. H. M.

RUBBING IT IN.

Atlanta, Ga., July 3.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Most remarkable, isn't it? The riot really happened—not in Georgia—but in the "holier than thou" state of Illinois. Perhaps you will be writing some more of those [illegible] editorials—not. Perhaps that noble blood (?) which courses through the veins of your editors has found its way down to East St. Louis instead of having been mixed with that of the lowest element of Georgia.

Again we say—most remarkable, isn't it?—it really happened in Illinois.

ONE OF YOUR GEORGIA ADMIRERS (?).

'AVENGE RAIDS,' THE CRY HEARD IN ALL ENGLAND

Press and Public Join in Demand for More Aerial Guards.

LONDON, July 8.—An intensified demand for reprisals has followed the air raid of yesterday. All of the Sunday newspapers declare the people of London are furious at the inadequacy of the city's defense as it was revealed yesterday.

The Sunday Times says the crying need of 1917 is for airplanes as it was for shells in 1915, and declares the government must be compelled to realize that the airplane will be the ultimate and deciding factor of the war. It insists that thousands must be built with the help of America to carry the war into enemy territory. An aviation expert says in an article in the Times:

"There is a huge output to be had from America if our new ally will consent to accept ready-made designs from Europe and not insist on wanting to do her own experimenting."

Attack in Leisurely Way.

Lloyd's News, also demanding greater airplane production, says:

"The raiders yesterday came at their leisure and bombed at their leisure. Their flight over London was so slow that it looked like a parade. They seemed to despise our defenses."

The Observer asserts that most of the enemy machines were comparatively slow biplanes and that the fast British machines made rings around them. It is held that the low altitude maintained by the Germans showed their contempt for the city's defenses.

The Journal quotes the lord mayor as saying that the case of reprisals has been enormously strengthened by yesterday's happenings.

Says Public Is Revengeful.

Reynolds' newspaper suggests it would have been well if members of the war cabinet and the government had gone among the people and heard their comments on the defenseless state of the capital.

"The man who would attempt to justify yesterday's defensive operations by the requirements of the army in France would rejoice if the crowds left him untarred," the newspaper declares. "Among street groups the feeling is one of enlightened and unanimous bitterness.

"Every Londoner recognizes that yesterday's raid was one of deliberate murder and terrorism. If there was military damage it was only a modicum. The man in the streets wants a policy of reprisals on Rhenish towns put into effect immediately."

Kennedy Jones, director of food economy, speaking at Muswell Hill, a suburb of London, said there must be no more shilly-shallying with the question of reprisals.

Royal naval airplanes carried out a raid last night on the Ghistelles airdrome, according to an official announcement by the admiralty today.

German Version of Attack.

BERLIN, July 8, via London.—One German airplane was lost in yesterday's raid on London and a British plane was shot down over the city, it is announced officially. The announcement also says no military damage was done by the aerial attacks on Friday night on German towns. The statement follows:

"On Friday night, in addition to bomb dropping near the front, there were encounters in German territory. Enemy aviators dropped more than 100 incendiary bombs in the Westphalian industrial region, on Treves and the neighborhood, and also on Mannheim, Ludwigshafen, and Rodalben. No military damage was caused. One enemy airplane fell into our hands.

"On the morning of July 7 one of our aviation squadrons attacked London. At 11 o'clock bombs were dropped freely on docks, harbor works, and warehouses on the Thames. Fires and explosions were observed. One British airplane was shot down over London. Bombs were dropped at Margate, on the east coast of England. Our airplanes all returned except one, which was compelled to make a descent to the sea and could not be saved by our naval forces.

"In aerial encounters at the front and by anti-aircraft fire the enemy yesterday lost nine airplanes."

Reports on Essen Raid.

AMSTERDAM, July 8.—A frontier correspondent of the Handelsblad reports that five persons were killed and several houses were destroyed during the bombardment of the German city of Essen, home of the great Krupp works, on Friday night. A correspondent of the Telegraaf says bombs were dropped on the Krupp works and that reports of damage inflicted are conflicting. Estimates of the number of attackers vary from fifteen to forty.

A semi-official German statement received here from Muenster, Westphalia, says:

"Enemy airplanes visited the industrial districts, dropping eight bombs and causing damage to the extent of 2,000 marks. No industrial works were hit and there were no casualties."

Attack on Cologne.

On Friday night entente airmen flew over the fortress region of Cologne, but no bombs were dropped, according to a semi-official statement received here from Berlin. Ludwigshafen and its environs were attacked by one airman, but the material damage there was slight and no persons were injured.

On their return the raiders approached Karlsruhe, but were driven off by artillery fire. They then dropped bombs on Treves, without an apparent objective, and most of the bombs fell without effect in the open country. Others caused damage to buildings and one child was killed and a man injured.

A French machine, the statement concludes, was forced to land near Saarburg, in the Rhine province, by fire from anti-aircraft guns. The two occupants of the machine were made prisoner.

Winnipeg, Man., July 8.—[Special.]—The latest official Canadian casualty list reports Private R. W. Henderson of Decatur, Ill., as among the wounded.

$1 WORTH OF JOY

Teacher's Greenback Brings a Ray of Light to Darkness to Katy Gubka's Desolate Home.

A DOLLAR bill lay in the purse of a Chicago woman—a schoolteacher. The greenback was old and wrinkled, and had undoubtedly been through a large number of very interesting adventures.

The schoolma'am picked up a copy of THE TRIBUNE and read about little Katy Gubka, 2640 West Fifteenth street, whose father had run away, whose mother was sick, whose landlord wants the family of Gubkas to move because they cannot pay rent, whose furniture man wants to take the furniture back for the same reason, whose gas man wants to shut off the gas for the same reason.

A pack of woe for a little girl 12 years old, who was so poor she had to have her picture taken in her skimpy little underdress, and who could not run about in the street, because she had no shoes.

So the schoolma'am sent the greenback to THE TRIBUNE, and she ddin't sign her name, so that Kate cannot thank her except as "The Lady Who Sent the Dollar." The dollar got Katie and her little family a regular meal yesterday, which isn't much, but it helps. O yes, you can still buy a meal for a dollar. Did Katy enjoy the meal? Look at the picture!

52 Arrested in Meeting to Fight Draft Freed

Philadelphia, Pa., July 8.—The fifty-two persons, including thirteen women, held yesterday under $1,000 bail each on charges of unlawful assemblage, were discharged after a hearing today. Investigation by federal authorities failed to reveal anything upon which to hold them further. All had attended an anti-draft meeting.

MILLION IN ONE CHANCE; VICTOR AGAINST DEATH

U. S. Pilot Stages Thriller in France; Machine Breaks in Two.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

FRENCH FRONT IN FRANCE, July 8.—Sergt. Andrew Campbell won in a fight with death, with the chances a million to one against him, while flying with the Lafayette squadrilla yesterday afternoon. The lower left wing of his airplane broke off when he was soaring a mile high. Only his complete presence of mind and coolness saved him.

Campbell threw all the controls on the other side and volplaned some distance, in order to detach the floating remnants of the broken wing, which were beating against the body of the machine and threatening to dislocate everything. Then, when he succeeded in this maneuver, he descended slowly on the remaining wing, without injury to himself. The slightest turn in the air would have meant death.

U. S. Flag for Lafayette Men.

This accident was preceded by the ceremony of the presentation of an American flag to the squadrilla by an employé of the treasury department at Washington. French and American aviators from several squadrillas were paraded on the flying grounds for the ceremony, which was a fine spectacle of the fraternity of the two nations. The famous Alpine band played the national anthems of both countries.

Before the ceremony Corporals Campbell, Bridgeman, Hewitt, Hinkle, and Drexel were promoted to be sergeants for bravery during recent operations.

Fight 17 Air Duels.

In the week from June 24 to June 30 they fought seventeen air duels, and as the result of their reconnaissances furnished the French with most valuable information. Lufbery and Willis had four engagements each, Bigelow and Lowell two each, Thaw, Havil, Soubiran, Hall, and the French Lieut. de Maison-Rouge one each.

Hall was decorated with the military medal for attacking single handed seven German airmen. Infantrymen stopped their fighting to watch the stirring combat, which ended in Hall being wounded in three places.

URGES GIANT AIR FLEET.

New York, July 8.—An increase to $2,000,000,000 in the appropriation for aeronautics in order "to make the fighting air forces of the United States effective in the war," was urged on President Wilson in a letter sent to him tonight by the Aero Club of America. The letter, which was made public tonight, was signed by Alan R. Hawley, president of the cl . It declares that 40,000 airplanes are needed "to train and equip 10,000 aviators to strike the German military centers on the western front," while the proposed aerial program "provides for the building of only 22,500 machines."

The president is informed by the club that it is of "absolute necessity that 10,000 naval aviators be trained and equipped so as to carry major aerial operations against the German fleet and U-boat bases."

HERE'S WAY TO ADDRESS CABLE TO MAN IN NAVY

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—A form of address for officers and men of the United States naval forces serving overseas has been approved by the secretary of the navy.

"Usnavforce London" is the code address for all cable messages intended for members of the United States naval forces abroad. The first words of the text will be the name of the individual [given name spelled out and middle initial] for whom the message is intended, followed by the message.

The name of the ship or station should not be included, and, except in cases of identical names, the rank or rating should not be included. The following is a sample message:

Address—"Usnavforce London."

Text—"Frank B. Howard. Informed examinations successfully passed."

Signature—"Raymond."

When there is a probability that two men in the service have identical surnames and initials, the name should be given in full, as: "Frank Barrett Smith," or the rank or rating should be given, as, for example, "Lieut. Frank B. Smith," or "Frank B. Smith, ordinary seaman."

Belgian Mission on West Coast.

Seattle, Wash., July 8.—The Belgian mission to the United States, headed by Baron Moncheur, arrived today from Spokane.

OFFICERS OF ENGINEERS GET COMMISSIONS

Col. Henry A. Allen, commanding the First Illinois Regiment of Engineers, last night received the list of officers of the regiment who have been commissioned. Col. Allen's commission headed the list and then that of Lieut. Col. Gordon Strong. These staff officers are named: Capt. Adjt. Berry W. Swain, Capt. Harry F. Hamlin, supplies; Chaplain Olin M. Caward, and Surgeon Major R. J. McDonnell.

The captains of line are Walter Roth, R. C. Allin, J. A. Rossiter, Walter H. Allen, and Bright Gallfell. Senior lieutenants are J. K. Thompson, Al H. Sheffield, Ross C. Harris, and John O'Connor. Junior lieutenants are L. J. Hughes, H. L. Hudson, H. L. Laughlin, and F. H. Cohn. Second lieutenants are V. A. Tomlinson, John H. Jacobsen, C. A. M. Waterhouse, and Walter H. Wood.

It was announced last night by Col. Allen that two-thirds of the commissioned officers of the regiment now have been named and that the remainder will be indicated as soon as he completes examinations.

"We need about 500 more enlisted men," said Col. Allen. "Inasmuch as this is a Chicago regiment we feel proud of the personnel and we are making a special effort to get the best men. We want enlisted men who are able to work with hand and brain."

——— during July, you may order your Royal tailored-to-measure clothes at practically "Cost-of-Production"

Today we are taking the men of Chicago "behind the scenes" in our cost accounting room. Here is a definite analysis of the cost of producing a Royal Tailored-to-Measure suit—according to present-day market prices.

It takes an average of 3½ yds. of cloth for a Royal Tailored suit (cost per yd., mill price, $2.80 net)	$ 9.80
Cost of linings, findings, etc. for suit, (net mill price)	3.95
Cost of cutting suit (highest standard of efficiency)	1.17
Cost of making coat (highest standard of efficiency, enormous production)	4.86
Cost of making vest (highest standard of efficiency)	1.13
Cost of making pants (highest standard of efficiency)	1.41
Total net cost (without overhead)	$22.32
Mf'g over-head cost 10%	2.23
Total net cost per suit	$24.55

It is not often that a big wholesaler invites the retail buyer into his private office to inspect his confidential cost records. Your average wholesaler feels that so long as he gives honest value, his costs are his own private business.

We feel, however, that our costs are your business, as well as ours. At no little sacrifice, we have been offering the men of Chicago a phenomenal value in clothes service, and we feel there is no better way to demonstrate that value than to submit a detailed audit of it.

The above figures make it clear that $25 no longer provides a business-man basis for producing and retailing high grade made-to-measure clothes.

It is imperative in these days of war-time costs to re-adjust this price.

But rather than jump it up over night, we are announcing the increase thirty days in advance. Meanwhile, all Chicago still has the opportunity to enjoy Royal Tailored Service at the old price of $25 per suit or overcoat—made-to-order.

This means "clothes-to-order" during July at bare "production cost" prices.

It means a $40 to $50 merchant tailored suit or overcoat at $25—a saving of $15 to $25 to you.

We have a selfish motive of course. It is a two-edged motive; on one side, to keep our vast tailoring shops humming with capacity activity during the dull summer months; on the other side, to make thousands of new converts to Royal Tailor Service.

This offer is good only within Chicago city limits—and only until August first. If you are a Chicagoan, take advantage of it to the limit—whether you are in immediate need of new clothes or not. Stock up your clothes closet for all of 1917 and 1918 at this "before-the-war" quotation. The price of men's clothes is going up faster than the price of wheat and potatoes. Your investment will save you 50% on next year's prices.

Two hundred fifty thousand dollars in Liberty Bonds

DURING the war, we will accept Liberty Bonds in payment for Royal clothes at one hundred cents on the dollar up to an aggregate of $250,000. You Liberty Bond holders, who may be short of ready cash right now may exchange a $50 Bond for two Royal suits or o'coats during this 30-day offer.

GENERAL STRIKE SOCIALIST PLAN TO FORCE PEACE

Will Call All Workers in Europe if Plea Is Refused.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT
(Special Cable to Chicago Tribune.)

STOCKHOLM, July 8.—Of the six delegates from the Russian workingmen's and soldiers' committee who either are in Stockholm or en route here for the Socialist preliminary peace conferences, five will proceed soon to London, Paris, and Rome to work for peace on the program of no annexations and no indemnities, and for the nationality principle among the Socialists of those countries.

No annexations, no indemnities, and the nationality principle are the fundamentals of the Socialists. It develops from today's discussions between the Russians and the German majority and minority delegates that the big immediate aim of all of the Socialists now conferring is to prevent another winter campaign.

With this purpose foremost, the Socialists are agreed that, however much they may disagree in the preliminary conferences or in the general conference, they will unanimously support the decisions which the general conference finally reaches.

General Strike Weapon.

Furthermore, if the warring governments refuse peace, socialism will attempt to draw the weapon which it believes will enforce peace—the weapon of a general European strike.

In other words, the representative Socialists agree that they are not obliged to agree on everything, but they do agree to give unanimous support to the conference's final decision.

In defining their authority to entertain such a proposition, the Russian delegates said: "We represent the power of the Russian masses," and they pointed significantly to an editorial printed in a newspaper representing M. Kerensky, the leader of the Russians, which said: "Vain are all of the efforts made in western Europe to distort the Russian democracy's aims. The Russian democracy will not even discuss it."

Would Give Back Colonies.

After the Russian Socialists had been welcomed by Herr Branting, the leader of the Scandinavian committee, they went into a conference with Hermann Muller, secretary of the German Socialist party, representing the German majority, and with Dr. Adler, representing the German and Austrian Socialists. Later they conferred with the German minority.

As a result of these conferences the Russians expressed the conviction that the German colonies must be returned to Germany. These Russian delegates were selected by the workingmen's and soldiers' committee and later confirmed by the whole body.

Swedish public opinion, though much disturbed by the American embargo on exports to the neutrals who possibly are engaged in trafficking with America's enemies, concedes the right of America to prevent the neutral from engaging in such traffic in products which have been received from America, but Sweden maintains that America has no right to prevent Sweden from sending its own products in order to get what she wants from Germany.

City of Boston Taken by Convention of Elks

Boston, Mass., July 8.—The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, represented by leading members from all parts of the country, held the center of the stage in this city today. Assembling for their national convention to be held here this week, large delegations from distant states have arrived and the royal purple of the order was in evidence throughout the city. Many buildings in the business section have been decorated in honor of the Elks.

'4 MINUTE MEN' 3,000 STRONG, TALK FOR U. S.

Food Conservation Their Conversation for This Week.

More than 3,000 men are now engaged in the campaign of the "Four-Minute-Men" to promote the work of the government during the period of the war by making short speeches in motion picture theaters. According to Chicago officers of the organization the movement, which had its inception in this city on the suggestion of Donald M. Ryerson, has now spread to the whole nation.

This week the "Four-Minute-Men" will talk on food conservation, each devoting four minutes in each theater assigned, giving details prepared by Herbert Hoover's bureau in Washington. While the original plan was to keep the public informed on the needs of the government in the way of recruits, the organization now has extended its work to include all matters pertinent to economy and war conservation.

Donald Ryerson, who has been compelled to forego his active support because he is in training for war service, is honorary chairman. George R. Jones is chairman; Ernest Palmer, vice chairman; Louis Mack, secretary, and Stephen Gardner, treasurer.

German Crops 60 Per Cent Below Normal: London

LONDON, July 8.—The British foreign office says advices from Germany indicate that the German agricultural production for the present year will not exceed 40 per cent of the normal crop.

The statement is significant, because the allied governments have taken especial pains to inform themselves concerning the economic conditions, and particularly the crop conditions, in the central empires.

It has long been known that the agricultural conditions in Germany were of the gravest character, but this official estimate is the lowest yet ventured.

PUNISHMENT FOR JACKIES PICKING NEGRO QUARRELS

Colored People, Both Men and Women, Claim Insults.

Bluejackets at the Great Lakes Naval training station who pick quarrels or offer unprovoked insults to Negroes, either in Chicago or on electric cars on the north shore, will be arrested and punished if complaints are made to the naval authorities at the station. A statement to this effect was forthcoming from Capt. W. A. Moffett yesterday after informal charges of offensive conduct toward Negroes on the part of some of the bluejackets had been made to him.

Details of bluejackets were immediately placed on the cars of the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad by Capt. Moffett after the complaints were made, with instructions that the names of the offending men be obtained and given to him. Other details were sent to Chicago with orders to arrest any bluejacket in the city seen under the influence of liquor or seeking trouble with Negroes.

Negroes whom bluejackets have encountered on the cars have been ordered in some instances to get off, Capt. Moffett said, and offensive remarks made to them.

Negroes employed at Fort Sheridan as cooks at the training camp complain that they have been attacked on the cars lately by bluejackets, and in other instances have been taunted and threatened with ropes. Negro women claim they have been insulted.

REICHSTAG TO FORCE REFORMS; CALL WAR HEADS

Parties Are Realigned to Democratize Germany.

pone the Saturday plenary session which was to have marked the opening of the general debate and the expected speech of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg.

The absence of the chancellor from the sessions of the main and constitutional committees in the last few days has caused general comment in parliamentary circles as exceptional in view of the confidential character of the discussions.

Late yesterday it was announced that the desire of the chancellor to inform himself more thoroughly on the nature of the committee conferences was responsible for the delay of the sessions.

CHANCELLOR MAKES SPEECH.

AMSTERDAM, July 8.—Berlin dispatches say that the reichstag main committee concluded yesterday its discussion in executive session of the war situation. Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg went to the reichstag building with all the secretaries of state and made a speech, after which many deputies spoke. The committee then adjourned.

PASSING THROUGH CRISIS.

COPENHAGEN, July 8.—Berlin undoubtedly is passing through a crisis on the question of internal reform, the conduct of the submarine war, and peace terms. A study and comparison of the various reports from Berlin and the more or less mysterious references to the confidential debate in the reichstag committee, however, give the impression that the gravity of the situation is overplayed by certain radical papers. The outstanding facts ascertainable through the doubly censored information emerging from Germany are these:

Mathias Erzberger, a prominent representative of the Clerical center, made a sensational speech in the secret session of the committee, attacking the admiralty and pan-Germans as the great obstacles to peace and advocating peace without annexations or indemnities and the introduction of parliamentarism.

Some Success for Hollweg.

Herr Erzberger, however, did not speak in behalf of his party, which would have meant that the imperial chancellor, Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, faced a hostile majority in the parliament, and Dr. Peter Spahn, president of the Clerical party and its floor leader, hastened to declare that the party as yet had taken no decision on the subjects raised in Herr Erzberger's speech.

Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg could, therefore, venture a flat refusal to commit himself to the program of peace without annexations or indemnities and to ambiguous declarations on the internal reform policy on the following day. The air was still full of electricity when the committee adjourned last night, but the tension was far lower than at the opening of the session, and the Clerical Germania, the organ of the moderate middle section of the Catholic party, was able to say that Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg's explanations and appeals were crowned by a certain measure of success and that the edge had been taken from the crisis.

Today Will Tell Story.

Tomorrow alone will show whether the Radical and Socialist forces, assisted by Herr Erzberger, are able to reinforce their attacks sufficiently to score any material success, or whether the crisis, like the Zabern storm, which it resembles in many respects, will lose its momentum and die out without results.

The most interesting feature of the whole crisis—what Erzberger had to say about the admiralty and the submarine campaign—cannot, unfortunately, be discussed with any clarity. The Berlin papers have evidently been prevented from saying a word about the subject matter of the speech and the replies of Vice Admiral von Capelle, minister of the navy and Dr. Helfferich, vice chancellor. The publication of the imperial chancellor's speech was also strictly prohibited.

FELLOWSHIPS IN FRANCE OFFERED

New York, July 8.—[Special.]—A committee of prominent Americans, headed by Charles A. Coffin, chairman of the General Electric company, has been formed to establish "in its proper place of eminence in the American public mind the standing and repute of French science and learning."

This is to be attempted by providing ten or more graduate fellowships for American students in French universities, to be awarded competitively every year for ten years, beginning this October. Each fellowship is to hold for two years, if desired.

Charles L. Hutchinson, vice president of the Corn Exchange National bank and president of the Art institute, and John V. Farwell, a member of the Yale university corporation, are the Chicago members.

"Faster Than Man and Motor Ever Went Before"

THAT was Ralph Mulford's experience in his recent race at the Chicago Speedway. The Chicago Tribune is authority for the headline.

Mulford made 200 miles in one hour, fifty-five and a fraction minutes—breaking a world's record—attaining an average speed of approximately 104 miles an hour.

Probably you'll never want to go 104 miles an hour, but you are interested greatly in the fact that Mulford's tank was filled and that if your engine is capable of developing that speed, you can make 104 miles an hour, if you want to, for the gasoline you buy at any of our 500 filling stations or garages in Chicago and suburbs is identical with the gasoline Mulford used.

With Red Crown Gasoline

The adjustment of the perfect chain of boiling point fractions is exactly the same.

There isn't a gap in the chain—each fraction vaporizing at a different temperature, giving an abundance of smooth, rythmic power—104 miles an hour of speed—and greater mileage per gallon.

The Standard Oil Company guarantees the uniformity of Red Crown Gasoline, everywhere and everywhere the same.

LABOR PICNIC CROWDS HEAR PEACE ORATORS

Fifty Secret Service Men Attend Massmeeting of Pacifists.

Denied the use of Cubs' park by Charles Weeghman, the delegates to the second peace conference betook themselves to Riverview park, where they were fortunate in pitching their stand close to a large picnic given by a labor organization. Upward of 2,700 persons deserted the picnic grounds and surrounded the platform.

Fifty secret service men were present. The "spielbinders" tried hard to keep the soft pedal on, but at times it looked as if the sky alone would be the limit.

Plenty of Resolving.

Resolutions demanding everything under the sun were passed and indorsed and extolled. Opposition to everything but a generous slice of capitalists' capital was voiced. A woman socialist from Canada said it was better to "be a martyr than a czar," while a man with a German name and a German accent and "a Pennsylvania ancestry of 200 years," said he did not fancy being a martyr and would rather have people say "There he goes" than "Doesn't he look natural."

As on Saturday, several terms of peace advocates were absent. Of the absent were Miss Jane Addams, Miss Mary McDowell, Jenkin Lloyd Jones, Mrs. Catharine Waugh McCulloch and Prof. Scott Nearing.

Boasts of His Ancestors.

Only once was there promise of excitement. This was when James Maurer, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, several times asked: "Who are you, to call me pro-German?" Nobody present had called him anything, but when he insisted on an answer about a score of scattered voices answered, "An American!" Maurer came back with a boast of 200 years of Pennsylvania ancestry, every male member of which had "fought in American wars, and as volunteers, not as conscripts." He boasted of being part German, part French, and the other part Irish, but the French and Irish accents were not noticeable.

William E. Mason, congressman from Illinois, the principal speaker, was introduced by the Rev. Irwin St. John Tucker. Mason, hailed as "the greatest man in America," waxed eloquent in denouncing the conscription law and said he intends that it shall be amended or repealed. Anent the food situation, he said they are selling flour and potatoes cheaper in Liverpool than in Chicago, and that the food manipulators are traitors. This got a "hand" from everybody.

Attacks Draft Law.

Because the draft law takes only those between 21 and 32 and exempts congressmen and others, he termed it unconstitutional, in that it did not fall on the shoulders of all the people.

"They say the volunteer system is a failure, but show me a war that ever was won by men not volunteers," he said.

Because President Wilson did not see fit to send Roosevelt and 200,000 volunteers to France when authorized by congress, Mason charged the president with not obeying the law.

Militarism and Autocracy.

"Keep your democracy strong and your militarism weak," counseled Miss Laura Hughes of Canada. "Militarism and autocracy are one and the same thing. They cannot exist alone. You have let your representatives believe they are ruling the country, whereas in a democracy the people are the rulers."

Seymour Stedman of Chicago held America up to ridicule because the Indian plotters were arrested in San Francisco and tried for conspiring to bring about a revolt in India. He lashed England for preaching democracy and at the same time keeping "abused India under her heel."

The resolutions "favor an immediate general and democratic peace," "urge the government to immediately announce its war aims in definite and concrete terms," "demand that this country shall not carry on war for the territorial and imperialistic ambitions of other countries," "demand that private mail shall not be tampered with," and "pledge the council to work for repeal of all laws for compulsory military training and service."

U. OF C. MOURNS STUDENTS LOST ON WHALEBACK

Memorial services were held yesterday morning in Mandel hall at the University of Chicago for the students of the university who lost their lives on the Christopher Columbus in the Milwaukee river on June 30.

As the bell was tolled Dr. Harry Pratt Judson, president of the university, read the names of the victims of the accident and called on all to stand in memory of the dead and in prayer for the recovery of the injured. After the brief ceremony Prof. George Burman Foster preached.

THE DEAD.

The students who lost their lives were:

WHERE IS SHE?

Policeman's Sister Missing—First Time in Her 19 Years She's Ever Been Away from Home.

Octavia Wing
STAFFORD PHOTO.

POLICEMAN LOUIS WING of the East Chicago avenue station is looking for a girl reported missing. He has done this before, but never with quite the same degree of earnestness. For the girl is his sister, 19 year old Octavia Wing, 1721 North Halsted street.

Additional mystery attaches to the disappearance of Octavia because of her exceptionally good character and habits. It is the first time in her life she has ever been away from home.

Octavia, who was forewoman of the candy shop of Hunt Bros., known as the Martha Washington Shop, at Broadway and Grace street, left her home Thursday morning to go to the dentist. She had been having her teeth attended to by Dr. S. H. Roberts, at Larrabee and North avenue. When she left she told her mother she might return home instead of going directly to work, as she feared she might not be in condition to work that day.

She didn't come home. She didn't show up at the shop. She never reached the dentist. Not the slightest trace of her has since been discovered.

It is said by Policeman Wing that R. J. Hunt, one of the proprietors of the shop, had been friendly with Octavia.

"I think they were engaged," said the policeman.

Hunt and his brother are helping in the search. Octavia was a general favorite in her neighborhood and in the shop, and her parents are heartbroken.

When last seen she was attired in a one-piece dress, large black hat, silk velvet trimmed coat, tan laced boots, and brown stockings. She is 5 feet 7 inches tall, medium weight, and a pronounced blonde.

PENSION SYSTEM FOR WORLD WAR BEING FRAMED

Congress About to Take Most Revolutionary Step in Crisis.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—The most revolutionary proposal in war legislation yet considered will be submitted to congress by the administration probably within the next fortnight.

The administration proposed to abolish the system of pensions for wounded soldiers and for the surviving kin of soldiers killed in battle and to substitute therefor a casualty insurance plan.

A committee of officers of some of the largest life insurance companies in the country will begin a series of conferences with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo this week regarding the formulation of the proposed legislation.

Tentative Proposals.

Secretary McAdoo proposes that congress shall specify before American soldiers are sent into battle the death and injury benefits that shall be paid by the nation. The tentative proposals are:

A minimum compensation of $1,500 for the death of an enlisted man.

A maximum compensation of $1,500 for total disability.

A maximum compensation of $5,000 for the death or total disability of an officer.

It is proposed to pay this compensation not in a lump sum but in a series of installments extending over a period of years.

Two Plans Considered.

Two plans are under consideration. One provides that the government shall insure its soldiers against death and injury with the insurance companies which accept the business at the high rates which would be charged for war risks. The other provides that the government shall undertake the whole obligation, congress appropriating sufficient funds to cover the death and injury benefits.

The administration is opposed to continuing the present pension system during and after this war. Secretary McAdoo holds that the plan he proposes will be less wasteful, more equitable, and more satisfactory both to the government and to the pensioners.

Pension System Too Costly.

It is contended that, whatever the compensation provided, the total cost to the government would be much less than under the present pension system.

Civil war pensions already aggregate $5,000,000,000, and it is estimated that the total bill will be $6,000,000,000 before the last civil war pension is paid.

It is estimated that if 1,000,000 American soldiers should be killed or wounded in this war the expense to the government for compensation would not exceed $3,000,000,000, or an average of $3,000 for each casualty.

GENERAL'S SON ENLISTS RATHER THAN BE OFFICER

If your father were a brigadier general in the United States army—

And if you were a young man 24 years of age, desirous of serving your country the best you knew how—

And if you were offered a nifty little commission in your father's brigade would you hop to it?

Lester didn't. Dudley G. Lester, son of Brigadier General James W. Lester, was in just such a position. Instead of accepting the commission he went to his home state of New York and enlisted as a private in the N. Y. N. G. at Saratoga.

He felt that in this way he could learn the soldiering business from the bottom. If he won a commission later nobody could say it was because his father was a brigadier general.

Up to the time of his enlistment young Lester was connected in an executive capacity with the paper house of George La Monte & Son of Chicago.

BLOOMINGTON IS SEETHING AS CAR CRISIS COMES

Bloomington, Ill., July 8.—[Special.]—Final hours of the truce agreed upon by the striking car men and the traction officials found the city seething with suppressed excitement tonight.

A committee of four, representing the traction men, the car men's union, and the general labor assembly will meet with a neutral to be selected by the first three, tomorrow morning, to thresh out the essential points of difference between the men and the employers.

The closed shop is the rock upon which their conferences may go to pieces. The men demand that the Illinois Traction company unionize all its lines. The company agrees to give the union men back their jobs, but refuses to recognize the union officially, and makes no promise that union men will not be discharged summarily at any date in the future.

In anticipation of trouble, Mayor Jones has ordered that the saloons be closed all day tomorrow. Guards of deputy sheriffs and policemen will ride on the cars that have been running with union crews, since the truce began.

JULY REDUCTIONS

DURING July and August we always make sharp reductions.

No matter what you may need for your household, a visit to our store will save you money.

Ours, the greatest furniture house in the world, has made home furnishings less costly in Chicago than in any city in the United States.

We are exclusively a home furnishing store, selling crockery, furniture, carpets, glassware, table linen, curtains, draperies, sewing machines, stoves, kitchenware, refrigerators, talking machines, etc.

The store that gives you satisfaction, that is dependable and offers you the opportunity of a saving should have your consideration. When buying anything for your home always remember it is well to make comparisons, as the purchasing of furniture involves the outlay of considerable money.

In the 50 years we have been in business we have furnished nearly two million homes.

BY JOE DAVIS.

In eighteen years of competition, divided equally between home and foreign courses, Chicago golfers have won the western amateur golf championship seventeen times. The only lapse came last year, when the tournament was voted to the Del Monte Country club on the strength of the offer of a special train to convey players from the eastern section of W. G. A. territory to the coast. When this payment of traveling expenses was frowned upon by the United States Golf association and opposed by some of the officials of the W. G. A., the result was a limited attendance of eastern players.

Heinrich Schmidt, formerly of Worcester, Mass., playing from the Claremont club of San Francisco, secured the honor of being the first player outside of Chicago to win the western classic, defeating Douglas Grant of San Francisco in the final. Even had the east had a stronger representation, it is quite possible Schmidt might have won by reason of different conditions on the Pacific coast.

Easterners Here for Meet.

The nineteenth annual tournament of the Western Golf association, which will start today at the Midlothian Country club, presents unusual conditions in that invitations were extended to a number of leading eastern players outside the bailiwick of the W. G. A.

It is rumored efforts were made by supporters of the U. S. G. A. to discourage the entries of the leading players, but a sufficient number have displayed the courage of their convictions to make up a good field. From a numerical viewpoint, it is all that can be desired, while there is not the shadow of a doubt that the player who goes through to the finish will have no easy path to the title.

Ouimet, Guilford, Anderson.

Interest will center largely in the showing of Francis Ouimet, former national open and amateur champion, and Jesse Guilford, Massachusetts amateur champion. The arrival yesterday of John G. Anderson of New York, runner up in the national amateur championships of 1915 and 1916 and twice amateur champion of Massachusetts, gave the east another strong contender and added much to the class of the tournament. Anderson is playing some of the best golf of his career and is counted on to get well down in the match play rounds.

On their own courses in the national amateur championships Chicago players generally have more than held their own against the eastern players, and the leading local men form a strong contingent. Ned Sawyer of the new Bob O'Link club, Paul Hunter, Kenneth Edwards and Donald Edwards of Midlothian and E. Hoover Bankard of Midlothian, all are playing well and should get into the later rounds, barring the luck of the draw.

Practice on Course.

Yesterday was an ideal day and the course was thronged with players until late in the afternoon. After three days of play the scores of the leaders indicate the course is several strokes harder than when the national open championship was staged two years ago. It looks as if a total of 170 will qualify in the final thirty-two on Tuesday morning.

Francis Ouimet and Albert Seckel defeated J. S. Worthington, the veteran English player, and Jesse Guilford, 2 up, in the morning, Ouimet getting a 76. The cards:

Ouimet, out	5	4	4	5	3	4	5	5	4	—39
In	4	3	4	4	4	4	4	6	4	—37—76
Seckel, out	5	6	3	5	4	2	6	4	4	—39
In	4	4	4	4	5	4	5	5	4	—39—78
Worth'ton, out	5	4	3	7	4	4	5	4	4	—40
In	5	3	5	3	6	4	4	4	4	—38—78
Guilford, out	5	5	6	5	4	4	6	4	4	—43
In	6	3	5	4	4	5	5	4	4	—40—83

The winners had a best ball of 71, the losers taking two more.

Other Cracks Also Play.

In the afternoon Donald Edwards and Jesse Guilford defeated James D. Standish Jr. of Detroit and Albert Seckel, 4 up, their best ball figuring 69. Edwards led with 38—39—77, Guilford getting 39—39—78, Seckel, 41—37—78, and Standish 39—42—82.

Ned Sawyer, paired with H. K. Johnson, won from E. Hoover Bankard and R. C. Vilas, 4 up, Sawyer leading with 41—36—77.

Ouimet scored a 77 in the afternoon when paired with Irving Harts [89], against C. E. Van Vleck Jr. [87] and W. J. Black [85], the former side winning by 1 point.

Additional entries received yesterday brought the total to over 160.

Woods and Waters
By Larry St. John

EVERY year sees more Illinois people taking to the near-by lakes and streams in pursuit of sport and a mess of fish. They go better equipped than anglers did a generation ago. They work harder. They get fewer fish.

At the same time more—many more—Illinois fishermen go to neighboring states for their sport. Every Friday night two trains, loaded to the guards, pull out of Chicago headed for the fishing waters "up north," returning Monday morning to get these far traveling anglers back on the job—most of them work for a living. An equal number work and in Indiana and southern Michigan.

* *

In other words, hundreds of Illinois fishermen spend their time and money in other states because they cannot get good enough fishing nearer home, and they cannot get good fishing nearer home because we have neglected our fishing waters.

Illinois has one fish hatchery. This is at Spring Grove in the Fox lake region. The Savanna plant is hardly more than a retaining station, where fish taken from the back waters are held until they can be distributed. That is, they are taken from where they are fairly plentiful to where they are not—a good idea in itself, but it doesn't increase the available fish supply.

* *

The Spring Grove hatchery planted approximately 600,000 bass in 1915 and 800,000 in 1916. In the same periods it turned out 7,000,000 and 18,000,000 of wall eye pike, respectively, and several hundred brook and rainbow trout. That's doing pretty well, we believe, for one hatchery. But one hatchery is not enough. We have a dozen fine streams and over a hundred good lakes, most of them with a superabundance of fish food, suitable cover, and adequate spawning beds.

The problem is to have more fish. The answer is easy—more hatcheries.

O'Shea Low Net Winner in Knights of Columbus Golf

George O'Shea of Columbus council won low net honors in Class A of the Knights of Columbus Golf league's nine hole sweepstakes at Elgin. His card of 38—2—36 also tied D. M. McMahon of Carroll council, a scratch player, for low gross. In Class B, W. O'Heron of Damen had both low gross and low net, with 43—2—41. H. Farrell won low net in Class C with 49—15—34, but low gross went to E. Ahearne of Barry, 48—6—42. Scores:

HAYES-BURDICK COMBINE TAKES STATE NET TITLE

Western Champions Beat Green and Ketchum in Red Cross Doubles.

Title Matches Today

Women's singles—2:30, Miss Mary K. Voorhees vs. Miss C. B. Neely.

Men's singles—3:30, Ralph H. Burdick vs. Walter T. Hayes.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Walter T. Hayes and Ralph H. Burdick, western champions and several times state and city tennis titleholders, ran true to form and captured the doubles title in the Illinois patriotic tournament for the Red Cross, beating Al Green Jr. and Marshall G. Ketchum in four slashing sets at the South Side Tennis club, 7—5, 4—6, 6—4, 6—4.

Each team started cautiously in the first set, dropping its first service, but after that neither was able to break through on the other's serve. All four players were slamming the ball across the net in a way which made hard returns impossible. Hayes' sweeping strokes won many points by passing Green and Ketchum, who rushed to the net whenever possible. Some of the volleying by Green and Ketchum had the crowd clapping point after point. A burst of speed by Burdick and Hayes' sizzling placements ended the first set.

Green Makes Great Spurt.

Green covered the whole court in the second set, pulling down drives by leaping in the air and stopping hard shots smashed to both right and left. His brilliant play left little for Ketchum to do in many games. The sun, coming from due west, bothered all four players, but Hayes seemed to mind it most and was erratic in his smashes and returns. Green and Ketchum won the frame, making it even in sets.

In the third set Burdick worked his killing overhead for decisive points, and he and Hayes were more successful in holding the net against their opponents. Ketchum and Green tried lobbing and broke through the champions' defense for a time, but Green began to tire and Burdick and Hayes clinched it by piling an assortment of drives which broke Ketchum and Green's stone wall at the net.

Hot Battle at Finish.

The fourth set was a succession of pitched battles for every point, with neither side sure of winning on its serve. Hayes and Burdick hit their steadiest gait of the tourney. They kept shooting the ball first at Ketchum, then at Green, when the latter tried to rush to the net, and snatched the set and match in a driving rally.

The match made the third victory for Hayes and Burdick over Ketchum and Green in local championships in two years. Last year the titleholders beat the latter pair in four set maches in the Chicago city meet and the state tourney. Hayes and Burdick defeated Cy Hill and J. F. Day in a semifinal earlier in the day, 6—2, 6—1, 6—4.

Exhaust Echoes

CHICAGO motorists who are in the habit of using the excellent roads of Indiana will do well to note that that state, like Illinois, has a new dimmer law. It went into effect a few days ago, and provides, as does the Illinois regulation, that headlights must be dimmed whenever another vehicle approaches on any road in the state. Incidentally all headlight rays must be bright enough to illuminate objects clearly at a distance of 150 feet in front of one's car.

The Hoosier State Automobile association, which urged the passage of the dimmer bill, claims credit for another bit of Indiana legislation which will greatly benefit Chicago motorists. This provides an elaborate system of road posting, markers of a uniform design to be selected by the state highway engineer and installed at all important road crossings throughout the state. In addition, the association itself has undertaken the laying out and marking of an entirely new scheme of automobile trails to cover the entire state, pass through virtually every county seat in Indiana, and connect with the many trails which have been organized recently in Illinois. The road signs in this case will be painted on telephone or telegraph poles, three before arriving at each turn and three after leaving it, with the letter "L" or "R," signifying left or right, on the first pole.

* *

Sheridan road is being paved with something more than good intentions. A contract for the last stretch to be surfaced in Winnetka—a mile and three-quarters, extending from the Winnetka-Kenilworth boundary to Hubbard hill—was let last week, and the work, it is announced, will be finished before the end of the summer. The pavement will be concrete, identical with the connecting strip recently completed in Kenilworth.

* *

The name of E. G. Westlake, automobile editor of the Chicago Evening Post, has been added to the list of officials for the intercity team reliability match, which starts from Buffalo a week from tomorrow. Westlake, a veteran of the Glidden tours, will act as judge of the run. Three teams, representing Chicago, New York, and Buffalo, are now certain of making the tour, and it is believed there is a bare possibility that one or two other cities will reconsider their decision to withdraw and make eleventh hour entries.

The Medinah Temple Motor club defeated the Mystic A. C. in their reliability run to South Bend and return. Nine drivers of the forty-eight cars from the Mystic A. C. turned in perfect scores and seven from Medinah Temple. The run started from Grant park at 6:30 on Saturday. Upon their return the contestants and their families were entertained at a dinner and dance at the Mystic A. C. Following are those who had perfect scores:

Mystic A. C.—Charles Becker, Marmon; E. M. Craig, Hudson; Clarence Anderson, Cole; Henry Bielke, Haynes; J. J. Elwell, Chevrolet; Harold Harvey, National; W. Howinson, Buick; E. E. Landon, Reo; Edward Sweig, Chalmers.

Percy Ford, winner of the 100 mile nonprofessional race at the recent Speedway Derby, in record time for an amateur, yesterday had a fractured right leg operated on at the Ravenswood hospital. Ford had an infection in the leg when he drove in the 100 mile grind. His condition was said to be favorable last night.

CANOE CLUB REGATTA ATTRACTS 3,000 FANS

Three thousand persons lined the banks of Garfield park lagoon yesterday to see the annual regatta of the Optimates Canoe club, which was featured by close and keen competition. Twelve races, including events for women, were staged and the crowd cheered whenever some canoe upset because of overzealous effort on the part of a contestant.

The crowd went early and stayed until the last event was decided. At night the canoes were decorated and a parade which lasted over an hour was held. Prizes were given the owners of the best decorated canoe. Fifty canoes took part in the races and parade.

O. Stavel was the star paddler. He won the single paddle and was second in the crab race. Summaries:

WHY YOU SHOULD NEVER PARE A CO

If you are troubled with corns [illegible] calluses, do not run the risk of [illegible] poison by paring them. Statistics [illegible] that many deaths have occurred [illegible] this seemingly innocent practice [illegible] paring corns.

Simply go to your druggist and [illegible] few cents' worth of Ice-Mint. [illegible] little on any painful corn or callus. [illegible] mediately the pain will disappear [illegible] a short time the corn or callus will [illegible] en and lift off easily with the fingers [illegible] root and all—leaving the [illegible] skin in a healthy, normal condition.

This, together with the fact that [illegible] Mint overcomes such affections as [illegible] tired, aching, puffed or burning feet [illegible] makes them cool, easy and comfortable [illegible] is probably responsible for the [illegible] endorsement given it by thousands.

To rid one's feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes [illegible] painful calluses in such a pleasant [illegible] safe way, makes it seem the height of folly for any one to pare a corn [illegible] people are warned to stop it.

MACKMEN LIFT WHITE SOX BACK TO FIRST PLACE

Blunders Help Hose Come from Behind and Win, 8-4.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Just when it seemed the White Sox were in for another licking from the Athletics yesterday at Comiskey park Connie Mack's men began kicking the ball around and the Sox scampered off with a victory that put them back into first place in the pennant race. The count was 8 to 4, and at least one and possibly more of the Sox tallies were earned.

It makes no difference in baseball whether a team bats its way to the top or is kicked into first place, just so it gets there. The Macks were guilty of four blunders, and every one of them aided in getting runs. However, one expects such results when one is looking at the Macks.

Schauer Blows at Finish.

For a long time Rube Schauer, tall and swarthy and once a member of the Giants, threatened to trim the south siders. For five rounds he had them quite under his command, and the chances are that if his mates hadn't fallen down behind him he would have gone through. However, after a couple of blunders in the sixth and another in the eighth Rube went all to smash and allowed the Sox to whale the ball all over the lot. Then Rube heaved a couple of wild pitches himself to make the blowup complete.

It was far from an interesting game of ball, but it was a most satisfactory one. In fact, it generally is a satisfactory game for the south side fans when the Sox and Macks are battling.

Macks Hit Cicotte Hard.

The surprising part of the fight was the maltreatment handed our 1917 Eddie Cicotte, who has been knocking 'em flat with such regularity. Ten hard blows were hit by the Macks. They seemed to have no fear whatever of the much talked of "shine ball" and the famous knuckle ball, which had the [illegible] Red Sox and one or two other [illegible] teams so badly fussed. The Macks just stepped in and clouted, and for a time it looked as if Eddie would have to be yanked and a relief man sent to his rescue.

Eddie stuck to the job as if convinced it wasn't possible for the Philadelphia outfit to beat him, and he was right. The blowup finally came, and Eddie's record stands unharmed, regardless of the result.

Possibly Cicotte's "shine ball" wouldn't have been dented so badly if an error hadn't paved the way for slaughter in the third inning. The first man up fanned and then Strunk hammered one of the "shiners" safely to center field. Bodie followed with a lively bounder to Risberg, who was so eager to start a double play he let the ball hop through him. Strunk brought up at third and Ping was safe at first.

Bates' Triple Scores Two.

In this crisis Mr. Bates, a sort of an unknown but a slugging batter, drove one fiercely to the wall in the right center for three sacks, sending both Strunk and Ping home. The squeeze play followed, with McInnis doing the bunting, and Bates was home. This cluster of three runs was a tough handicap for the Sox.

They got one of them back in the fourth, when Felsch beat out a hit and scooted to second on Witt's bad heave. Hap counted on Gandil's safe punch. But in the sixth the Macks belted in another when Schang led off with a three baser to right and Jamieson singled.

The blowup followed in the same round. With one out, E. Collins beat out a hit and stole. Felsch popped out, but Witt fumbled J. Collins' roller. Then J. Collins stole and Gandil walked. Risberg singled, sending two men home, and Bates dropped a ball at third when he had Gandil out. Risberg made second on the mistake and Schalk poked safely over second, and two more came home, putting the Sox one to the good.

Three More in Eighth.

The three in the eighth weren't needed. Witt booted Felsch's roller. J. Collins bunted, and both were safe on Schauer's late shot to second. Gandil fanned at a wild pitch and was out, but Felsch scored. Then Risberg doubled, J. Collins counting, and Schauer made another wild pitch and Risberg scored. Schalk, Cicotte, and Leibold all singled after that, but Schalk was cut down at the plate, spoiling the chance for more.

3 EYES TEAMS LOSE $25,000

The Three Eyes league, which suspended the season today, may not attempt to start next spring, unless the war situation is more favorable, President Tearney said last night. The clubs in the eight weeks of playing lost approximately $25,000. War conditions are blamed for the league's failure.

President Tearney said all players will be paid in full, although he is obliged to meet this expense from the guarantee posted by the clubs at the start of the season. The players will be allowed to seek employment elsewhere for the remainder of the season, but must report next spring to the Three Eyes club holding their contracts this season.

Notes

Same teams will battle today.

The California Boys' band, numbering fifty pieces, will be at the game today as guests of Boss Comiskey. When the Sox toured the world they met this band in Australia.

Risberg more than made up for his costly error of the third inning. In the sixth he drove two runs home and scored one and in the eighth he drove in one and scored one.

Joe Jackson was given a day of rest, as he was a bit off his feed and complained of a lame back. He may rest for two or three days if the Sox keep on winning without him.

The Macks may have blown up because of a heavy lunch served to them in the Bards room upon the return from Fort Sheridan. Manager Rowland stood guard over his men while they ate.

Tonight is to be White Sox night at White City, and the south side players are to be on hand to take in the sights and shoot the chutes—not the kind they shoot on the ball field. The Macks also are to be guests.

DODGERS, 3; WEST LAKES, 2.

Dodge-Trainings hammered Johnny Simmons for thirteen hits and won a ninth inning victory over the West Lakes at the Maywood park, 3 to 2. Seiffer got three singles and a triple. Score:

CUB HURLING STAFF NOW GREAT PROBLEM FOR BOSS MITCHELL

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 8.—[Special.]—With their heads up in spite of yesterday's defeat, the Cubs will resume their attack on Brooklyn tomorrow with the expectation of copping the remaining two games in the series.

The pitching staff is the only thing that is causing Manager Mitchell to gaze fixedly at the wall while sitting in the hotel lobby. The annexation of Dilhoefer and the repentance of Elliott, which appears to be sincere, make the catching department O. K.

The way Dilhoefer broke into yesterday's game with a three base hit in a pinch is exceedingly hopeful for the youngster's future. He ran all the way from the bullpen in center field to take Demaree's turn at bat in the ninth, and, although panting for breath and white as a sheet with nervousness, took two strikes and two balls before he found one he liked and soaked it for a three bagger that would have won the game under ordinary circumstances.

Then, when Aldridge was in the hole in the last half, Dilhoefer craftily picked a Brooklyn runner off third base, only to have his effort wrecked by Deal, who dropped the ball after making the putout.

President Weeghman returned to Chicago today and does not expect to have to come east for the postponed decision on the McGraw case next Friday.

Macks Show Big League Frills and Beat Sox at Ft. Sheridan

American soldiers to the number of 3,500 and about 2,000 civilians, composed of friends, wives, children, and sweethearts of some of the army men, saw the White Sox and Athletics stage a seven inning exhibition game of baseball on the parade ground at Fort Sheridan yesterday morning. The Athletics won the game, 5 to 1, because the Sox saved all their speed for the afternoon game at Comiskey park, the game which counted in the flag race.

No admission was charged, but no one was supposed to be there unless he were a soldier or a soldier's relative or sweetheart. Circus seats were erected for the occasion and chairs were placed on the green for the women, but the crowd was so big that it spilled out along the foul lines, forming a big half circle.

Buck Starts Friendly Row.

There wasn't quite enough "pep" in the game to suit the men who are training to go and get the kaiser, and when they yelled for the Sox to ginger up Buck Weaver went back and staged a row with Umpire Owens. This was one of the features. Buck kicked furiously on a decision and pulled the ump's coat sleeve and cut up generally just as if it were a regular combat. Owens kept his mask on to hide his smiles.

Ping Bodie furnished many opportunities for the soldiers to josh him, and incidentally poled a two bagger down the right foul line just to show the boys how he crowns the pill in the big league. The soldiers enjoyed the show immensely and had their band on hand to play something lively between innings.

Colonel Studies Diamond Strategy.

It was necessary to cut the game short so that the players could catch their train back to the south side for the afternoon contest. Col. Nicholson sat on the Sox bench next to Manager Rowland and learned some new things about strategy.

LOWDEN WANTS ALL FACTS BARED IN RIOT AFFAIR

Governor Will Order Full Inquiry on Trouble in Race War.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., July 8.—[Special.]—Gov. Lowden is preparing to order an investigation of the East St. Louis riots that will be complete. It is to cover every angle—military, civic, and economic. The preliminaries will be announced within forty-eight hours.

Adjt. Gen. Frank S. Dickson returned to Springfield from East St. Louis this morning and had a conference with Gov. Lowden.

The state council of defense, with its broad powers of investigation, summoning witnesses, and securing evidence, may be brought into the case.

If the federal government desires to make an investigation, Gov. Lowden will offer the support of all branches of the state government. In the absence of any federal action, however, Gov. Lowden will proceed along the lines he suggested when he was in East St. Louis Thursday. He said then that the first duty was to restore peace and order.

Reports City Is Quiet.

Adjt. Gen. Dickson's report was that East St. Louis is peaceable, the factories have resumed operations, and that no renewal of the trouble is expected. The troops will remain until the civic authorities have shown disposition and ability to keep the peace.

It is believed that one of the first things ordered by Gov. Lowden will be a military investigation concerning the management and conduct of the troops during the day and evening of July 2. The East St. Louis chamber of commerce charges the Illinois national guard with having failed to perform its duties. This may result in a court martial, before which would appear all of the officers connected with the companies that were on duty while the riots were in progress.

The guard officers would welcome such a court martial as the best means of clearing the record.

Assistant Attorney General Charles W. Middlekauf will go to Belleville tomorrow as the representative of Attorney General Brundage at the opening of the session of the St. Clair county grand jury.

Renew Political Feuds.

It is reported from East St. Louis that the factional and political disturbances that have involved the city and county governments for many years have been renewed after being suppressed temporarily during the riots. It may be impossible for the citizens' committee on public safety to take over the municipal government without a fight in the courts.

Official reports to the adjutant general's office tonight were that East St. Louis is quiet and no disturbances have been reported.

CHURCH FEARS MEMBERS MAY LOSE CLOTHES

John G. McLaren, 210 East Fifty-sixth street, and Guy Mercer, 5601 Indiana avenue, are wearing new suits of clothes of which they are not particularly proud. It is not because the new wearing apparel is with or without cuffs, with pockets or pocketless, but because they are gentlemen who don't like to be compelled to buy clothes until they are ready to buy them.

The story has been made the subject of a warning published in the bulletin of the Woolley Memorial Methodist Episcopal church, Fifty-sixth street and Indiana avenue, of which they are members.

The trick is thus described: One day a gentleman called at the McLaren and Mercer homes asking for a suit of clothes which, the caller said, he had been instructed by the owner to call for to have cleaned. Members of the families appealed to delivered the suits and they have never been seen since.

N. E. A. PRESIDENT MAY BE WOMAN

Portland, Ore., July 8.—Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the National Education association, spoke from the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church today as a feature of "Education Sunday," which was generally observed in Portland churches, preliminary to the opening of the association's annual convention Monday.

Late today a reception in honor of visiting teachers was given at St. Mary's academy by Archbishop A. Christie.

Women are prominent in the pre-convention political gossip. Josephine Corliss Preston, state superintendent of public instruction of Washington, and Mary C. Bradford, state superintendent of public instruction of Colorado, being actively mentioned for the presidency.

Thus far the association has had but one woman as its president, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, who was elected in 1912.

James "Fump" Hannah and Nelly O'Donnell, known to the police as pickpockets, were arrested yesterday in a crowd at Humboldt park and held for investigation.

HAGGLING OVER PRICE OF STOLEN STOVE COSTLY

Judge Caverly in the East Chicago avenue court today will hear the case of the stolen stove.

Tom Walsh lost the stove. K. Pearlman runs the junk shop where it was recovered. Ernest Mundt and Edward Sexton are said to have taken it to the junk shop. Policeman Oliver Bunstein trailed the stove and the alleged stealers.

When Walsh and the policeman entered the junk shop Pearlman was saying he would for the stove give $2, not a cent more, do you want to ruin me? And right then it was that Bunstein, the cop, butted into the proceedings and arrested Mundt and Sexton.

The way the stove came to be stolen—Tom took it out on the porch on Saturday afternoon to polish it. He went around the corner to buy some polish. When he returned the stove was gone.

We heartily recommend the special 50c luncheon served from 11:00 A. M. to 2:00 P. M. in the restaurant on the Eighth Floor. Hereafter, for the convenience of our customers who desire to lunch there, our high rise elevator, No. 6, which is one of the many which run from the main floor arcade to the splendid specialty shops above, will stop at each one of the store floors for passengers.

BUCK PASSED FOR ROADHOUSE LID TILTING, DEATHS

County Officers' Reply to Queries on Law Enforcement.

This is the "official explanation" of how it comes about that the grogshop and the roadhouse lives in placid peace along the country highways in Cook county; why the West Suburban Law and Order league has come into existence; why the coroner has found it necessary to patrol the speedways. It discloses the attitude of the sheriff and the county commissioners toward the open violation of the Sunday closing laws.

It makes clear the reasons for many smashups, reckless speeding, and many things.

Reinberg Interviewed.

Peter Reinberg, president of the county board, was asked: "Do you know that saloons are open throughout the county, outside of Chicago, every Sunday, in violation of the law?"

"Yes," he said.

"Do you know that they are open, often at all hours of the night," especially on Saturday nights?"

"Yes."

"Does the board have police authority over them?"

"No."

"Do you think they need regulation?"

"Yes."

"Has the county board power to close them if they violate the law?"

"Yes, by revoking their licenses."

"Why don't you close them?"

"Near by saloons, in incorporated villages, are permitted to run. There are very many of these; maybe a hundred in Cicero alone."

"Doesn't Seem Just."

"Because the village saloons are bad, is it necessary to tolerate bad country saloons which you can close?"

"It doesn't seem like justice to close a part of them and not close all. There has been only one new license issued this spring. The rest are all renewals. We have refused quite a few."

"Who got this license?"

"A man named Johnson."

"How many saloons are operating under licenses issued by the county board?"

"Perhaps forty or fifty."

"Sheriff Traeger says he lacks men and money to patrol the county and close all the saloons which violate the law. Will the board put up the money to clean up the situation?"

"That would have to be taken up with the board. The board could not make an additional appropriation at this time."

Busse Questioned.

William Busse, commissioner from a country district, living in Arlington Heights, was asked:

"Has the county board any plan to control the hours of drinking in the country saloons?"

"None that I know of."

"Do you think these saloons should be under control?"

"Yes, decidedly so."

"How does the board grant these licenses?"

"When the majority of the citizens of the township sign in favor of granting the license."

"Complaint has been made that in some instances this feature of the law has been ignored."

"If so I am not aware of it. I am not a member of the judiciary committee which has the matter in charge."

No Investigations.

"Has the board any way of investigating the character of men who ask for these licenses?"

"We have no way."

"Do you mean that the board grants licenses, regardless of character, to any man who comes along?"

"We believe that the people of the township can judge. They can always protest."

"Who gets the license money? County or township?"

"The county."

"How much does it profit for each saloon?"

"Where beer only is sold, $150 a year; where distilled liquor is sold, $500."

"Men who complain of conditions say that licenses are sometimes issued when a majority have not signed."

"I don't think that is so."

The Johnson Case.

"How about the case of Carl Johnson of the Avenue buffet? It has been charged that he got a license in spite of protest."

"There was an objection, but it was removed."

"The charge is made that it was not removed."

"It was partly removed. I am satisfied he had a majority of the voters."

"Complaint is made that you 'put over' his license."

"I did not. I merely voted for it. I did not make the motion."

"After the board grants licenses to saloons has it any power to compel them to obey the law?"

"There is no police force behind the county board."

"What do you think of mixing motoring and drinking?"

"They do not mix."

"Is it a violation of the law for the saloons to remain open on Sundays?"

"Absolutely it is a violation of the law."

"Yet you know they are open on Sundays."

"Yes."

No Regulatory Plan.

"Is there any plan to regulate the number of the saloons and roadhouses, which violate the law, along the country highways?"

"None that I know of."

"Can the board revoke the license if it is proven that there was a violation of the law?"

"That is a debatable question."

"Knowing that those already licensed are disobeying the law, why does the board continue to grant more licenses?"

"I don't know. I can't answer your question. If a man is running a mile away without a license why refuse a license to a man who is willing to pay?"

"You know, when you grant them, do you not, that they intend to violate the law?"

"We do not know it."

"You've got good reason to suspect it, have you not?"

"You mean the Sunday closing law?"

"Yes."

"I'll say that we do."

Drinking Cause of Accidents.

Dudley D. Pierson of Chicago Heights, another commissioner, was asked what he blamed for so many automobile accidents on the country roads recently. He said:

"Drinking. The smashups occur mostly after the drivers have been drinking."

"Are not these accidents especially noticeable on Sunday nights?"

"Yes."

"How can the saloons that violate the Sunday closing law be shut up?"

"The sheriff and the state's attorney can close them."

"Would they get the support of the county board in such a fight?"

"They can have all the help they want from the board."

"Will the board supply the money?"

"The board can be depended upon to support them and work with them and supply them with what is necessary."

"Did the board ever refuse to issue licenses?"

"The board refused three last week."

"Where do you find the most trouble as a result of speeding due to drinking in saloons that disregard the Sunday closing law?"

"Along the Elgin and Milwaukee roads."

Traeger Blames Board.

Sheriff John E. Traeger was asked:

"Some of the commissioners say that it is up to you to close the country saloons that violate the Sunday closing law. Why don't you close them?"

"I'm not the police in Cook county. If they are violating the law why doesn't the board revoke the licenses?"

"One commissioner says if you ask for the money necessary to close the saloons violating the law the board will supply it. Have you asked for it, or will you?"

"It would take three shifts of police to close them. These saloons have kept open Sundays and after hours nights from time immemorial."

MOTOR VICTIMS

Two Killed and Many Hurt in Day's Accidents.

MOTOR accidents of Saturday night resulted yesterday in the deaths of:

PAUL BARLOV, a janitor, of 2309 Commonwealth avenue, who was struck by an automobile at North Clark street and Belden avenue. The machine was driven by Frank Kehoe of 2601 Calumet avenue, who was arrested.

JOHN DEMPSEY, of 1523 West Sixty-seventh street, who was riding on a motorcycle which collided with a Forty-seventh street car at Ashland avenue. The motorcycle was driven by Thomas Dillon of 1036 East Forty-seventh street, who was seriously injured.

Among the injured in accidents yesterday were:

Joseph Coller, 10 years old, of 5153 Bishop street, who may die as the result of being run down by M. Ast of 4616 Ashland avenue. Ast, who was arrested, says the boy ran in front of the automobile.

Herman Witt of 1705 Peoria street, who was struck by a Yellow taxicab at Canal street and Jackson boulevard. The cab driver fled.

Leo and George Litinski of 2838 Throop street and John Muszynski of 2855 Quinn street, whose machine was struck by a Thirty-fifth street car at Auburn avenue.

Otto Schalk, 24 years old, of 4111 North Clarendon avenue, and Frank Spaulding of 4162 North Clarendon avenue, who were thrown from a motorcycle by an auto driven by Daniel Downey of 5449 Winthrop avenue. The accident happened at North Ashland and Barry avenues.

Goes to Put Up Screens and Finds Aunt a Suicide

Mrs. Anna Dougal, 4301 South Karlov avenue, committed suicide yesterday by gas. Her body was discovered by her nephew, John Andrews, 3831 West Polk street, who had gone to her house to put up screens. He smelled gas, broke through the back door, and found his aunt in bed, dead. Every jet in the house was open. He could give no motive for her act.

RECORD CLEARED FOR MOTHER'S FIGHT FOR SON

Court May Decide Future of Joseph Kaminski Today.

Joseph "Le Mar" Kaminski, 10 years old, is on the eve of another adventure—the big one of his eventful young life. This morning at a conference with Judge Arnold of the Juvenile court the fates will weave their web, and whether Joseph will be a child of fortune, the heir of I. I. Nixon's estates near Clinton, Ill., probably will be decided. W. S. Reynolds, superintendent of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society, returned yesterday from Detroit with Joseph's history.

Every detail of Mrs. Helen Kaminski's story was "run down." Mrs. Kaminski, the mother of Joseph, and two children took a temporary home at 1839 W. Jackson boulevard more than a week ago and started search for the lost boy, whom she said she had sought for seven years in thirty-two cities. Joseph C. Le Mar, a Spaniard, had snatched him from her side on the street in Detroit when he was 3 years old and all trace of him had been lost.

Records Show Parentage.

"Mrs. Kaminski, from the records at the Woman's Free hospital in Detroit, is the mother of Joseph," said Mr. Reynolds. "No doubt about it. The date of his birth was on April 2, 1907, and his mother was registered there as Mrs. John Schultz, with the same street number as her father's home today. She is one of nine children left motherless at 13 years. She was married to Philip Kaminski on April 25, 1903.

Kidnaping Charge Fades.

"The kidnaping phase faded upon investigation," said Mr. Reynolds. "The Le Mars who were neighbors to Mrs. Frank Morgan in Detroit had the boy by consent of Mrs. Kaminski—three time. First, he was with the Le Mars a week, when his mother came for him. Then the second time he was with them, and on the third trip the Le Mars left the city. But there was no appeal to the police by the mother at the time, as the Le Mars could not be charged with kidnaping.

"The mother had a legal right to her child, but whether this has been forfeited must be decided by the court."

I. I. Nixon, the foster father, called Judge Arnold by long distance Saturday night to learn the will of the court in regard to his foster son, and was told that there would probably be another hearing soon. The Nixons were on a motor tour through Wisconsin and Michigan when they first learned that Joseph's mother had found him.

Mrs. Victor Kalz of 5 West Erie street, who was Mrs. Gertrude Dingee, with whom Joseph Le Mar left Joseph before he went to Detroit and shot his bride and then himself, assured Mrs. Kaminski yesterday that she would stand by her in her fight for her son.

MAYOR TOASTED WITH NEAR BEER AT M'GOVERN'S

John McGovern says he is certainly going to get his saloon license back this week because of his "triumphant vindication." He was tried and found not guilty of running a disorderly resort.

Meanwhile, at 661 North Clark street, the McGovern brothers' place was the only one with bar fixtures in the neighborhood which was open before midnight last night and not trying to conceal anything.

Roisterers were toasting each other in sparkling pop (strawberry, or red and brown, or sarsaparilla), and the mayor's health went round in mugs of near beer. Though the place was filled at 9 o'clock, crowded at 10, packed at 11, and jammed at 11:30, it was practically deserted at midnight.

That's when the regular saloons opened.

27 Lost 'Kids' with 27 Appetites Found in Park

Twenty-seven lost "kids," with twenty-seven pairs of leather lungs and twenty-seven tremendous appetites, were rounded up in Lincoln park yesterday and restored to parents.

"Wow!" said Lieut. Charles Theren of the park police station. "Them kids like to eat us out of bananas and they hollered like savages."

SHOOTS HIMSELF AND BEGS FATHER TO HASTEN END

Young Man Threatens to Kill Doctor if Not Allowed to Die.

Piteously begging his father to kill him and end the pain of a self-inflicted bullet wound, Frank Kaiser Jr. of 2523 South Trumbull avenue was taken from his home last night to the county hospital, where it is said he cannot live.

Kaiser Sr. and the mother of the boy, who is 21 years old, were sitting on the veranda of their home when they heard the report of a small rifle. Then they heard their son calling feebly:

"Father, father!"

Begs to Be Killed.

Kaiser ran into the house. The young man had dragged himself to the window so his cries could be heard. He had shot himself above the heart and was rapidly growing faint from loss of blood.

"Shoot me, father," he begged, "shoot me and end the misery."

His father took the rifle from the victim and instructed Mrs. Kaiser to call a physician. Meanwhile the son kept calling.

Threatens to Kill Doctor.

"If you call a doctor I'll shoot him," he cried. "I want to die. Shoot me, father, please."

Dr. F. J. Fara ordered him removed to the hospital. He said the young man has been in ill health and suffering from delusions that enemies are pursuing him.

CITIZENS WILL PASS UP WAR PICTURE TODAY

A private showing of the war film, "The Little American," will take place this morning at 10 o'clock at the Studebaker theater.

A bishop, civic workers, newspaper folk, business men, political figures, and artists have been asked to attend, and a ballot of their opinions will be offered as evidence in the hearing on the case before Judge Sabath tomorrow.

Maj. Funkhouser, critique de cinema, who barred the film from Chicago public showing because "it might offend some of our German citizens," was not asked to attend the private exhibit. Tomorrow's hearing is an appeal on his decision.

Through an error of the headline writer in yesterday's TRIBUNE it was made to appear that the private showing would be made on Sunday.

Chance Upon Their Child, Kidnaped 12 Years Ago

After twelve years Mr. and Mrs. George Ames of Durand, Mich., have found their daughter, Myrtle, kidnaped when a babe of 1 year at Grand Blanc, Mich.

By chance they noted a family resemblance in a little girl in charge of Patrolman John Buckley, who had taken her from the Genesee county farm with the intention of adopting her, and upon investigation found she was their child.

Further investigation showed that she had been placed with several families during her absence of a dozen years, and at times badly treated. The child was placed finally in the asylum, under an assumed name.

It is said the parents know the kidnapers. An investigation will follow.

Three Names Used by Girl Thief Fail to Save Her

She had three names, Esher Kane, Stella Rynastaus, and Esther Ford. Using one to a rooming house, she found it possible to get a room which provided headquarters for raids into other rooms, even in many cases the landlady's. All this she admitted yesterday when arrested on complaint of Mrs. Katherine Cannever of 2826 Broadway, who missed a bank containing 80 cents and suspected Esther Ford. Subsequently Mrs. Katherine Royer of 6225 Blackstone avenue and Mrs. Richard Dougan of 6084 Kenwood avenue identified the prisoner. Mrs. Royer had lost $50 and a string of gold rosary beads and Mrs. Dougan $12.

WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND

'UNCLE JOE' OF POSEY COUNTY CAN'T FIND 'LIDE'

Daughter's Address in Big City Lost, and So Is He.

Uncle Joe Putnam of Posey county, Ind., came up to Chicago yesterday to visit his daughter, "Lide," whose husband, Elihu Armstrong, is one of the "big men with a fotygraft company that enlarges pitchers."

A policeman found Uncle Joe examining a yellow covered memorandum book and took him to the South Clark street station.

"My name's Putnam," he said to Lieut. McMahon, "Joseph Warren Putnam, and there ain't no better name in the whole land. I was sure I had Lide's address in this 'ere book, but I see I was mistaken. For the life o' me I can't remember the name o' the street she lives on. I did hear her say once that she lived in what they called a suburb. I remember that because it sounds like rhubub.

Phone Mystery.

"Seems to me you policemen ought to be able to locate her in the telephone directory, as I heard her say she had one that cost her a dollar and a half a month.

"Ain't there no Armstrongs in the directory? Elihu is her man's name, and he's well known in the fotygraft business. He's the manager o' one o' the biggest pitcher enlargin' concerns in the country.

"He's a Posey county boy and has done right smart in Chicago. They didn't know I was comin' to town or they would have met me at the deepo."

Lieut. McMahon spent half an hour scanning directories, but failed to find the Armstrongs for whom Uncle Joe was searching.

High Sounding Clews.

"Is there such a thing around Chicago as a Lodge or a Manor?" asked the old man, his face brightening. "F'r instance a Warburton manor, or Devonshire lodge? That's the spot where 'Lide' would light. Or maybe you've got a terrace somewhere in the rhububs. Marlborough terrace—if there is such a place—would be just the kind of a street where you'd be apt to find her livin'."

Jury Demands Trial of Slayer.

A coroner's jury yesterday recommended that the assailants of Ralph B. Douglas, 26 years old, 3572 McLean avenue, who was killed on June 8, be apprehended and held to the grand jury on a charge of murder.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

Frank B. Ainsworth on June 25 killed himself in Los Angeles. THE TRIBUNE, on the 26th, in reporting the suicide, said that he was formerly in the employ of Armour & Co. in Chicago; that he was a native of England; that he became general manager of the reorganized Bankers' Reserve-Fund Life Insurance Company of Cincinnati; and that he had been in the insurance business in South Dakota.

The Frank B. Ainsworth who killed himself was once with Armour & Co. Another Frank B. Ainsworth was manager of the Cincinnati life-insurance company, and is now a resident of Sioux Falls, S. D.; he is a native of England, and is well known in the Middle West as a representative of the New York Life. The correspondent, because of the identity of names, combined the career of one with that of the other.

Delay in making the correction is due to the time consumed in ascertaining the detailed facts on which it is based.

Madame X, writing in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE of July 1 about the increasing number of lovely buildings in Chicago, mentioned the Roman Catholic church at Sheridan road and Buena avenue, and said it was copied from the church of Santa Maria Trastevere in Rome. Five readers say that Madame X erred—that the Chicago building was copied from the church of San Paolo Fuori le Mura in Rome.

Madame X was correct, as to the architecture; the readers are measurably correct: much of the interior is a copy of San Paolo.

Regarding a letter in The Voice of the People in which he was mentioned in connection with the old report that he once abused his official privilege by "mailing" his household goods from Washington to Chicago under a frank, Congressman Mason informs THE TRIBUNE that the original story was a political falsehood, and was retracted by the papers that printed it. He adds: "Almost every intelligent man knows that it would be impossible to do anything of that kind."

GEE WHIZ, BUT MR. BLOOM IS A SLIPPERY CUSS

Three years ago E. T. Strachan, a hide and leather dealer of New York, was flimflammed, he alleges, out of $3,500 by one Isaac Bloom. He has sought him the world over ever since.

On Friday he met Bloom at Madison street and Michigan avenue. Did he leap up and grab Bloom and take him to jail? No.

"Well, well," said Bloom, "if it ain't Strachan. Say, you gotta excuse me, I gotta a business engagement."

"Sure," said Strachan.

And Bloom was gone again.

BULLET WOUNDS FAIL TO PUT THIS COPPER TO BED

T. P. Heaphy Shot Twice by Gamblers; Says His Jaw Hurts.

It takes more than two bullet wounds to make Traffic Policeman Thomas P. Heaphy go to bed.

He was shot through the chin and through the left arm yesterday afternoon at West Fifty-fifth street and South Racine avenue.

After a doctor dressed the wounds, Policeman Heaphy answered the telephone in his home.

"I wanted to find out how Policeman Heaphy was shot," said a newspaper man.

Finds It Hard to Talk.

"This is Heaphy talking, or trying to talk," came the response. "I'm shot through the chin—it's kind of hard to move my jaws—and I'm shot through the left arm.

"O I'm in pain, all right; sure. Well, I'm on a vacation and I was going out to visit some friends on the south side and I was waiting for a street car at Fifty-fifth and Racine about 3 o'clock.

"A crowd of young fellows were shooting dice about 200 feet from where I was standing, and suddenly two of them ran out of the crowd and came running toward me. One had a gun in his hand and he kept saying to the other: 'Give me that money; give me that money.'

"Well, I tried to prevent what looked like a shooting, and while I was trying to get the gun away from the lad—he was about 25 years old—he turned and shot me twice. They got away.

"Kind of Dazed."

"I was kind of dazed and I couldn't run after them, so I went to a doctor and I just got home now."

"You'd better go to bed, hadn't you?"

"What's the use. It takes more than that to put me to bed. But my jaws hurt so I'll have to quit talking. So long."

Policeman Heaphy is 32 years old and lives at 5339 South May street. When he's on duty he's stationed at Madison and Franklin streets.

YES, IT'S A FACT: A "LITTLE HELL" SLAYER GIVES UP

A feud slayer in "Little Hell" has established an almost unbelievable precedent. He has given himself up voluntarily.

Giuseppi Maiorillio, 108 West Ontario street, surrendered yesterday to Detective Sergeant Longobardi. He confessed to the murder of Antonio Filatrantropio at West Ohio and Wells streets last Thursday. The shooting, picturesque even in a neighborhood where in ten years there have been nearly 800, almost caused a riot. Maiorillio fired five shots at Filatrantropio, then threatened the crowd with his gun.

After the murder the Chicago avenue police received several anonymous messages from men, supposedly friends of Maiorillio, saying he was about to give himself up. And yesterday he called up Longobardi and said he was ready. The detective found him waiting in his house.

The police say the probable motive for the crime was Maiorillio's suspicion that Filatrantropio had been friendly with Mrs. Maiorillio.

FRIENDS TRACE WHEREABOUTS OF A. A. BROWN

Friends who have been searching for Alfred A. Brown, the Austin business college principal who has been missing since June 9, believe they have traced him in the person of P. B. Haslick, who stopped Friday night at the National hotel, 57 East Van Buren street.

They are anxious that the authorities be notified wherever "Haslick" appears again. William Tice, proprietor of the hotel, was positive in identifying a photograph of Brown as that of his Friday night guest.

"This new clew gives us the hope that the search will be successful within a short time," said Dr. Percy L. Prentis, local chief immigration inspector, who has led the attempts to find Brown. "I am more than ever convinced that this is a case of dual personality."

BISHOPS WILL BE CHIEF SPEAKERS AT CAMPMEETING

Bishop Thomas Nicholson and Bishop J. W. Bashford, recently returned from the China mission fields, will be the chief speakers in the Desplaines campmeeting which will open on Wednesday night and continue until July 23. Bishop Bashford will speak on Fridays and Saturdays on the mission work in the far east.

Many improvements have been made in the campmeeting grounds, water extensions having been made from Desplaines and new features added to make the plant comfortable. It will be announced that during the year more than $25,000 has been raised to aid in paying off indebtedness.

More than 200 Chicago churches, English, Norwegian, Danish, and Swedish, will be represented in this, the fifty-eighth, annual meeting.

Bather Drops Dead on Beach.

Harry Weber, a clerk, living in the vicinity of Sixty-first and Sangamon streets, dropped dead yesterday afternoon as he left the water at the Seventy-fifth street beach. Heart disease, superinduced by shock of the cold water, is believed to have caused his death.

The shoemakers may claim exemption on the grounds of being our sole support.

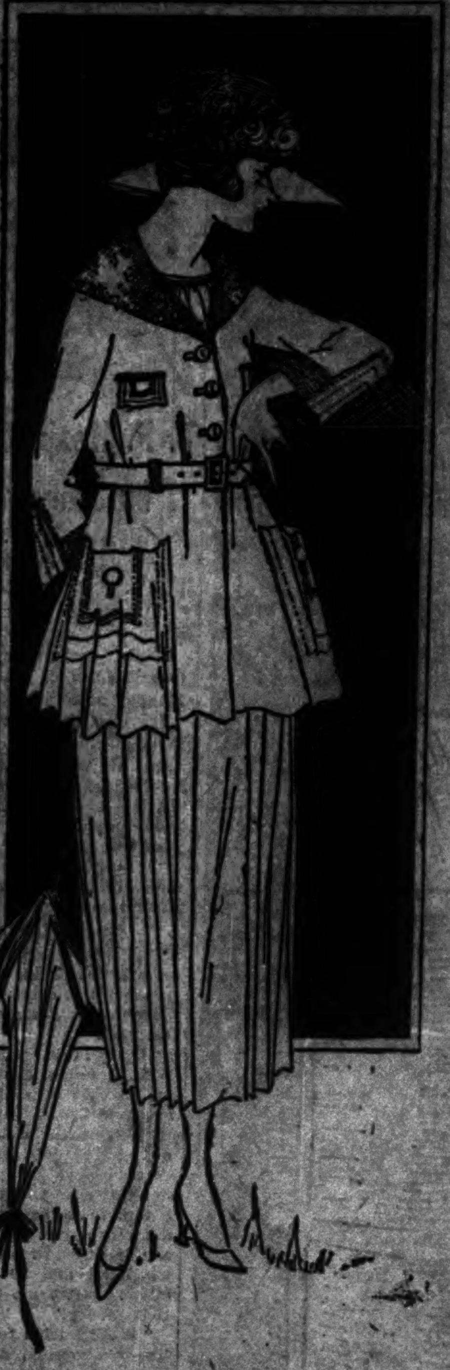
FASHION'S BLUE BOOK



BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Sports clothes may come and sports clothes may go, but the li'l old white serge suit goes on forever. It is the backbone of the summer wardrobe—the one costume which can be worn almost every place at seashore or mountain. True, it is trying in that it demands frequent dry cleanings. Yet this disadvantage is more than counterbalanced by the more constant and, hence, more expensive tubbings of the wash frocks and suits.

The model shown is one where stitching of light blue thread and a collar worked in knots of this same floss accomplish the smartness of style. The belt of white kid is held by a buckle of silver and the sleeve lining, collar lining, and the bit of silk which shows above the upper pocket are all of dark blue faille. The skirt does just what it ought in being narrow and plaited.

Meanwhile there comes to us from Rodier, that Edison of fabrics, strange rumors of what is doing in fall materials. Perhaps the most striking novelty is the employment of worsted embroidery on woolen materials. Chain stitching, the running stitch, and the French knot are the forms that this conceit generally takes. And then some. For in order to make the chain stitch more piquant it is set on end to produce the effect of a nice, rugged, old Turkish towel.

Real Love Stories

He Wanted Her.

I WAS employed in the private office as stenographer to the general manager, a middle aged man, whom I silently adored.

One afternoon I was standing in one of the outer offices talking to a few girls, when the office boy told me Mr. Palmer, the general manager, wished to see me. I entered the office exclaiming: "Do you want me, Mr. Palmer?"

He looked at me for a few moments as if considering something and said,

"Want you! I have always wanted you. I have tried to let you know how much I care with little attentions not shown other girls, but you seem to take them all as a matter of fact. That is why I have called you in here to tell you of my love for you. It is queer, Barbara. I didn't know just how I was to start to tell you, but you see you have made it all quite easy by asking me if I wanted you."

It was a pleasant surprise, indeed, for I had admired Mr. Palmer for the entire year I had worked for him, but thought there was no chance of having him care for me.

My answer was—well, we are married now, and my husband still says that I have a little innocent art all my own in making a situation easy. M. P.

Still Loyal to Him.

"Dear Miss Blake: When I was 18 years old I met and loved a man who later asked me to be his wife. I never expected to win him, because I was a green country girl and he was well educated. But we were married, and I think I was the happiest person in the world. However, mother-in-law and drink took him from me in two short years, and nine months after we were divorced he married a girl whom his mother had selected for him. I still love him, although it is nearly three years since we parted, and I pray he may come back to me some day.

"MRS. P. M."

O dear, what a pity your loyalty has not been to a worthier cause! Such a story as yours makes my heart ache, because there is nothing absolutely that can be done, as long as he is married to the other woman. I sincerely hope the future will unfold days more full of hope and happiness for you, for you certainly deserve them.

"The Tribune" will pay $5 for every real love story published. If you know one, submit it, and write no more than 300 words. Address Doris Blake, "The Tribune," Chicago. No manuscripts returned. If you have a perplexing love affair upon which you need the counsel of a friend, write Doris Blake. Send stamped, addressed envelope if you wish personal reply.

WHILE evincing not much, if any, originality as to subject matter, "Parentage" may be viewed advantageously as a study of types. Whoever picked the characters—I believe it was Mr. Henley—showed remarkable discrimination and understanding of human nature. Also, the picture is worth while as a poignant reminder to parents that the happy, judiciously cared for child of today is the cleanly and forceful adult of the future, while on the other hand the cowed, neglected youngster becomes the backdoor gangster and the cabaret rat.

Two homes and the influence of the parents in these homes on the future generation are depicted in the picture. From what I have told you you could almost write the story for yourselves. What you cannot do is reproduce the beautiful photography or, probably, picture with your mind's eye the people so vividly portrayed before you on the screen by the men, women, and children chosen for the parts. And it seems to me that there is no fault to be found with any of the acting. Unexpected touches of humor illuminate the whole.

As an exploitation of type this production might almost be rated as a classic.

ASK ME! ASK ME!

AMBITIOUS: Rather. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope, I shall take great pleasure in mailing you the article I have on how to become a photoplayer. Not a bit of trouble.

PICKFORD FAN: Write to Maj. Funkhouser and tell him what you think of him. Don't tell me. I'm a mind reader.

MRS. M.: Will I write you a personal letter? I most certainly will. I can't do it without your address, however. Send me a stamped, addressed envelope and you will hear from me immediately—just exactly what I think.

The Hair Dye Habit, Once Acquired, Will Keep You Busy

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

MRS. A. C.: I AM SORRY, BUT I cannot recommend a hair dye to you. The henna dyes you mention come in six different shades and if used should always be applied by an expert. There is just this about dyeing: Once the Rubicon is crossed you must be prepared to devote a good portion of your time to keeping the hair the correct shade and to treatments that will help counteract the effect of the dye. Hair that has become streaked would require a dye for the entire head, and that would give you the very appearance that you wish to guard against. Keep the scalp in a healthy condition by massage and correct shampooing and let the color take care of itself. Hair that radiates good grooming cannot help but be admired regardless of its color.

NANCY: THE DARK HOLLOWS under the eyes that you complain of are usually the result of fatigue or lack of sleep and disappear only when the cause is removed. If in your case they do not respond to this treatment the cause is an organic one and you should consult your physician. After the hollows disappear a daily gentle massage with a good skin food will freshen up the tissues and bring the skin back to normal.

The Successful Home Garden

BY J. F. H. HEIDE.

SOW NOW: Early green and wax pod beans, garden beets, early sweet corn, head lettuce, summer and winter radishes, early kohlrabi and field turnips.

TRANSPLANT NOW: Early red cabbage as "catch crop," Savoy cabbage, self-bleaching and green celery, summer endive, kohlrabi, head lettuce, and rutabagas.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—What is the best treatment I can give my clayey soil next fall and the following spring to have it right for next season? The garden is doing well, but the ground cakes hard when it gets dry. Will sifted coke do as a loosener?

Answer—Coke or coal ashes will not supply the organic matter that is lacking. Plow (or spade) in a three inch layer of dust compost and an inch of manure as soon after an autumn rain as the ground is workable and before it is dry and hard. This is usually about one day. As early in spring as the ground permits, plow or spade again, leaving the lumps to be disintegrated by the action of the weather until time for sowing or planting. Then rake or harrow to a smooth seed bed. If necessary, repeat the operation for the following year, plowing or spading an inch deeper each successive year.

For the present, diligent cultivation once a week and particularly a day or so after every rain, will keep the soil friable and induce growth.

Q.—Why not spray sweet peas for aphis (plant lice)?—A. K. and others.

Answer—No reason whatever. The pine bough brushing method was given in connection with the article on plant lice or aphids, July 2, No. 117, merely as an interesting variant. It is a time honored method used more or less effectively till contact sprays displaced it. It should really have been stated that that was the object in publishing it. Nevertheless, it is advised to use a slightly weaker solution for peas.

Q.—Can you give some remedy for killing the gray-green worms that devour currant bushes? Black 40 has no apparent effect.—R. R. J.

Answer—"Black Leaf 40" or nicotine is a remedy for sucking insects, such as diminutive green or black plant lice or aphids, and not for chewing insects such as the currant and gooseberry worm. For the first brood of these, which appears even before the leaves attain full size, spray paris green (one ounce in ten gallons water). For the second brood, which appears while the fruit is ripening, spray with hellebore (one ounce in two gallons water). The latter must be fresh, as it loses strength rapidly.

Q.—My potatoes, planted May 11, are about eighteen inches high on July 2, and have small potatoes on them the size of large peas only. My turnips, well cultivated and thinned out to four inches in the row, have leaves as large as big cabbages and turnips not much larger than a crabapple. What is the cause of this? What can I do to promote growth?—C. K.

Answer—Congratulations! Both are normal and promise well. Frequent cultivation—every seven to ten days and after every rain—is all you can do to promote growth. If the turnips are an early variety, they will be ready to pull in ten to fourteen days.

Bright Sayings of the Children

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for each child's saying printed. The only condition is the story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. Write on one side of the paper only. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, "Tribune," Chicago.

Margaret was at a neighbor's playing with a collie pup. Evidently she was hungry and hunted for a cooky, which she usually received each time she came. But her hostess, being busy, ignored her. Driven to desperation, Margaret exclaimed, "Never mind, puppy, I'm hungrier 'an you is."

My little brother always objected strongly to soap and water. One day when I was trying to persuade him to have his hands washed he declared that they didn't need it. Looking at me with his big blue eyes he said scornfully, "Why, you fink a fellow ought to wash his hands every day, don't you?" L. F.

Louise had some of her little friends in for luncheon the other day and among other things she had olives. She offered them to one little miss, who said she did not like them, whereupon Louise replied in a superior fashion: "O, I didn't like 'em at first, but you must accumulate a taste for them." E. S.

Billy, after hearing the relatives and friends offer their congratulations, stood admiringly before the bride and bridegroom as if about to say something. The bride (his sister) smiled sweetly at Billy, who braced up and said: "You look nice, sis, and I hope you'll stay married." M. W. P.

Dorothy, whose father is a doctor, came over one day and was eating cherries off of a limb which had blown down before the cherries were quite ripe. I told her they might make her sick, but she replied: "O, dat don't make no difference; I dot de doctor right along wiz me." R. M. H.

Catherine was told that another holiday was coming and that we would soon celebrate Fourth of July. "O, I am so glad," she said, "for I get so tired of the plain days." M. C. P.

Glittering Statements About Foods.

A MONTH or two back a doctor, who has been writing for the magazines and newspapers for twenty years, made the statement that the carbohydrates contained 1,600 food units, whereas the most condensed sugars—average 1,800, and starches average 1,600. Yet this man's word on all sorts of health subjects has been the law for thousands.

Another writer of the same profession began an article the other day thus: "Bananas are the most nutritious of all fruits." He should have said of all fresh fruits, and left out that loose and meaningless word "nutritious." It is one of the deceiving words in food talk. Presumably the doctor meant by it that the fresh banana—there are dried bananas in the shape of flour—contains the most food units or calories of any of the fresh fruits.

The number of food units in a pound of the edible part of a banana averages 460, but it may be as low as 330 and go up to 640. Grapes average 450 calories, and their carbohydrate is easily digested fruit sugar, while much of the banana is raw starch, which may, but very often does not yield up all its calories to the one who consumes it carelessly. There are people highly trained in food matter who believe bananas should never be eaten raw, that is, such bananas as we get green and have ripened in insanitary basements.

Dried fruits have high caloric value, the date averaging 1,475; dried figs the same, and the raisin 1,605, rising to 1,805, its carbohydrate being practically all fruit sugar.

Again this writer says: "A pound of bananas has a food value equivalent to a pound of salmon or a pound of trout or a pound of chicken." Does it? The edible portion of even a pound of broiling chicken has 505 calories, though bones and all it averages only 295 units. Fowls, which we often speak of as chicken, average 1,045 and go up to 1,520. Canned chicken averages 1,655 calories. The fat in a Columbia river salmon is the stored up energy prepared by the fish for its long journey of a thousand miles or more up that river. The canneries at the mouth of the river get these stored calories, and put them up for food for man's swimming or other work. The edible portion of a pound of such salmon yields 950 calories and about the same canned. The anterior section of a salmon goes up to 1,125, and averages 1,080.

If we are trying to learn to buy food in relation to its food units, let us follow no general writer's statements, but go to the highest authorities. Bulletin 28 of the United States department of agriculture, to be had for 10 cents of the superintendent of documents, Washington, D. C., can be relied upon. So can Sherman's "Food Products," published by Macmillan.

Golf Champions in Navy Benefit at Onwentsia July 28

WITH all sorts of social events being turned into Red Cross benefits, it is quite to be expected that the golf games will be capitalized for the cause, as they were to such an extent on Independence day at most of the outdoor clubs of the city. The mixed foursome to be played at Onwentsia club on July 28 for the benefit of the Navy league promises to be one of the gay social events of the summer, with much importance attached to it also as a sporting event.

With Miss Elaine Rosenthal, Miss Alexa Stirling of Atlanta, Ga.; Robert A. Gardner and "Chick" Evans, all of them champions present or past, to furnish the playing, and a large number of society women to furnish the patronage of the game, there probably will be appreciable receipts.

Tickets will be on sale at the country clubs of the city.

Mrs. Laurance H. Armour of Lake Forest has as her guest her sister, Miss Mary Withers of Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Everett C. Brown, who has been in Colorado for some time, expects to return to the city in the fall.

Mrs. C. Morse Ely and Mrs. William R. Odell have opened their summer homes in Biddeford Pool, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Weed Chandler of [illegible] Hyde Park boulevard and their daughter, Gloria, who has recently come home from her year at Smith college, have moved to Glen View club for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jenness Thain of Evanston announce the birth of a son on Thursday, July 5. Mrs. Thain was formerly Miss Elizabeth Goudy Slocum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. M. Slocum of Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Fleming, the latter formerly Miss Caroline Allport, who were married recently, have returned from their honeymoon in Wisconsin and are to be in Glencoe for the summer.

Mrs. Lee Lewis, who was Miss Minerva Perison, has come from Tacoma, Wash., to visit her father, L. Perison of [illegible] South Michigan avenue, for the summer.

Announcement is made of the birth of a son, to be named Robert Samuel, to Dr. and Mrs. Hugo Friedstein of Kansas City, Mo., the latter formerly Miss Helen Seelenfreund of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chickering and family of 1344 East Forty-eighth street left last week for a long stay at H-F Bar ranch in the Big Horn mountains of Wyoming.

Mrs. Raymond Dawes and her son of Springfield, Ill., will be the guests for two weeks of Mrs. Dawes' brother, Charles Beecher Lahan of Austin.

Miss Isabel Gilmore, daughter of Mrs. Arthur P. Gilmore of Winnetka and a debutante of last winter, is making a brief visit with relatives on the Hollywood ranch in the Sacramento valley in California.

Many small and informal parties for the young people of Lake Forest are being given by the friends of Miss Edith Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Mark Cummings of Lake Forest, who is entertaining a school friend, Miss "Bobbie" Brockie of Philadelphia, Pa.

NOTES OF THE CLUBS

THE Chicago chapter Red Cross circle and committee of the D. A. R. will meet tomorrow in room 921 Fine Arts building. This committee is busy with arrangements for an entertainment to be given on July 17 at 3 p. m. at the residence of Mrs. James S. Ball of 5332 Everett avenue for the benefit of the ambulance fund which the chapter is raising. One thousand dollars has already been contributed, and the rest, it is expected, will be raised from the proceeds of the entertainments to be given by the members.

The Woman's Relief corps will hold a meeting Wednesday on the fourteenth floor of the Stevens building to sew for the soldiers. Comfort kits are the specialty of this group of women.

Phil Sheridan circle will hold an ice cream social at the residence of the president, Mrs. Margaret Balsley, 1337 Sedgwick street, this evening.

At the Rogers Park Woman's club Wednesday at 2 p. m. there will be a debate on "Government Control of Food."

Washington Gay Despite the War; Few Departing

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—Washington never has been gayer than right at this minute, despite the war and our part in it a reality. As festive as the bright green, rose color, heliotrope, and golden yellow sweaters that the women knit as they chat on their porches are the little parties about the capital, for which every one seems to be lingering in the city.

Few of those who usually take flight from town as soon as the fruit blossoms have melted from the trees have left this year, and it almost seems like "the season," with luncheons, fêtes, dinners for visiting missions, and military and official informalities delightful and absorbing subjects of thought everywhere.

Many of the young married men of the city have secured desk work in the government offices by way of doing their part of the war work.

Among those who are entertaining is Mrs. Marshall Field, who is having many delightful affairs, both formal and informal.

Mrs. E. B. McLean, daughter of the late Thomas F. Walsh, is one of those who are doing notable relief work, and many are the committee meetings and advisory councils for war relief which are held in her charming home, which she has named "Friendship." Mr. McLean is the son of the late John R. McLean, owner of the Cincinnati Enquirer.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Bertha Lindstrom of 4033 Drexel boulevard to George F. Phillips.

Whole World Sees America in the Movies

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—A new slogan is "See America in the movies." Films produced in this country and of this country are now seen in all corners of the globe, and lead all other films in most places.

According to the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the department of commerce and labor, the movies have "literally made it possible for the whole world to see America on a large scale while sitting in their home towns."

This conclusion is predicated upon its official statistical volume, "Commerce and Navigation," which shows that this country exports every year increasingly large amounts of exposed film, while the imports of pictures produced in foreign countries correspondingly decrease.

Exports to Europe were 17,762,429 feet, valued at $1,317,831, in 1913, and 126,749,563 feet, valued at $4,851,806, in 1916. In 1916 imports of exposed films reached the lowest mark of recent years.

Consular reports show that in Paris in a single month, out of 12,000 meters of film shown 11,000 were American.

Music to Enliven Cooks' Food Saving Meeting Thursday

IN addition to the patriotic songs to be sung by Miss Carolina White of the Chicago Grand Opera company, the Norwegian Singing Society Skaal will furnish three numbers on the program of entertainment for the cooks' conservation meeting Thursday evening in the Hotel Sherman. One of the songs is specially composed for the conservation meeting and is called "Chicken."

After the speeches there will be open discussion of all sorts of food topics from the floor. Otto Saas, whose specialty is baking, will speak about bread; Earnest Trau, secretary of the Pastry Cooks' association, will speak on ways and means of saving in pastry making, and Jules Garnier, Francois Le Fevre, and Albert Friest, other specialists, will speak.

There have been many inquiries already about the $10 prize for the wheatless, meatless menu. The committee stated yesterday that absolutely no menus would be received by mail. All those wishing to contest must bring their menus to the meeting Thursday. Only those professionally engaged in the preparation of foods are eligible for the contest.

This afternoon at 2 twenty Italian women will meet with the instruction department of the woman's committee for lessons in cookery and household thrift. Miss Victoria Licci will interpret, and volunteer nurses from the Congress of Mothers, Woman's City club, and Chicago Woman's club will be on hand to take care of the babies while the mothers struggle with the English language and the mysteries of American cookery. These meetings for women of foreign birth will take place twice a week—on Mondays and Fridays.

One of the newest of the workrooms of the Red Cross is that in the Arts club on the fifth floor of the Fine Arts building. Mrs. C. E. Morre is in charge of the work. Another new workroom will open on Tuesday in the Herman Beardsley Butley Memorial house, Broadway and Belmont avenue.

Mrs. T. R. Jr. to France Soon.

New York, July 8.—[Special.]—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., who is occupying the Johnston cottage on Rhode Island avenue, Newport, will start soon for France, where she will engage in war relief work. Her husband, Maj. Roosevelt, is with Gen. Pershing's forces in France.

OBITUARY.

Widow of Chicago Civil War Veteran Is Dead

Mrs. Sarah A. May died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. E. W. Clancy, in Beatrice, Neb., on July 5, after a brief illness, of paralysis. Mrs. May was the widow of Col. Gordon A. May, who took out the Thirteenth Illinois volunteer cavalry from Chicago in 1861. She came to Chicago as a bride in 1853.

Mrs. May was the mother of Mrs. Harry T. Morgan of Oak Park, Mrs. Ervin W. Clancy of Beatrice, Neb., Miss Olive May of New York, and the late Walter N. May. She was the grandmother of Gordon A. Macdonald, Philip and Fleta Clancy. Interment at Oakwoods cemetery today.

J. F. McCarthy Is Dead; in City Politics 30 Years

Jeremiah Francis McCarthy, well known in Twenty-first ward politics, died at his residence, 442 Garfield avenue, yesterday, aged 62. The cause was pneumonia. He was deputy city collector for sixteen years and had been affiliated with politics in the Twenty-first ward for thirty years. He came from Boston, where he was born. He is survived by his widow, Mary, his sons, Assistant State's Attorney Justin F. McCarthy, and James W. McCarthy, and his daughters, Mrs. John J. Quinn and Mrs. R. J. Gloor. The deceased was a brother-in-law of James Aloysius Quinn.

Red Cross Tea Nets $500.

An afternoon tea for the benefit of the Red Cross was given yesterday on the lawn of the residence of Mrs. H. A. De Wyndt, 886 Sheridan road, Winnetka. Soft drinks were served by north shore debutantes under the direction of Mrs. Donald McPherson. An admission fee of 25 cents was charged, and the proceeds totaled $500.

SOME THOUGHT, LESS WORDS, MAY MAKE A SLOGAN

One Man Sends In 25 and Fails to Sound the Right Note.

"Have a slogan or two," wrote one man to the slogan editor, and submitted about twenty-five. Not one of them was suitable for use in connection with Robert Reid's naval poster at Randolph street and Michigan boulevard. Not one of them would even hint at inspiring enlistments in the navy, so the judges threw them all out. If this man, instead of dashing off more than a score promiscuously and without deep thought, had tried to write a real slogan it might have won a prize. So many dash off the first thing that enters their heads. Maybe it is an old quotation, perhaps it is too long, or it may be entirely without relation to the subject. One man tried to see how many different combinations he could make out of U. S. His letter was a nightmare to the judges.

You have Monday and Tuesday left and the two men between 17 and 25 who turn in the two best slogans will draw down prizes of $50 each.

More Samples.

The following are not given as patterns, but as examples of some already submitted:

"Boost up your navy. Come across."—Paul Manning, 445 East Forty-fifth place.

"We need your help to win."—L. Moran, 3651 Hudson street.

"Let's clip the kaiser's mustache."—T. R. Gustavson, 1502 Highland avenue.

"If you don't come the Germans will."—C. K. Freeark, "Somewhere in the middle west."

"Fight, that's all."—William Larsen, 3309 Hirsch street.

"It's better to go to war than come to grief."—Hayward Martin, 6316 Laflin avenue.

"Hey! You! We Need You!"

"Hey! You! We need you!"—A. H. Malchrist, no address.

"Don't let others do your fighting."—C. B. Bohrn, 5805 Ridge avenue.

"Enlist quick, give the enemy old Nick."—A. C. Gerstein, Monadnock building.

"Even a worm will turn. Are you less?"—J. H. Daly, Danville, Ill.

"An appeal to manhood."—D. C. Miller, 1337 Insurance Exchange.

"Help carry 'Old Glory' to glory."—Otto Kearns, 3442 Elaine place.

"Don't be behind, be with us."—R. C. Humphrey, 1012 East Sixty-second street.

LE SOLDAT AMERICAIN IL EST BIEN BEAU

Edouard Petitpierre and his daughter, Mlle. M. Petitpierre, of Paris, arrived in Chicago Saturday on their way to the west. They are probably the first French folk to arrive in the country who were in France at the time of the arrival of Gen. Pershing in Paris. Both were enthusiastic about the American troops.

Mlle. Petitpierre.

"It was wonderful!" said Mlle. Petitpierre. "They marched all through the streets of Paree. Gen. Pershing is so fine. I have seldom seen such crowds. All the windows and stores were decorated with the American flag. All over the streets they hung.

"The French love the Americans. Nothing is nearer to us than they. I am especially pleased with the way the Americans treated the French in this country. I heard a great deal about it."

Mlle. Petitpierre was told of the France day celebration to be held next Saturday.

"How lovely! This is one of the finest things I have heard about."

Asked about general conditions in France, she said:

"We have plenty of food. We have no meatless days. The courage of the French youths is fine. They have been fighting for over two years, and yet they still flock to the colors.

"I have three brothers in the trenches. They have been there for two years," she added proudly.

RAIL MANAGERS ARE BLAMED FOR TRAFFIC FAULTS

Washington, D. C., July 8.—[Special.]—The national shippers' conference issued a statement today severely criticising President Rea of the Pennsylvania railroad for his recent attack on the decision of the interstate commerce commission in the 15 per cent rate case.

Clifford Thorne, Luther Walter, and Graddy Cary, for the shippers, asserted President Rea's statement was an apparent effort to shift the burden for the shortcomings of the transportation service, present or future, to the refusal of the interstate commerce commission to approve all the increases in rates demanded by the carriers.

"He overlooked the fact, however," the shippers' statement said, "that there are serious questions of management that might require consideration if this issue were presented. Mr. Rea is the last man in the United States who should have issued a statement attacking the commission's decision on the ground of inadequate funds."

Jews in Palestine Not Massacred, Morris Told

STOCKHOLM, July 8.—In response to an inquiry by Ira Nelson Morris, the American minister, the Swedish minister at Constantinople telegraphs to the Swedish foreign office that, according to reports reaching him from reliable sources, the tales of a massacre of Jews in Palestine are untrue.

OWEN MORRIS OF KANSAS GETS JOB AND LOT BESIDE

But Wife Refuses to Accept More than Needed.

The night staff of THE TRIBUNE had not yet gone home before the phone on the city editor's desk was ringing, and sympathetic voices of men and women were anxiously inquiring what they could do to help the four little Morris children. By 6 o'clock Sunday morning pledges of money were being recorded, together with offers of jobs for Owen Morris.

"Tell Owen Morris he can have a job Monday morning at 8 o'clock," said one kind voice at half past 7. The voice had no name of its own, it seems. It belonged to the Colortype company, 1030 Fullerton avenue.

George P. Gilman, vice president of the Lindsay Light company, 161 East Grand avenue, is not in the habit of rising early on Sundays, but Sunday morning at half past 9 George P. Gilman was knocking at the door of the Morris household, 507 West Forty-seventh street, and inquiring if Owen Morris was at home. He was; he came home Saturday night, once again without work, and it was a lean, desperate looking young man who opened the door.

His Job Landed.

Owen Morris is to report for work at the Lindsay Light company on Monday morning.

By early afternoon no less than 200 people had called THE TRIBUNE, offering food, money, clothing, jobs, personal service, anything, to help the four hungry youngsters.

When a TRIBUNE reporter arrived at the Morris home at 2:30 yesterday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. George Gallaher, 6102 Green street, had just arrived with a suit case full of food. Hot roast beef from their own table was placed on the table in the Morris kitchen; there was fresh bread still warm, butter, eggs, milk, two packages of macaroni, breakfast food, tea, sugar; even soap had not been overlooked.

When the reporter left Mr. Gallaher was playing with baby Charles, and promising little Howard, aged 5, that he was going to "send a doctor man to take care of his mamma."

For Kids in Picture.

On the curb a little fair haired girl in pink was jumping out of a limousine with a bundle in her arms "for the little girl and boy in the picture." She was the 10 year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Hayden, 4446 Drexel boulevard. They had come to offer whatever was necessary in the way of clothing or money or work.

At 4 o'clock Mrs. John L. Carroll, 117 East Twentieth street, arrived, but Mrs. Morris would accept nothing more. "We are not grabby," she said. "It wouldn't be honorable to take anything more, now we got so much help and a job promised."

The first cash contribution received by THE TRIBUNE for this family was $1 from "Bill Bailey," formerly of Fort Scott. "Surely the Kansas colony of Chicago will come to the relief of its worthy neighbors," he wrote.

The I. S. Conway company, Forty-ninth street and Hoyne avenue, offered Owen Morris a job at $3 per day. Richard S. Hill, president of the Hitchcock-Hill company, 38-46 West Kinzie street, has also offered him the opportunity for work.

E. S. Corcoran of the Erie railway says Morris can earn $75 per month if he will report Monday morning. Mrs. J. B. Farquher of the Farquher Loom Manufacturing company has promised a check for $5 for the family and a job for Owen Morris in the factory.

IT'S A MEATLESS DAY IN HOMES OF MANY PATRIOTS

Instead of mere conversation about conservation the response to THE TRIBUNE definite sacrifice food pledge shows that the American people mean to DO as well as TALK. Today is a wheatless or meatless day for the following people among the hundreds who have pledged themselves to a small personal sacrifice for the good of the cause:

Mrs. E. F. Crombie of White Cloud, Mich.,
Miss Agnes Nolan,
Mrs. E. W. Mattson,
Mrs. William Graham,
Mrs. Lynden Evans,
Miss Ida Dwinoff,
Starrett School for Girls, Mary Gorman White, principal,
Miss Irene Warren,
Miss Ethel M. Durfee,
Mrs. M. K. Graves,
Mrs. L. E. Odom,
Mrs. C. E. Reid,
Mrs. F. C. Peyraud,
Miss Ruth Wilcox,
Dr. R. W. Count,
Mrs. Elizabeth Grice,
R. Stillwell,
Mrs. Eleanore Luxmon,
F. S. Webb,
Mrs. Florence M. Fulton,
B. N. Anderson,
Mrs. H. T. Hamlin,
Mrs. Catherine Perry,
Harriet Brownell, St. Charles, Ill.,
Mrs. Charles Melrose, Grayville, Ill.,
Mrs. Frank Funk, Bloomington,
Miss Isabel Bevier, Urbana,
Mrs. L. E. Yager,
Miss Annie Hinrichson.

All these people have said that they would do without either wheat or meat on every Monday. So many others have signed for Mondays and for other days of the week that the few who haven't yet had the courage are distinctly alone. Come on in; the signing's fine.

BOSTON COPPER NEWS.

It has been decided by directors of First National Copper company to pay another dividend on Aug. 15, the amount being 40 cents a share. In August a year ago the company paid its first and only dividend of 25 cents. It is understood semi-annual disbursements will be made hereafter as earned.

Under its ten year smelting contract with the United States Smelting company, profitable operations have been conducted by Balaklala Copper company, controlled by First National company. Shipments of ore to the Mammoth smelter approximate 300 tons daily, which, under call from the smelting company, could be doubled.

The Balaklala ores average 2.85 per cent copper, and with silver at present high prices the precious metal contents run about $1.40 per ton of ore.

Net earnings of Mohawk Mining company for the first half of 1917 approximated $1,400,000. Applied to outstanding capital this was equal to about $14 a share, out of which stockholders received $10 as the first semi-annual dividend of the year.

For the copper sold during the first half of this year Mohawk received an average of close to 30 cents a pound. Costs, which have been mounting everywhere, did not overlook Mohawk, it being estimated that up to June 30 it cost this company about 11 cents a pound to land its output at market points. This figure includes all charges and taxes. At the mine the cost was about 9 cents a pound.

Report of the Anaconda company to the assessor of Silver Bow county, for purposes of taxation, for twelve months ended June 1, shows net earnings of $36,010,542, against $14,363,881 last year.

In the year ended June 1, 1917, gross value per ton of ore mined was $15.97; cost per ton for mining same, $5.19; cost per ton for transportation, 19 cents; cost for reduction per ton, $3.34. Company's wage payments were $27,235,556; for machinery and supplies used at the mines, $31,523,835, and for freight, $1,109,890.

CORN FUTURES IN BIG UPTURN; NEW HIGH MADE

Active Demand for Cash Grain at Highest Prices on Crop Chief Factor.

The prohibition of trade in July corn failed to check the buying enthusiasm in the other months, and prices have advanced sharply the last week, activity in the December being the feature. That prices were fully maintained in the face of a tremendous volume of profit taking sales was regarded as significant, the new buying absorbing the offerings.

No. 2 yellow on Saturday sold at $1.85½ and No. 2 white at $1.86, the highest prices on the crop, with the high prices bringing out but few offerings. Receipts for six weeks past have been heavy, but during this period of large receipts there has been no accumulation of stocks, and the supply at visible points is now extremely light.

Cash Markets All Strong.

Cash markets in all directions have been strong, and the corn that was held in country elevators has been pretty well distributed, while the foreign necessities are apparently as great as ever.

Whether farmers are hoarding corn is a question. It would not be unlikely in many sections where the outcome of the new crop is problematical, especially as there has been nothing in general conditions to suggest any cheap prices. Consequently farmers are not anxious to take time from their seasonable work to unload corn. Should weather conditions indicate the harvesting of a big crop of corn there might be more selling by the farmers, but if general reports are to be given credence there is now no great amount of old corn back in the country, while there is still a considerable period of time before the new crop will be available.

Increased Acreage in Corn.

The forthcoming government report is expected to show a big increase in acreage of corn. The indications will probably be for a crop much larger than a year ago, but to offset this the crop is ten days to two weeks late, and in the southwest there has been a lack of rain, which has been against the development of the crop. There is still time, with favorable weather conditions, to harvest a big crop, but the critical period for the crop is ahead. Live stock prices make corn feeding profitable at high prices, and farm consumption will continue heavy.

Foreign conditions are bullish on corn. Argentina has little corn for shipment, foreign needs are increasing with the substitution of corn for wheat, while this country has about the only available supply, with the shortest lines of transportation, which is an increasingly important factor.

Oats Bulls More Aggressive.

In oats the strength in corn has been an aid to the bulls, who have been more aggressive in spite of the fact that the crop promises to be a bumper one. A comparison of oats prices with corn values shows a wide discrepancy, and even with a big crop of oats, bulls believe prices to be at too great a discount under corn. So far there has been no serious drawback to the maturing of the oats crop except in a comparatively small section of the southwest. The only complaint generally is in regard to the lateness of the crop. This will probably mean small deliveries from the farms during July. Oats are now ripening over considerable territory and there will be some selling of new oats. So far, however, there has not been the customary call for bids on new oats, and farmers appear disposed to sit tight temporarily.

Canadian Outlook Favorable.

The Canadian crop outlook is generally reported as favorable, but the season is late, which will increase the danger of losses later on. Argentina has a small surplus to export, while foreign needs are heavy, and there are still many unfilled orders in this country for export. Clearances of oats the last week have been heavy. Primary receipts for the week were 4,078,000 bu, against 3,607,000 bu a year ago.

Slow Trade in Wheat.

Wheat trade has become insignificant. Receipts are small enough to confirm the reports of exhaustion of old supplies. With premiums still firm for good wheat, there is little being offered, and primary arrivals for the week were less than half as large as a year ago. The export trade as well as the buying of new wheat by dealers is of small proportions, as all business in wheat is waiting developments at Washington. Until it is known definitely what the program of the food administration will be there will be little doing in this cereal. Millers are buying wheat in a hand to mouth way, but the flour trade also is quiet and waiting developments.

Hog receipts in the west for the week were 365,700, against 427,300 a year ago. Receipts showed a big falling off from the previous week, largely on account of the holiday. Prices for hogs have been fairly strong, and a better demand for fresh and cured meats was reported, while the demand for lard was slow. The foreign demand is expected to be good, although quiet at the present time, while the domestic requirements will be liberal.

Breaks Neck by Fall.

A man believed from papers in his clothing to be John Nelson, about 40 years old, was taken unconscious to the county hospital yesterday after he had fallen down a flight of stairs at 910 West Monroe street. His neck is believed to be fractured.

GEN. J. E. STUART, VETERAN OF MAIL SERVICE, IS 75

Gen. James E. Stuart, postoffice inspector for Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin, expected to get a day of rest yesterday, but he was disappointed.

All day long he was kept busy answering the telephone calls of friends who rang him up to offer their congratulations on his seventy-fifth birthday. He spent the day at home with his family at 3144 West Monroe street.

Gen. Stuart was born in Scotland, coming to this country when [illegible] years old. He served through the civil war as a captain and through the Spanish-American war as a major in the Second Illinois. He entered the postal service in 1866, in charge of the second railway mail division in the service. In 1876 he was appointed in charge of the department he now heads.

Killed by Fall in Street.

An unidentified man [illegible] died in the [illegible] police station early yesterday [illegible] in his [illegible] right of the elevated railroad [illegible] East Lake street.

The "Safety Valve" in Modern Bookkeeping

"Every bookkeeping department needs a 'safety valve,'" says Mr. R. G. Morgan, Credit Manager of the Oliver Chilled Plow Works, South Bend, Ind. That is what he calls the proof sheet. He knows the need for and the value of "control" in bookkeeping, which the proof sheet gives.

His books were formerly kept by twelve hand bookkeepers. There was no way of locating errors at once; no means of absolutely checking the accuracy of each day's work; no record to help in checking back over the month's work.

With the installation of four Elliott-Fisher Bookkeeping Machines, Mr. Morgan established "Proof Sheet Control." Now he writes:

"The Oliver Chilled Plow Works has not had to check back the postings on a single ledger since Control was established. It is an achievement never accomplished by us under the hand system, and the simple explanation of this record is the proof sheet."

Mr. Morgan frankly admits he was at first skeptical with reference to the advantages of the proof sheet, and even desired to curtail its use. But now, he says, "results have proven conclusively the advisability of the proof sheet. It is a feature of the utmost importance. The system not only lightens the burden in this department, but has done much to simplify the statements which go out to dealers."

Note the flat writing surface on which forms are held in the natural flat writing position. This makes the proof sheet possible.

UNDERWRITERS OFFER EXPERT AID TO WAR DEPT.

May Help in Construction of Cantonments for U. S. Army.

BY C. M. CARTWRIGHT.

The national board of fire underwriters has offered to the war department the services of one of its buildings and inspection expert to aid in the construction of the sixteen cantonments which are being provided for the national army. As all these structures are built of lumber, fire prevention and water supply will be looked after and fire drills will be organized. The national board feels that one of its experts can be of great service to the government in this regard. All the safeguards employed by the insurance organizations will be adopted as far as possible to frame structures of these cantonments.

The Chicago board of fire underwriters will hold its next meeting July 12. The nominating committee has suggested the names of Fred W. Koeckert, secretary of the Continental; Clarence Ozman of the Chicago insurance agencies, and R. G. Scheunemann of Eliel & Loeb for members of the executive committee.

Plan Districting State.

During the week the new Conservation Association of Illinois, in charge of Robert C. Hosmer of Chicago as chairman, held a meeting arranging for the districting of the state so that food repositories can be inspected readily and with great dispatch. Coöperating with this association will be the state council of defense and the Illinois state fire marshal's office.

The inspection work will be in charge of the traveling insurance men, who are working under the jurisdiction of the western conservation committee of the national board of fire underwriters.

Interested in Conference.

Life insurance men were deeply interested in the conference at Washington, D. C., during the week, when Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and representatives of the life insurance companies talked over the plan of the government to grant $4,000 life insurance to each man entering the military service. It was evident to the life insurance men that the government had worked out its plan and had decided to put it in operation, simply calling the officials of companies to Washington to listen to an explanation and to get their approval.

When the secretary of treasury telegraphed the various companies asking them to send representatives to Washington there was considerable curiosity manifested as to just what the government had in mind. It was thought by some officials that perhaps the government would take the subject up at the conference and seek a plan that would be practical and meet with general approval.

McAdoo Explains.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo explained the plan of the government and asked for an expression of opinion. There were some officials who felt that the method decided on by the government might lead it into very deep water, especially if United States troops become involved in the war to a large extent.

The government will pay $4,000 on the installment plan to the dependents or beneficiaries of any one killed in the service. Furthermore, it proposes to work out some system of disability benefit. Life insurance men feel that the scheme of the government will be very expensive, much more so than the present pension system.

Permanency Doubted.

Some of the officials declared that the private insurance companies should grant the insurance, taking care of all the details, having premiums paid just as in normal times, and the government simply assuming the excess mortality beyond the 100 per cent expected and allowed by the mortality table. One of the difficulties confronting any plan of the government is the doubt as to whether it would be permanent. One congress could adopt a plan and then another could repeal it and decide on some other method.

The fact that the government has approved of life insurance for those entering military service seems a national recognition and approval of the system and will be of vast educational benefit.

Tornado Insurance Increases.

Insurance companies have greatly increased their tornado premiums during the last two months. The devastating storms of May and June caused widespread fear throughout the central west, resulting in more people than ever taking on tornado indemnity. The grand aggregate of losses in the storms this spring was greater than any other one period.

The fact that so many industrial structures, business houses, and the like were damaged or destroyed caused large properties to be covered with insurance.

C. S. Wilson of Chicago, superintendent of agents of the National Life, U. S. A., has been elected general manager of the new Des Moines Life and Annuity Insurance company, which has been organized by business men and bankers of the Hawkeye state. Mr. Wilson formerly lived in Des Moines, where he was a life insurance general agent. Later he located in Omaha as field supervisor for the Reliance Life Insurance company. The Des Moines Life and Annuity has completed the sale of its stock and will begin writing insurance in a short time.

Illinois has a new live stock insurance company located at Danville which has received its license and has just started writing business. It is the Farmers and Breeders' Live Stock Insurance company. The main factor in this organization is Jere M. Keeney as general manager, who has had a long experience in the live stock insurance field. This gives Illinois three institutions of this character.

Editors Dedicate Tablet to Col. Herbert at Redwing

Redwing, Minn., July 8.—[Special.]—A bronze tablet in honor of Col. B. B. Herbert of Chicago, publisher of the National Printer - Journalist and founder of the National Editorial association, was dedicated here by two hundred delegates to the national convention in Minneapolis, who spent a day here on the way to the gathering. Herbert was overcome with emotion and broke down and wept when he attempted to respond.

Westinghouse Electric.

J. E. L., South Bend, Ind.—The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company did a gross business of almost $90,000,000 in the year ended March 31 last, being an increase of 80 per cent over the year before and more than twice the best record previous to that. Net earnings were $18,848,237, which covered interest charges and preferred dividends many times over and left a balance equal to 30 per cent on the amount of common stock outstanding up to February, when $15,000,000 of new stock was issued. On the $74,812,650 of stock now outstanding 24 per cent was earned. A large part of the profits came from munitions contracts, but regular business was the largest the company ever did.

Pacific Sugar Corporation.

W. A. S., Mattoon, Ill.—The Pacific Sugar corporation claimed last January to own 2,500 acres of California land and to hold 14,000 acres under lease and to have under construction a beet sugar factory with a capacity of 66,000 tons a season. At the present high prices of sugar the annual net earnings are estimated at over $600,000. The company has issued $2,000,000 of first mortgage bonds, $1,000,000 of 8 per cent preferred stock, and 25,000 shares of common of no par value. The property of the company is valued at a little over $3,000,000. The securities evidently are speculative, depending on the prosperity of the sugar business. The stock is dealt in over the counter, but no quotations are published.

Edmunds & Jones.

A. H. S.—The Edmunds & Jones corporation manufactures most of the lamps used on automobiles. With sales of automobiles tending to decrease, it is probable that the demand for lamps will go in the same direction. The company reported gross sales of $2,820,285 in 1916 and gross profits of $747,822. This figured out at a little more than $12 a share on the 40,000 shares of common. Of the $1,000,000 of preferred stock, $80,000 was retired. The balance sheet of Dec. 31 gave the common stock an asset value of $15.71 a share compared with $12.56 as of June 30, 1916. Evidently the common is subject to fluctuation in value as earnings vary.

Lindsay Light.

G. H., Wausau, Wis.—The Lindsay Light company earned $431,000 in the year ended May 31 last. This is slightly more than double the earnings of the previous year. The 7 per cent dividend was paid on $400,000 of preferred stock and 16 per cent on $600,000 of common. The surplus remaining equaled more than 50 per cent on common stock. An extra dividend of 17 per cent will be paid on Aug. 31. The war has helped the company by cutting off European competition.

Brief Answers.

J. H.—The Southern Montana Oil company has leases on lands in oil producing districts and is preparing to drill wells. The stock is purely speculative for the present. Wells in proved oil territory sometimes are dry and companies that find oil do not always pay dividends. Human knowledge cannot predict the outcome of such an undertaking.

J. M., Milwaukee, Wis.—We cannot predict the future earnings of railways or the course of the market for their stocks. As you know, the advance in wages of Jan. 1 last and higher costs generally have cut into net earnings of most lines seriously.

C. L. C.—The General Electric Railway company had a franchise covering twenty-eight miles of street. As far as we know, the only track it ever built extended from Dearborn station to Twenty-second street. This has been torn up and the franchise has expired.

Wife, Quick on Draw, Shoots Husband; Arrested

Antonia, wife of Angelo Emma, 2042 Emerson avenue, had a little argument with her husband yesterday. Both of 'em were heeled. Antonia drew first. The bullet plowed through Angelo's left cheek and he shut up. Both were arrested.

Rockefeller 78; Valet Helps Him Celebrate

Tarrytown, N. Y., July 8.—[Special.]—John D. Rockefeller was 78 years old today and the one bright spot was the visit of James Quinn, his faithful valet, who has been called to the colors.

THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK
will sell at his office in the Municipal Building, on Thursday, July 12, 1917, at 2 P. M.
$47,500,000—4½%
Gold Corporate Stock of the City of New York
Payable July 1, 1967,
—and—
$7,500,000—4½%
Gold Corporate Stock (15-Year Serial) of the City of New York
Maturing annually from July 1, 1918, to July 1, 1932, inclusive.
EXEMPT FROM FEDERAL INCOME TAX,
And from all Taxation in the State of New York Except for State Purposes.

The latter class will be only sold in series. For example: A single bid for $15,000 is a proposal for 15 $1,000 items maturing from one to fifteen years. No bids will be accepted for separate maturities.

Separate Proposals must be made for each class.

The Greater New York Charter provides that bids may be made for as small an amount as $10 and in multiples of $10 for each maturity. No bid for Corporate Stock in the serial form can be accepted for less than $150.

Send bids for each class in separate sealed envelopes, enclosed in other envelopes addressed to the Comptroller. A deposit of Two Per Cent of Par Value must accompany each Bid. Such deposit must be in money or certified check upon a New York State Bank or Trust Company, or any National Bank.

For fuller information see "City Record," published at Nos. 96 and 98 Reade street, New York, or consult any Bank or Trust Company. Send for descriptive circular to WILLIAM A. PRENDERGAST, Comptroller, City of New York.
Municipal Building, New York.

Bonds Exempt from Income Tax

The Normal Federal Income Tax, now practically certain to be fixed at 4%, has now become an important factor in investing money. The prudent investor is especially careful to select and purchase bonds that are free from this tax.

We are now offering, for July investment, a widely diversified selection of sound first mortgage serial bonds, netting 6%, safeguarded under the Straus Plan, on which the borrowing corporation pays the normal income tax. Each issue is secured by the highest grade of income-earning property in Chicago, New York, or some other large city.

Call or write for our July Investment List and our timely booklet, "Acid Tests of Investments in War Time." One of our officers will gladly give you his personal aid and counsel in solving your investment problem. Ask for

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & CO

During July and August This Store Closes at One o'Clock on Saturday.

Red Cross Room for Volunteer Workers, Ninth Floor, North.

¶ Continuing with unabated interest—the Midsummer Sales and the July Clearances.

¶ Renewed assortments of midsummer merchandise bring out new modes, offer splendid qualities, reveal in most interesting terms pricings characteristic of the Midsummer Sales.

¶ And the July Clearances are bringing opportunities in many lines to purchase seasonable merchandise—in many ways more striking this year than ever, because conditions have made much good merchandise at this time worth its full early season value—in some cases worth even more.

Summer Footwear—A Showing

Of the Favored Fashions in White

One of the whitest "white summers" of many a fashion season calls forth just such as these—

Varied Modes in White Canvas Footwear

At $5, $5.50 and $6.50 the Pair

Four representative styles of pumps, Colonials and Oxfords are pictured above. Aside from their self-evident fashion correctness, they are to be commended for their excellent workmanship. Also—

Pumps, Colonials, Oxfords, in Black Soft Kid or Dull Finish Kid, $7.50 Pair.

Third Floor, South.

All White House Dresses

Featured in the Midsummer Sale

Here are styles that translate perfectly the practical and serviceable, yet make no sacrifice of attractiveness—

Pricings That Make Replenishing Now Most Highly Profitable

This is the case whether you choose from the assortments at $1.95, $2.95, $3.95 or $4.75.

At $2.95—White Pique House Dresses

At $3.95—Fine White Repp House Dresses

Only touch can convey the soft texture of this fabric. The style with its deep, finely fitting yoke is pictured here at the right. Pockets here are tucked into this yoke.

At $3.95—A Smart White House Dress in Youthful Lines—with Dotted Collars.

Third Floor, North.

Table Linens—Special

All linen, Irish satin damask in the 70-inch width, in a splendid assortment of patterns, at $1.50 yard.

23x23-inch napkins to match, at $4.25 a dozen.

Nineteen-piece Chinese embroidered luncheon sets, of one-half dozen each of 6, 9 and 12 inch doilies and one 24-inch centerpiece, $12.50 set.

Plain all linen Madeira tea napkins, 13-inch size, with rose scalloped edge, $7 dozen.

Hemstitched all linen pillow cases, size 22½x36 inches, at $1.75 pair.

Scalloped round damask luncheon cloths, size 72 inches, all linen, at $7.25 each.

Second Floor, North.

New Blouses With New Details

Most Cleverly Expressed

Just those individual little touches that have marked the blouses in these sections as modes far removed from the commonplace.

A New Voile Blouse, $5

Has Batiste Collars and Cuffs

Fine embroidered batiste with oddly cut edges—and drawn through are smart blue silk ties. The voile itself is of fine filmy quality. Sketched at the right.

A New Blouse of Georgette Crepe, $8.75

Has a Dot-embroidered Vestee

The vestee is made by a doubling of the Georgette crepe and outlined with dots. In white or flesh tint set off by a wee black bow. Sketched at the left.

Fourth Floor, North.

Clearance of

Boys' Washable Suits At $1.55

Hundreds of suits in a variety of colored stripes and plain colors.

All this season's styles—some are slightly soiled, but laundering will make them new again.

Broken assortments, of course, but reduced for immediate selling to $1.55.

Other Boys' washable suits of better grades are sharply reduced to $1.95

Second Floor, South.

Laces and Embroideries in the July Clearances

Thousands of yards of attractive laces and embroideries of the very kinds needed in summer sewing have been divided into these assortments and repriced for immediate selling.

Embroidered Net Flouncings, Now $1.45 Yard

Several hundred yards are included and they are offered in white and ecru in the 40-inch width, all beautifully embroidered on fine net, and reduced to $1.45 yard.

Silk radium lace flouncings of fine quality in several different designs, 22, 27 and 36 inches wide, 95c yard.

Fine Wash Laces, now 15c to 65c Yard

In this assortment are round and square mesh trimming laces, filet laces, wide bandings and summer trimming laces and insertions, 15c, 18c, 20c, 25c, 35c, 45c and 65c yard.

Attractive Novelty Laces, 50c Yard

Colored embroidered tinsel novelties, gold and silver net laces, fine embroidered net laces and many short lengths of fine laces, chiffons and nets, all reduced to 50c yard.

Embroidered voile sports flouncings in many color combinations, 36 and 40 inches wide, now 68c yard.

50 Embroidered Robe Patterns, $10 Each

These beautiful embroidered robe patterns are offered in some of the most attractive of this season's styles. Many in the new summer shades, but there are only fifty at $10 each.

Fine trimming embroideries, corset cover embroideries, wide skirt flouncing embroideries, in a large assortment, 25c yard.

First Floor, North.

The Midsummer Sale of Undermuslins

Enters Its Second Week of Splendid Opportunity

Test this sale wherever your needs dictate it and, we believe, it will respond even more thoroughly than you anticipate. Nothing could better demonstrate this than these splendid new assortments of—

"Philippine" Night-dresses, Chemises and Envelope Chemises,

Very Specially Priced at $1.95 and $2.95

The representative group sketched pictures styles shown for the very first time at this pricing—$2.95 each. All are hand-made, hand-embroidered most exquisitely—the fabrics would do credit to garments even much higher priced.

The night-dresses and envelope chemises compose sets—the chemises mostly match also, emphasizing this unusual offering—at $2.95 each.

At $1.95—Just unpacked for this occasion, "Philippine" night-dresses, chemises, envelope chemises—values one could hardly deem possible—but they are actually here.

Third Floor, North.

Special Values in Sheer White Goods

White Flaxon lawn is always in demand for dainty summer garments, particularly blouses and frocks. We offer an excellent very sheer quality, 38 inches wide, presenting a splendid value at 20c yard.

White striped and checked organdies in an assortment of patterns, sheer and dainty—38 inches wide, 40c yard.

Finely twilled cotton gabardine of a splendid quality, 39 inches wide, ideal for the summer skirt or suit, 75c yard.

Second Floor, North.

The Midsummer Baby Wear Sale

A whole row of wee folk makes its courtesy here to-day—clad in the height of comfort and daintiness for summer.

But what can really detail the character of these garments, the fineness of fabric, the expert workmanship, the exquisite baby styles?

Here is group after group, just brimming over with everything for baby—from which it was indeed difficult to single out

These Specialized Groups of Baby Garments

At 85c, $1.00, $1.50, $1.95, $2.95 and $3.95

At 85c—white frocks with yokes tucked and ribbon-run.
At $1—white frocks with wee lace edgings and fancy stitchery.
At $1.50—white frocks with tiny tucks and tiny flounces.
At $1.95—boys' suits, all white, touched with a bit of color.
At $2.95—lacy white frocks with butterfly ribbon bows.
At $3.95—white frocks in an entirely new coatee style.
At $3.95—net party frocks bestrewn with little flowers.

And throughout this Midsummer Sale of Infants' Wear mothers will find how truly its traditional value-giving is upheld.

Third Floor, North.

July Clearance Sales of Women's, Misses' and Girls' Apparel

Assortments that grow greater in importance, interest and worth with every moment spent in viewing them

—importance in their price-advantages, —interest from a style viewpoint,
—worth from their quality standard.

For convenience the groups are listed as follows—but this review gives only scant information of the desirable garments included. In—
